Our Sermonette

Walk as children of light, proving what is acceptable unto the Lord. Eph 5: 8, 10.

If we be sanctified to God by truth, if our wills be dead, and the Lord's will be fully accepted as ours, in thought, word and act, we have attained the will of God and will win the prize as "overcomers"—even if opportunities being denied us, we never preached, never gave to the poor and never suffered as martyrs for the truth's sake. Let us note well this point,—“This is the will of God (concerning you), even your sanctification.” Let nothing becloud or obscure this truth; neither other truths nor errors. Let it dominate our course in life, and then, if God's will is really our will, we have a clearly marked pathway before us which is very important.

The Boy Scouts planted a memorial tree at each church in memory of Ralph Savage and Ruel Bond, who gave their lives in the service of their country in the late war. These trees were supposed to have been planted on Memorial day but owing to delays from one cause and another, were not planted until some time afterwards. While the Boy Scouts aim to take care of them, yet they wish to commend the trees to the kind protection of the young people of the churches, so they may grow up into living monuments of fallen heroes.

A Water Power Surprise.

After it had been reported that President Wilson failed to sign the water power bill recently passed by congress, after ten years' delay over the matter, it now comes as a welcome surprise to the west that the president signed the measure before June 11 but for some unknown reason the public was not advised. This action will open the way for great development in the west. It will open the way for electrification of railroads, irrigation projects, pulp and paper mills, etc. This bill will unlock great natural resources which for years have been withheld from public use through lack of workable legislation. The west has won one victory in its fight for industrial development.

U S Marines to Relieve Housing Shortage.

Quantico, Virginia, June 26. The slogan "Build your own home" has superseded the old "Let's Go" of the A E F, with the versatile students of the Marine corps institute here who are doing their bit to meet the housing shortage of the nation.

A model two-story cottage with its living, dining, and bed rooms, kitchenette and bath is being erected by marines who have selected the "building foreman course," under the supervision of Lieutenant Stanley Klos, a product of the prairie country.

For purpose of instruction half of the model cottage will be left in framing to show the building details. Plumbing and wiring will be indicated throughout. The interior will show two forms of stair construction. The cottage will be weatherboarded and the roof shingled.

Schooling For The Marines

When the 16th Regiment U S Marines started for Mexico the other day they were not only equipped with rifles and packs, but also carried their school books.

The problem of anti-military re-education following the war has been solved by the Marine Corps, says E B Hammond, Captain U S M C in charge of Recruiting District of Portland, by combining academic and vocational education with military training, the broadening influences of travel, and adventure.

In pre-war days it was a problem to keep marine's attention concentrated and their minds interested in strictly military routine. There was a growing disposition on the part of young men to regard the spare time spent in the marine corps as time wasted. The present day combining of scholastic work with marine corps training has solved the problem.

The Marine Corps Institute, something entirely new in military circles is a practical school teaching marines a wide variety of subjects either in the class room, workshop, or by correspondence. In whatever part of the world a marine may be stationed, ashore or afloat, he may take advantage of the educational institution, and will be paid for going to school.

Although Quantico, Virginia, is the home of the Marine Corps Institute there are already numbers of marines at sea and in our island possessions enrolled for courses by correspondence.
