Our Sermonette

Abstain from every form of evil. (Revised version.) 1 Thess 5: 22.

The exhortation is that everything that is evil, whether it have a good form or a bad form, is to be resisted and opposed. To abstain from every appearance of evil is another thought, a different one from what the apostle's words in the original would warrant; never-the-less they represent a sound principle. We surely should abstain not only from evil things, whatever their form or garb, but we should abstain so far as possible from doing things that we know to be good, which our friends or neighbors might misunderstand and consider to be evil things. The spirit of a sound mind dictates that not only evil in its every form, but that everything that has even an evil appearance should be avoided, that our influence for the Lord and the Truth may be the greater.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists. 75c.

Spanish Needles

In the Mississippi river valley in years gone by before the land was very thickly settled in Illinois, there grew a weed that was called Spanish Needles. It had a flower something like a sunflower only on a much smaller scale, perhaps the size of a quarter or even as small as a dime, and they grew very thick, perhaps a hundred flowers to a single stalk, and every flower when it went to seed would turn into a bunch of flat seed, fifty or more to a head. Those seeds had two sharp points protruding from them and if a person's clothes would touch one of them it would adhere to the cloth.

You could see the bright yellow flowers along the roadside as far as the eye could reach, and in the fence corners where the plow could not reach them. They were a regular nuisance, but there was one redeeming feature about them. The bees worked on them and it made the finest honey of any flower around there, an amber colored honey of very fine flavor.

Only two or three times in the last twenty years has the editor of this paper tasted any honey that could in any way compare with the Spanish Needle honey of Illinois.

But week before last Mr Sneed presented us with a can of strained honey which comes the nearest to the fine flavor of the Spanish Needle honey of our younger days that we have tasted for many a day, for which he has our sincere thanks. By the way, he has honey for sale, see his ad elsewhere in the paper. Patronize him and you will not be sorry for it.

The Transportation Problem

The Railroad Labor Board has granted a substantial increase in wages and the Interstate Commerce Commission has granted a substantial increase in rates to provide for the increased wages and raise revenue for new equipment, betterments and improvements, and so far as the transportation industry is concerned the public now has a right to expect and demand that agitation shall cease and that the railroads and their employees get down to business.

Neither the railroads nor their employees got all they asked, and in view of severe mountain grades, sparsely settled regions, need of special equipment and expeditious movement for much of the traffic, resulting in difficult and expensive operating conditions, it may well be doubted whether the rate award for the Pacific coast and intermountain roads is sufficient to meet increased operating expenses and buttress their credit to the extent of enabling them to float their securities at a reasonable rate of interest.

Otherwise on the whole the awards are reasonable, liberal and particularly so in respect to the wages of employees.

The public will approve of the stipulation by the Commission that from the revenue thus derived, in addition to paying the increased wages, the railroads shall provide much needed equipment, improvements and betterments. However, in view of impaired credit—a condition not entirely relieved by the recent award—with high class securities being floated at from 7 to 8 per cent, whether the margin remaining after paying wage increases and other expenses is sufficient to stabilize credit is still a matter for the future to determine.

There is urgent need of 100,000 freight cars, 2,000 locomotives and an equal number of passenger cars. The need of additional terminal facilities and sidings, is just as apparent and pressing. It is because of the lack of these that the railroads are unable to properly accommodate the public.

No time should be lost in putting the house in order. The country is sick and tired of agitation, strikes, and congested traffic. Producers have suffered losses on account of strikes and shortage of cars; merchants have been unable to properly adjust their stocks and accommodate their customers; farmers have been compelled to borrow money because unable to ship and sell their crops; manufacturers of many lines, lumbermen and even livestock shippers have suffered inconvenience and loss.

What was most needed to put an end to this tragedy has been done and the curtain now must fall upon it. The people have supplemented patience with aid and they are in no mood to be longer trifled with. Agitation should cease, co-operation should actuate all and everybody should concern himself with the restoration of transportation service to a standard where industry will not be paralyzed by its inadequacy.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

A prayer for pardon.

Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin. Ps 51: 2.

Only God can cleanse from sin.

The purpose of this lesson is to show how David, who had become a sinner of the deepest dye, repented, sought God for forgiveness, and was blessedly converted. The lesson teaches (1) that those who enjoy all the advantages of highest civilization, are hedged about by social, political and family prestige, may fall into the most repulsive, blackest sin. (2) that God in infinite love, in boundless grace, is anxious to save any and every one, even the most wicked repentant sinner. It is only by
