JERSEY FANCIERS' ANNUAL PICNIC

Six Clubs Contest for Honors. Lake Creek Second

The annual picnic of the Jersey Cattle Club which occurred at the large dairy farm of J. C. Brown & Son, north of Fayetteville, last Saturday was attended by approximately 400 people, the biggest affair of this kind held in the state, outside the International Stock Show. Much interest is being taken in the improvement of the dairy herds. Six clubs representing as many localities participated in the contest which was one of the features of the day.

Professors Fitz and Allen, O. A. C., had charge of the judging after which Prof. Fitz placed the cattle as they should be, giving reasons for each placement. This was most interesting and instructive to the farmer.

H. H. Bushnell, of Portland, editor of the Oregon Farmer, and O. M. Plummer, Pacific International Stock Manager, were present and gave interesting talks.

The Davis orchestra of Shedd furnished the music.

Following appears the names of the contesting clubs and their rating: Out of a possible 900 percentage Clackamas received 1st., with 645; Lake Creek 2nd., with 600; Tillamook 3rd., 585; Shedd 4th., 570; Astoria 5th., 540; Multnomah 6th., 495.

Shedd won first place in all the individual contests.

Halsey Items

Grant Taylor returned from Portland the last of the week where he visited his nephew, Everett Standish. Mr. Taylor is taking his vacation, J. C. Bramwell acting as rural carrier in his place.

We failed to report last week that when A. D. Smith returned from his trip to Portland that he was accompanied by his bride as we were not then aware that he was married on the 2nd day of June to Mrs. Cora Everett, of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home in Halsey, occupying the Robnett house recently vacated by Mrs. Josie Smith and daughter, Miss Mary.

W. A. Tway and son, W. M. Tway, who will be remembered as residents of this vicinity for a short time a few years ago, have just purchased five sections of land in the province of Alberta, Can. In the deal W. A. Tway disposes of his well improved 318 acre farm in Benton county, the entire consideration amounting to over $100,000. Both families will continue to make their homes in the Willamette valley.

Prof. Henry F. English, one of our H. S. instructors for the past year, was married in Corvallis, June 4th, to Miss Hazel Marguerite Green, for two years a teacher in the Alsea H. S. The wedding occurred at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Wellington Green, Rev. E. V. Stivers of Eugene officiating. The young couple greeted friends in Halsey Saturday. They will spend the summer in Eugene, returning to Halsey this fall, Mr. English having accepted the principalship of our school for the coming year.

FARMERS SAY TUBERCULOSIS MUST GO

Testing Begins in Southern Linn County This Week

Fourteen communities of the Linn County Farm Bureau are in the midst of a campaign to eliminate bovine tuberculosis. Five hundred farmers owning nearly four thousand cattle have already signed petitions for the cooperation of the Federal Government and the Oregon Agricultural College in making a one hundred per cent clean up. A committee is busy in the Halsey vicinity and the territory is being covered as rapidly as possible.

The federal bovine tuberculosis inspector is expected to arrive this week, according to word received by the county agent from Dr. S. B. Foster, of Portland who is director of the work in Oregon.

The plans for the inspection are to have the inspector begin work in the southern portion of the county and work north, covering each community thoroughly as he goes.

This means that different community committees on the tuberculosis project will have to hurry up the circulation of the petitions among the cattle owners in order that the inspection may be complete.

Tiling Adds 25 Dollars Per Acre

C. L. Falk of Halsey has used nearly four cars of tile, both cement and clay on his farm in the past eighteen years, and he is convinced that tiling in Linn county improves the value of land at least $25 per acre.

Mr. Falk completed his seeding of wheat and oats the last day of March while others with similar land as his own, but which is not tiled, were from four to six weeks later seeding their land.

Mr. Falk used four-inch tile and laid them from twenty-three to thirty-six inches deep, and recommends that the strings be about four rods apart on adobe or white land. He claims there is no noticeable difference in drainage between the cement or clay tile, but that the cement tile are laid easier. One more car of tile is needed to complete drainage on his farm.—Farm Bureau News.

Francis Kizer of near Harrisburg was in our city the last of the week.

Scattered Grain Pays No Profits

Whether the crops are good or poor, light or heavy, you cannot afford to waste them. Remember the advice given by an old farmer to his son—"Rake clean this year, my boy, for hay is high and we cannot afford to lose a single wisp." And when hay was cheap, the boy was cautioned to rake clean as hay was low and they must also gather in every wisp.

Timely Reminders

The hay crop is coming along nicely and within a few weeks now you'll be needing Dependable haying equipment such as:
