

A Fatal Accident

Miss Mildred Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryan of Monroe, died at 12:30 o'clock this morning, following an accident at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday. Miss Bryan, with her parents, was visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. G. T. Kitchen, and was riding on a bundle rack with her father and Mr. Kitchen. The latter had just got off the wagon when the team started to run. Mr. Bryan jumped, at the same time calling to his daughter to do the same, but she stayed with the wagon until the team had gained a good headway and when she did jump was thrown to the ground with such force that she suffered concussion of the brain and probably spinal and internal injuries.

Miss Bryan was born in Lancaster county and was 22 years old on the 19th of this month. She is survived by her parents, two sisters, Mrs. Jean Kitchen of Halsey and Mrs. Leona Childers of Monroe, and three brothers, Delmer and Dale of Eugene and Darrel of Corvallis.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Bovee undertaking parlors at Corvallis; interment at Belfountain.

Additional Brownsville News

(Received too late and cut down to the capacity of the printing force.)

Prof. Raymond Baker and family were over from Albany Saturday and succeeded in renting a residence for the school year. They got the West place in South Brownsville and will move in soon. School begins about September 15.

After the clean-up work at the cemetery, Wednesday last, when nearly two score citizens volunteered their services or hired substitutes, the ladies served a fine picnic dinner at noon, which thoroughly satisfied the ravenous appetites of the workers with such toothsome viands as fried chicken, roast beef, potatoes and gravy, pies, cakes, etc. After dinner Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Dougherty were made a committee to formulate plans for an association to care for the cemetery.

Charles Poole of the undertaking firm of Wright & Poole has bought the residence property on the south side, known as the Olson place, and rumor says he intends founding a hospital.

The members of the Presbyterian congregation have planned for this (Tuesday) evening a combined reception to their new pastor, Rev. A. M. McClain, and family and a "farewell" to Prof. Weber and family, who go this week to Harrisburg, where he will have charge of the schools next year, and to Dr. Kent and family, who leave soon for Portland to make their future home.

There is a rumor current in Brownsville that Rev. T. L. Jones, better known as Pa. her Jones, has had his eyesight restored through the medium of prayer. His present home is somewhere in Washington, but for several years he was a resident of this place. When last he left here he was almost entirely blind.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cooley returned the latter part of the week from a two-week vacation at the beach and at Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson go to Newport tomorrow (Wednesday) for a few days. They will be guests of Mrs. Forbes of the Dunlap Drug Co. at her cottage.

Mrs. Reynolds and daughter Elsie, and son Harold, returned the latter part of the week from a visit with relatives and friends at Medford.

The paving of Spaulding avenue has been completed and work is now in progress on Oak and Railroad streets. The contract is supposed to be completed by Sept. 15. On the 24th a celebration will be pulled off.

While here visiting his daughter, Mrs. Esme Stannard, Rev. C. M. Cline, a former pastor, preached in the Baptist church Sunday.

Calf-Hare-Pig-Fox-Dog Cried Just Like Baby

Paris.—An animal born on a farm at Grandchamps, near Paris, two weeks ago, died yesterday while being transported to Paris for exhibition at the Academy of Science. The creature had the body of a calf, the head of a rabbit, eyes like a pig, ears like a fox and hair like a St. Bernard dog. It weighed twelve pounds at birth and cried like a baby.

BREAK UP BOY ROBBER GANG

"Bulls" Capture the Youthful Chief Who Promptly Turns State's Evidence.

"LITTLE WOP" IS STAR

Two of the Band Are Seized at Their Desks in School—Juvenile Delinquency Charge is Greatest Injury to Their Pride.

New York.—"Well, bulls, I guess you got me right. So long as I'm going to do a bit, I'll turn state's evidence."

With this announcement couched in correct criminal terminology, "Paddy the Kid," leader of a unique robber band, prefaced the strange story of his outlaw outfit's activities from the date of organization to its disbandment, following the arrest of its five fearless members. "Paddy" was addressing detectives in the East Twenty-second street station, and what he said was corroborated by others of the gang. Read their story; you will be surprised.

First permit an introduction—the gang: Leader, Patrick Murphy (Paddy the Kid), fourteen, of No. 317 East Twenty-first street; Joseph Agassan (Jimmy Valentine, also The Little Wop), seven, of No. 345 East Twenty-first street; Matthew Agostinello (Skinny), nine, of No. 310 East Nineteenth street; Walter Michaelis (The Polack), ten, of No. 346 First avenue and John Rubsha (The Dummy), who lived up to his "alias" and refused to give any information about himself.

Gang Applauds "The Little Wop"

Well, a long time ago—so long the gang hardly remembers it—these boys saw several thrilling moving pictures (the story is now being transmitted from the gang through Detectives Meyers and Gillman) and then tried out a few "stunts." "Golly!" was the unanimous cry after Joseph had opened a safe the boys found somewhere, "the little wop is a Jimmy Valentine!" And the detectives say they were right, only he does the trick by listening to the tumblers fall.

Organization followed with a capital stock of one pistol "found" in an automobile. Courage increased with repeated successes until, for the last 30 days, residents around and to the East Twenty-second street have complained of many daring depredations by a robber band. Meyers and Gillman were assigned to capture the outlaws, but had no success until the other day when passing the Standard Gas company's plant at Twenty-second street and First avenue, they heard Murphy say:

"It'll be a cinch to crack this crib. This factory is easy to get into."

A little later the officers saw Murphy start to climb the fire escape. It was the beginning of the end. They captured the outlaw before he reached the third rung. Murphy told the names of the rest of the gang and two of them were arrested at their desks in a public school. When the whole outfit had been rounded up in the East Twenty-second street station, a charge of juvenile delinquency was registered against them. This charge was the greatest injury their pride suffered.

Joseph Left His Gun at Home.

Every member appeared proud of his "alias" and not in the least disconcerted by arrest. Joseph, three feet tall and weighing 60 pounds, sucked at a lollipop said to be a part of the loot obtained by the gang.

"I used to carry a loaded gun," Joseph volunteered, "but it got heavy and I left it home. My father has it now."

"Well," commented another member, "I guess we'll bust up now, sarge."

The boys said Joseph worked the combination of a safe in Empire Hat company, No. 316 East Twenty-second street, a week ago, but it took the whole gang to pull the door open. They got $1.06 each.

"NO PLACE FOR HOMELY GIRL"

Wall of Girl Who Tries Suicide After Fiance Rejects Her for Prettier One.

Baltimore.—"Men only look for beauty; they don't care about the real homemaker any longer," Virginia Hicks, twenty, a patient at the Maryland General hospital, who tried to commit suicide by swallowing poison, explained that there was no place in the world for the homely girl.

"I don't want to get well," she continued, pushing back her short red hair. "Men don't care what you do for them—they are for the girl who spends everything on clothes and makes a big show. They don't care if a girl is good, self-respecting and a real homemaker; all they want is a big display of their money."

Refusing to give her lover's name, she admitted that they had both been very happy and expected to get married shortly, until one evening at a dance he met a prettier girl, and after that she didn't have a chance.

"Classical features and a conspicuous lack of freckles are essential features for happiness," Virginia declared, weeping.

Mrs. Archie Cornelius is visiting relatives near Eugene.

Mrs. Mornhinweg was very busy Wednesday getting ready to check the state library books.

We cannot help but publicly express our thanks to the good Samaritan who has so graciously supplied us with beautiful blooms.

Wednesday we heard of two prominent widows of Halsey, each of whom put eight cords of wood in the shed and ricked it up alone. And their ages were 69 and 79.

A message was received from Portland Wednesday stating that Mrs. Pansy Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tindle of Brownsville, had undergone a surgical operation and was in a very serious condition. Mr. Tindle has been sent for.

Many out-of-town people are subscribing or renewing their subscriptions to the Enterprise, Wednesday P. N. Bierly of Harrisburg stepped in and renewed his subscription for another year, and in this morning's mail was a new name, that of Mrs. R. B. Forbes, with the cash and compliments on the enlarged paper.

C. D. Huff and wife were Halsey shoppers Tuesday.

A nine-pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Munkers Aug. 23.

E. N. Warmoth and wife of Eugene were in town Sunday in their new Paige sedan.

The Weber & Ferrell thrashing outfit finished on the J. P. Hunter place last Wednesday.

L. C. Merriam and family, accompanied by their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Huggins, spent Sunday on the Calapooia.

Miss Lillian Sneed returned to Portland today after spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Sneed in this city.

Mrs. Melech and three children left for Portland Wednesday after visiting at the home of her brother, M. O. Banich, for about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henderson of South Bend, Wash., arrived Wednesday and are guests at the home of Mrs. Henderson's brother, C. P. Stafford.

If you leave your advertisement in the Enterprise after this week it will cost 20 cents an inch. Really, now, can you get a better return from an investment of 20 cents?

C. H. Koontz left Wednesday for Newport, where he will join his family, who preceded him some weeks ago. Mr. Koontz expects to return about Sunday. Miss Marie Sneed is assisting in the store during his absence.

State Game Warden Burghdoff and District Deputy Hawker have been sued at Albany by D. F. West for $303 for 40 otter skins, 5coon skins, 11 skunk skins, a cat skin, a bear trap and 30 mail traps which Hawker confiscated.

L. Boyd has ordered his paper sent to the following places on specified dates, therefore we are sure he is enjoying a wonderful vacation. He first visited in Sebastopol, Cal., then to Harpers, Kansas, and on to Lake Park, Ga., where he and Mrs. Boyd are now and will be for a time.

The largest advertisement in the Enterprise this week is that of the Blaine Clothing company. Why do they do it? Because in the firm's many successful years in business it has learned the value of advertising and in a long experience with the Enterprise it has learned that this paper reaches buyers.

Mark and George Carter of Leore, Cal., cousins of W. G. Carter of this place, were visitors at the Carter home several days last week. The last meeting of W. G. with Mark was 35 years ago, and with George about 15 years. Mrs. Mark Carter accompanied her husband, they came here from Canada, where they had visited relatives for a few days. They are interested in vineyards and returned home because the crop was ripe and ready to market.

Jay W. Moore was in Albany Friday as the representative of Halsey when this town, Brownsville, Harrisburg and Shedd were represented in a meeting with Mr. Quayle, secretary of the state chamber of commerce, and A. C. Schmitt and others for Albany to consider the reception to be given the home-seekers' excursion from the east when it passes through this part of the state, which will probably be at the time of the state fair. The original plan, which would have had the visitors at Salem one day and at Eugene the next, has been revised and they may visit Halsey.

A kind letter received from Mrs. E. A. P. LaFollette of Fayette, Idaho, with check enclosed for another year's subscription to the Enterprise, was one of the pleasant experiences of Wednesday. Mrs. LaFollette states that her sons Kenneth and George are very busy taking care of an acre each of ripening watermelons and cantaloupes. But for the distance, the Enterprise people would enjoy accepting the invitation so cordially extended to the editor and wife to partake of them. Mrs. LaFollette adds: "We are highly pleased with the paper as you are sending it out, and certainly wish you success in your business venture."

A beetle has been found operating in Canada thistle patches in Linn county and Fred N. Williamson, county club leader, has sent specimens of the bug to the O. A. C. to get data. In some communities it is attacking useful vegetation, as well as the thistles, while in other places it has confined its operation to thistles.
