WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY HAS GREAT OPPORTUNITY

Campaign of Oregon Laymen to Raise $100,000 May Lead to a Very Large Endowment.

According to A. F. Flegel, chairman of the campaign executive committee of the Laymen's Association of Oregon, working in the interests of Willamette University, there is excellent reason to believe that, if friends of the old school in the Northwest subscribe $100,000 for its immediate needs, others who are watching the progress of the institution and are not waiting to see what is done now will come forward, and make large contributions that will go to make the university a very much larger one before two or three years have gone by.

The $100,000 which the laymen of the Oregon conference are now seeking is for the immediate restoration of Waller hall, for men; completion of Lausanne hall, the women's dormitory, and a heating plant.

With these improvements, which are absolutely essential to the largest usefulness of the university in caring for pupils already enrolled and the usual annual increase, Willamette will be very well provided for on the present basis. Should there follow large gifts, as predicted by Mr. Flegel, of course a number of other buildings would be constructed and the entire of the school would be greatly enlarged.

The active canvassing for funds probably will be undertaken about next week. From all over the state have come to the members of the committee assurances of support. Many have said they know of no other means of investing money that will bring larger returns.

Headquarters are at 505 Platt building, Portland.

Willamette University Endowment Campaign

The campaign to raise $100,000 for Willamette University at Salem is well under way. All of the preliminary organization work has been completed and about next week the actual canvass for funds will be undertaken.

This undertaking is backed by the Laymen's Association of the Oregon Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church and funds will, naturally, come chiefly from members of that denomination. However, as others have in the past given generously to the fine old institution which for 75 years has been steadily turning out men and women whose lives have gone far toward making the great Northwest what it is, so no doubt will be the case in this effort adequately to finance Willamette.

While having the heartiest, enthusiastic indorsement of the late Bishop Hughes, who set aside precedent and asked the pastors of the conference to have a special Sunday for Willamette, and the full support of the ministers, the campaign is really a laymen's project. At their conference held in Salem last October, the delegates unanimously decided to take hold of the situation this year and put over a big job for the school. Therefore, they are directing the work through a special executive committee, backed by a larger advisory board of prominent lay members of the church. Headquarters are at 505 Platt building, Portland.

Funds subscribed will go to enable the trustees to rebuild Waller hall for men and Lausanne hall for a women's dormitory, with installation of a central heating plant, thus clearing up the present crowded condition at the university.

C. M. Higbee of near Peoria was taken to the State Hospital for the insane last Thursday. This is an after effect of the flu.

A Travelogue

All aboard! Let's go! We're starting from Manila, the great picturesque, Americanized Oriental city, and will travel by automobile 200 miles to the north to Bagulo, the summer capital of the Philippines. The trip can also be made by train.

We have ahead of us one of the most scenic, spectacular and thrilling automobile trips in the world. We will have excellent roads all the way. The Philippines are, in fact, a paradise for autoists, possessing 3,500 miles of fine macadamized roads.

The first part of the trip is through typical small towns and then across the central plain of Luzon and through several rich and fertile provinces, where tropical vegetation is seen at its best. Here one is impressed with the great agricultural wealth of the Philippines, which represents one of the East's greatest producing areas, with the advantage of immense natural resources for the development of further production. It is remarkably true that even in the United States there is far from any real understanding of the potentialities of the islands.

At some points rice fields, looking in the distance like the greenest of green lawns, stretch away as far as the eye can see. If you want color, if you want to feel the romance and mystery of an Oriental twilight, pass this way as the red eyed sun at the end of the dying day is slowly sinking behind the unending expanse of green fields. At first you cry out in ecstasy at the gorgeous scene. But as you ride along, your eyes fastened on the panorama of tints and colors, and with the impenetrably black Oriental night coming on fast, you become enthralled. You no longer try to express your feelings. You cannot. You realize that those now fast changing, colorful masterpieces in the heavens and on the landscape are pictures that no man can adequately describe nor human hands duplicate. So what's the use of trying!

True, these are but impressions, but the travelogue considers himself justified in mentioning them, for they are a part of the trip to Bagulo and return. Indeed, the gorgeous sunsets in all parts of the Philippines leave an impression on the mind of the tourist that is everlasting.

We leave the palms and tropical foliage and enter the zone of rugged pine. We pass from the soft, incense laden air of the warm lowlands to the crisp, invigorating ozone of the temperate zone, all within a few hours' time.

For mile after mile the road now follows the tortuous course of a river, the road lying in the bottom or on the rocky sides of a granite canyon.

The Philippines are rich in hydro-electric possibilities. This power is the cheapest power on earth. And it is everlasting. Your travelogue is neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but he predicts that one day there will be innumerable Philippine government owned hydro-electric plants in this canyon we are now passing through. Think of the possibilities of such a project! Today the trip from Manila to Bagulo is too expensive for the average Manila worker and his family, many of whom may live and die without beholding the wondrous beauties of their own island of Luzon. Think of what a blessing it would be to Filipino mothers and children to feel upon their fevered brows the cool, invigorating breezes of the mountain tops, now so near and yet so far! With the Philippine government owning its own electric railways and hydro-electric plants it would be possible to bring the trip to Bagulo within the means of hundreds of thousands of Filipinos. Not only is there sufficient power in this river to electrify a line from Manila to Bagulo, but to operate the street railways of Manila, light the city and furnish power for manufacturing concerns.

But we have now arrived at Camp One. From this point the scenery rapidly changes as the elevation increases. We are traveling over the famous Benguet road, the construction of which through the mountains is a most remarkable engineering triumph. At places the road is blasted out of the solid granite. Riding on the edge of a 100 foot precipice makes one feel like he is on the rim of the world. Some of the turns are so sharp it is impossible to see 20 feet ahead, and we seem to be perilously near the jumping off place. We wonder if it is safe to lean out and peer into the canyon far below, and when we do we are perfectly satisfied we are flirting with death. Yet the trip is a safe one, providing our driver has better nerves than our own. All too soon we reach the outskirts of Bagulo, a city among the clouds, and are rather surprised at the modern city we find it to be. In ten years Bagulo has grown from a village of huts to the now justly famed mountain resort of the Philippines, sometimes called the Philippine Simla. It is undoubtedly destined some day to become a large city.

"At times we seemed perilously near the jumping off place."

Bagulo ranges in elevation from 4,500 to 5,500 feet and is surrounded practically on all sides by high mountain ridges and "hogbacks" towering into the skies at a height of almost 8,000 feet.

Aside from the scenery, which is noteworthy, the great blessing of Bagulo is its temperate climate, which is indeed a godsend to those impoverished by the tropical temperatures of the lowlands. Not only is the mountain air rich in ozone, but it has been demonstrated to be extraordinarily free from germs of all kinds.

Each year during the hot season the school teachers of the entire archipelago are enabled by the government to spend a month at the teachers' camp in Bagulo for recreation and conference on school work. American army officers and their families also go to Bagulo for the hot months.

And now that your travelogue has you in Bagulo, he believes he will leave you there, for there are many interesting side trips to take, and, besides, Bagulo is the most delightful place for a vacation in the entire Orient.
