High School Entertainment in Behalf of the Armenians.

Next Monday night P Waldo Davis, assisted by the High School, will give an entertainment at the city hall for the benefit of the Armenians.

Mr Davis has been engaged in the musical entertainment business for many years, having appeared in concerts from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans and from the gulf to the great lakes.

The program comprises a carefully prepared list ranging from sacred solos to operatic airs, and therefore appeals to all sincere lovers of music.

The musical instrument that Mr Davis will specialize on consists of three bell metal tubes tuned in unison, the three constituting a triple chime. They are manipulated by introducing a trilling effect with the hands, extracting a tone that never fails to captivate and render enthusiastic the most conservative audience.

The High School will have a few numbers on the program.

The net proceeds will go to the Armenian fund.

Admission 35c; children 25c; reserve seats 50c.

Mrs H M Wallace, daughter of G W Mornhinweg, who has been visiting her parents for two weeks, returned to her home in Newburg, Sunday.

Mrs McPherson was a Shedd visitor Sunday evening. She took Leo down and visited the new cream station. She reports that it is fixed up in a very nice shape and she thinks they will do a very nice business.

Julien Perrey moved his family to Eugene last Monday. He says he likes Halsey all right, but there is no church here of his belief and he wants to be where he can have church affiliations.

The Woman's Study club met at the home of Mrs C E Gulliford. Mrs Laubner read a paper on "A talk by Mr Vanderlip in the Oregonian." Mrs Marks read a paper on "Cotton and Wool." Mrs Stafford sang a solo and that completed the program. The next meeting will be held with Mrs Jas McMahan May 6th.
