Chas Ray in "A Village Sleuth."

Youthful Star a Detective in His Latest Picture.

Charles Ray realizes an ambition in "A Village Sleuth," coming to the Rialto Theatre next Thursday, that most of us have cherished at some time or other in our lives. Confess it. Haven't you ever wanted to be a great detective and solve a baffling murder mystery?

In the picture, Charlie is a country boy with aspirations to become a second Sherlock Holmes. His efforts to nab the raiders of his father's water melon patch, resulting disastrously, resulting rather disastrously, he leaves home and secures a job as chore boy at a fashionable health resort. There is a combination robber-murder mystery looms up, and Charlie not only solves it, but wins the pretty girl in the case as well.

Thomas H Ince produced "A Village Sleuth" for Paramount release and Agnes Christine Johnston wrote the story.

Winifred Westover is the leading woman. Jerome Storm directed.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Problems of Poverty and Wealth.

Where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. Luke 12: 34.

Money is a great blessing or a great curse dependent upon how you get it and what you do with it. The words miser and miserable are close kin. He who has naught but a hoard of material treasures is the most miserable of men. Not money itself but the love of it "is a root of all kinds of evil." Financial rules for Christians—earn diligently, spend thoughtfully, save systematically, give generously.

An intermediate League was organized last Sunday evening with nine members present.

Thirty of the young people gave Bro and Sister Cook a very agreeable surprise by meeting at the parsonage Tuesday evening for the regular weekly prayer meeting. After a very good service the Epworth League held their election of officers which resulted as follows: Pres, Glenn Frum; 1st vice pres, Clarice Gourley; 2nd vice pres, Grace Robinson; 3rd vice pres, Ruth Frum; 4th vice pres, Alberta Koontz; sec, Grace Kirk; treas, Merle Straley; organist, Geraldine Cook; chorister, Pearl Pehrsson. And then came a fine social time.

The Booster S S class met in a lawn party on Mrs Mornhinweg's lawn last Saturday afternoon with nine members present. It was the time for election of officers and Agnes Hayes was elected president, Georgina Clark secretary, and Elsie Reynolds treasurer. Those girls are good feeders and a big feed they did have.
