

The Halsey Enterprise

An Independent Newspaper

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

CHAS. BALLARD, Editor

Entered as second-class matter October 3, 1912, at the post office at Halsey, Oregon, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Devoted to the material upbuilding of Halsey and surrounding country and Linn county generally. Subscription rate $1.50 per year in advance.

The Enterprise has a crew to pick with the organized bodys of this town in general. Important news items are passed up because what is everybody's business is nobody's business, and we are working day and night to get out the paper and don't hear everything. For instance: The Rebekahs had a district meeting some time ago. It wasn't reported to us and we just accidentally heard of it the day we went to press. And after it was held the extra efforts we had to make before we could get data to work on before we could write an intelligent account of it would surprise anyone who isn't practically acquainted with the facts. A week ago last Saturday night, the Parent-Teachers meeting was organized in connection with the community sing. We could not attend and nobody gave me any account of the meeting and consequently there was nothing in the paper about it. Last Saturday there was a football game between Halsey and Jefferson. We never heard of it until the day the game was to come off and then it was too late to get into the paper. Now let us suggest that the Rebekahs, the Odd Fellows, the Parent-Teachers' Association, the Football Team, the Woman's Study Club, the Epworth League and the C. E. each appoint a member of their body to act as a local reporter for the paper and then if your society doesn't get its share of notice go on to your reporter about it. We are trying to give you the news but as we are working about sixteen hours a day in the office it don't give us very much time to get out and hustle for news, so wake up and give us the items yourself and don't say to yourself, the editor will hear of it anyway, for maybe he won't.

The editor of the Harrisburg Bulletin has figured out a scheme by which Hallowe'en pranks may be made enduring. His scheme is to select some elderly person who is really "one of the boys", to act as president, conductor, director, or whatever title they see fit to ascribe to the man who has it in charge, and let them organize and carry it on in the bounds of reason. He is going on the grounds that the scriptures declare "It must needs be that offenses come" but make the commander in chief responsible for the actions of the boys and see that nothing be done that will be too offensive. Our own mother-in-law has reported that once, long years gone by, she was a widow with two boys, to support in a town in an eastern state, and that she had a hard time to keep the wolf from her door, (a "Fox" did finally get there) that one particular Hallowe'en the boys played pranks on her. The next morning she found her woodshed liberally strewed with pumpkins, potatoes, cabbages, turnips and other eatables, and as she didn't know where they came from she was obliged to take care of them and eat them as she and the boys could get around to them. We wouldn't object to that kind of a Hallowe'en prank ourselves. In fact, if Halsey doesn't see fit to adopt Editor Morgan's plan, we would respectfully submit our own, and urge that the boys and girls too, when they go out pranking next Hallowe'en that they make it a rule to do all the good they can instead of harm, and it will be just as much or more fun and they will feel lots better themselves the next day.

A Big Time at Eugene Next Saturday;

Eugene people are co-operating with University students in making homecoming week-end November 15th, the largest and most successful ever held at the University of Oregon. All the stores will be closed on the afternoon of the big game with O. A. C. and it is expected that everyone in Eugene will turn out for the game. Alumni and former students are showing as lively an interest in the game as university students, for already 1250 seats in the grand stand have been reserved by them in their special section. Corvallis students will come over in a body and college spirit will run high. The alumni will be organized in their own special rooters' section and will be led by yell kings of former years.

The housing problem, one of the largest of the week-end, is being taken care of by a student committee and many rooms are being listed for those who have not made other arrangements.

All trains will be met by the student reception committee and alumni will register at once and be tagged for the week-end. All University students will wear tags also with a cheery Hello for Oregon's guests.

The rally Friday night will be a real pep fest starting with a parade thru the down town streets and ending with a huge freshman bonfire and stunts and speeches on Kincaid field. Many old football stars and yell leaders will be on hand to aid in infusing the Oregon fight into all who will see the game the following day.

After inspection of the campus buildings Saturday morning, everyone on the campus will be invited to go to the gymnasiums where lunches will be served to the 4000 guests expected to be here. The dance Saturday evening at the armory and open house on Sunday will close Oregon's Homecoming festivities.

Happenings from Harrisburg Clipped from the Bulletin.

The First National Bank was entered by burglars Sunday night and $4,000 in government bonds and stamps were stolen from safe deposit boxes of the bank's customers. The theft was first noticed when Assistant Cashier Snyder opened the bank Monday morning at about 8 o'clock.

Entrance had evidently been made thru the front door, the rear door used as the exit. The door to the vault was drilled and the lock was broken by a small charge of high explosive. The inner vault door was opened the same way. Six deposit boxes were also blown evidently one at a time, and it was from these that the bonds were secured.

There is evidence that they intended to crack the safe containing the funds but gave it up after a few blows of a heavy sledge on one of the hinges.

The tools used were very crude for safe blowers, consisting of a couple of common drills, an ordinary brace, a steel chisel, a pick and a heavy sledge. A blanket was also left behind which was probably used to deaden the sound of the explosions. The work and the method is said to have the earmarks of the professional.

Sheriff Kendall and Deputy District Attorney Marks were summoned and in conjunction with Marshal Miller checked up all available clues. Two detectives from the Burns and Pinkerton agencies and furnished by the Oregon State and National Bankers Protective Associations arrived Monday evening.

A plaster cast of a foot print was taken by Dr Barnum at the request of Cashier Wilhelm.

The actual damage to the bank fixtures is considerable but is covered by insurance. The bonds are a total loss in nearly every instance as only a very few of them were registered.

Following are the losers and the amounts: Eva and W R Miller, $700; T Stalp, $900; R C Shisler, Lloyd and Ralph Shisler, $500; Jos Owens, $700; Joe Hayworth, $800; Miss Maria Porter, $200; M M Herman, $35.

Halsey News Items

For Sale—Fox Terrier Pups, nicely marked. Carson Bailey, Tangent, Oregon.

The Parent-Teachers' meeting will convene at the school house next Saturday at 7:30 and will elect officers.

Mrs Henry Davis, daughter and son, of Forestville, Cali, visited at the home of their cousins John and Mary La Rue, on their way to Salem to visit her sons Clyde and Timmie.

Wanted to buy any amount of fine healthy pullets, any breed; will pay $1.00 a piece. Mrs L Arndt, three miles west of Halsey at Tulsa station. 10 30 tf

Last Saturday afternoon Alonzo Neal and a friend drove up to the hotel and tied up his horse and went inside. There was quite a crowd at the depot, making rather loud demonstrations which frightened the horse and she broke the halter rope and ran south 200 yards when she ran into a telephone pole and broke a wheel and the shafts of the buggy and tore up the harness. When she got loose from the buggy the mare stopped. Nobody hurt.

MOTHERS MUST NOT DIE, SAYS THE RED CROSS

Sixteen thousand mothers die in childbirth every year in the United States of America, more than are thus sacrificed in any other country of importance in the civilized world. The American Red Cross has announced its belief that these mothers, the very flower of the womanhood of America and heroines every one, shall no longer die through ignorance or neglect. If the public health nursing resources of the country can possibly be extended to give them the necessary care, this is one of the reasons for the Third Red Cross Roll Call which begins Sunday, November 2.

MERCY WOMEN PRODUCE FORTUNE IN GARMENTS

More than 8,000,000 women and girls participated in the sewing and knitting of the American Red Cross during the war. Most of these workers will be active in soliciting members for the Red Cross for 1920, during the ten days ending Armistice Day. When it is remembered that these women and girls in two years' time produced nearly $100,000,000 worth of surgical articles and garments, including more than 375,000,000 surgical dressings, the fact that they are to assist in the Roll Call is a practical assurance that universal membership will be achieved.

THE THREE CROSSES

The iron cross is black as death and hard as human hate;

The wooden cross is white and still and whispers us, "Too Late," But the Red Cross sings of life and love and brings regenerate.

The iron cross is a boastful cross and marks the war-shed slave;

The wooden cross is a dumb, dead cross and marks a shallow grave, But the Red Cross reaches out its arms to solace and to save.

The iron cross is a knaiser's cross and narrow is its clan;

The wooden cross is a soldier's cross and mourns its partisan, But the Red Cross is the Cross of One who served his fellowman.

Edward Cookingham, Oregon War Loan Chairman, who sends Armistice Day greetings through local Liberty Loan Committee.

Permit me to extend greetings to yourself and your citizens, and to join with you in the celebration of the first anniversary of that day destined to become memorable in history, which commemorates the glorious victory of our country and its allies in the great world war. I again congratulate the people of your community upon the overwhelming success which they achieved in the several Liberty Loan campaigns. The record of your district is a lasting monument to their self-sacrifice, and will be an inspiration to Americans whenever their country again stands in peril.

On this occasion shall we not pledge anew our lives and fortunes to our country and its institutions and resolve to bear our obligations of citizenship today with the same serious and high-minded enterprise that was shown in the dark days of the war? Let us not give less freely to our country now in the face of domestic peril than we gave when it confronted foreign enemies.

On this anniversary we celebrate the fulfillment by our soldiers and sailors of their obligations, but our citizen army is not yet discharged. It has assumed obligations which must be paid in full.

Your record during the war is undoubted evidence of quick response to every call of your country for financial support. I am sure it is only necessary to remind your citizens of the deficit in Oregon's War Savings quota to make certain its prompt subscription. Oregon has never failed.

EDWARD COOKINGHAM, Director War Loan Organization for Oregon.

The Red Cross service flag, indicating membership in the great organization of mercy, will appear again in November in every window in the Northwest, in every farmhouse, in every city home, in the cabins of homesteaders, in the huts of fishermen in far Alaska, will appear this symbol of affiliation with the one great organization that knows no politics, no distinction of creed, no high, no low—but unites the hearts of all for service to fellow-men. The window service flag this year has one more stripe than last year, indicating three years of membership in the Red Cross.

The Red Cross—a work of the heart on a sound business basis. Membership in the Red Cross is insurance against regret. The Red Cross never intrudes—but she has a mother's sensitive hearing. Red Cross is not a responsibility—it's an opportunity. JOIN.

Halsey was well represented in Albany on armistice day. Space will not permit us to give the names of all who went, even if we knew them, which we do not.

The Women of Woodcraft will have a convention in the Odd Fellows' hall on Friday night of this week. The Brownsville and Shedd circles have been invited to meet with them. A banquet will be served at the proper time.

The members and friends of the Pioneer Cemetery Association are requested to meet at the cemetery on Wednesday, Nov 19th, with their teams and shovels for the purpose of graveling the road and building fence. By request of the president, W J Ribelin.

The Woman's Study Club met at Mrs Frank Porter's last Thursday afternoon. Miss Lewis of Corvallis gave an able address on "Home Economics." The next meeting will be held Nov 27th at the home of Mrs Edith Dringard.

Everett Carey, son of W A Carey, returned about the first of the month from the east coast. He was on the U S ship, Tallahassee, and was in the patrol service. He went as far south as Panama and among the West Indies. He has been in the service nearly three years. He is so well pleased in getting back to his old home that he has not been seen in town but once since he returned.

The Woman's Study Club gave a reception last Monday night at the city hall in honor of the football team. They promised the boys if they won the game last Saturday they would give them a reception. As the Halsey boys won the game by a score of 26 to 21 the reception was due and given according to promise. Rev Clemo made the address of welcome to the boys, complimenting them on their good game, stating that the towns people took much interest in their athletics and exhorted them to stand for clean sports. Roland Marks, manager of the team, made a fitting reply to Rev Clemo. A good crowd was in attendance and sandwiches, cake, and coffee were served by the ladies, after which, the young people took part in floor games and everything passed off nicely.
