Mr. and Mrs. Alex Power of Lebanon spent the week end here visiting friends.

Mrs. O. F. Neal, Miss Melba Neal and Miss Lila Dudley were passengers to Albany Monday.

Mrs. L. E. Bond, with daughter and son, left for Albany Saturday, after spending several weeks' vacation in Halsey.

J. Wellington Cook came over from Brownsville Monday and took the train for Ione, where he expects to make his home.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Peterson and family of Junction City motored over last Sunday to spend the day with Mr. Cornelius and family.

Dr. Cora M. Tolle of Prescott, Ariz., has returned to her home after several weeks' stay here during the illness of her father, the late A. T. McCully.—Eugene Register.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Zimmerman drove to Albany last Saturday on business and on Sunday morning visited Mr. Zimmerman's brother near Millersburg, returning to Halsey Sunday evening in the rain.

An overdue soaking rain came Saturday night and stayed on the job, off and on, for several days. Now if the glorious Indian summer comes the plows and harrows and grain drills will play a merry chorus all over this prolific valley.

A weather prophet who goes by the moon assured an Enterprise reporter Friday that there would be two weeks more of dry weather and then the moon would be right and there would be a heavy rain. And then came Sunday's down-pour.

Mrs. W. H. Robertson and daughter Donna left for Eugene Tuesday morning, where Miss Donna will enter the Eugene Bible university and study music principally, along with other studies. Miss Hortense Bennett of Tangent, a former resident of this place, sister of Mrs. Robertson, will also take a course in the same institution, and the two girls will room together. Mrs. Robertson will be gone several days visiting relatives and getting the girls located.

Miss Marie Snead will leave Saturday for Seattle, where she will enter Washington university.

Mr. and Mrs. French Morgan left for Eugene Tuesday after visiting for two weeks at the home of dairyman Enos on the Brownsville-Halsey road.

Tendency to Tighten Restrictions on Hunting of Birds and Big Game is Shown in Federal and State Laws for 1921.

Washington.—A tendency to tighten the restrictions on the hunting of birds and big game is noted in the game laws for 1921, a summary of which, both federal and state, has been compiled by the federal biological survey. Among the notable changes made during the present year was the amending of the migratory bird treaty act regulations with respect to bag limits.

This amendment provides that the daily bag limit of any person shall now include "all birds taken by any other person who for hire accompanies or assists him in taking migratory birds." This will put an end to the abuse of privileges under the regulations regarding the prescribed daily bag limits by persons who claim that birds were killed by guides accompanying them.

Waterfowl Season. The federal waterfowl season for California was fixed from October 1 to January 15, replacing the old season of October 16 to January 31, the season now being the same under both federal and state laws. Regulation 9, governing the issuance of federal scientific permits, was amended to permit the issuance of limited and special permits.

State legislation harmonized federal and state laws on waterfowl and shore birds in Kansas and Oregon, and on waterfowl in Pennsylvania and Rhode Island; Washington prescribed a statewide open season on all migratory game birds from October 1 to January 15, thus deviating from the federal regulations which supersede the state law, east of the Cascade mountains, where it will now be possible to hunt migratory game birds only from October 1 to December 31, without violating either federal or state law; in Idaho the open season on migratory game birds has been shortened under state law two weeks by opening October 1, instead of September 16, and extending to December 31.

Bar Airplanes. Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Oregon and Washington enacted legislation similar to the federal regulation prohibiting hunting from airplanes. Colorado reduced the bag limit on ducks from 20 to 15 a day, while Kansas increased the limit from 20 to 25. In New Jersey redbirds were protected at all times by being placed in the nongame class. The open season for woodcock was shortened 25 days in Michigan, two weeks in New York and one month in Vermont. Doves were protected until 1924 in Colorado, and in Kansas an open season on them was provided from September 1 to October 15.

In general, seasons on big game were shortened and hunting further restricted. Buck laws were enacted in Michigan, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota, Vermont and in Washington east of the Cascades. Maine protected spike bucks and prescribed that one of the two deer allowed in the eight northern counties must be an antlered buck, and provided that in two of the counties only residents may hunt deer during the last two weeks of the open season. Bull moose were protected for five years in Maine.

REVIEW.

GOLDEN TEXT.—As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially them who are of the household of faith.—Gal. 6:1-10. REFERENCE MATERIAL.—Gal. 4:1-10. PRIMARY TOPIC.—Stories of Paul. JUNIOR TOPIC.—Serving Jesus. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC.—Living for Jesus. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC.—Sacrificing for Jesus.

Two methods may profitably be employed in the review of the lessons of the Quarter. First, a biographical sketch of the Apostle Paul, such as his birth, home training, education, conversation, teaching and missionary work. Second, the leading teachings of the lessons, which may be made prominent by summarizing the facts of each lesson and stating the most vital teaching thereof. The first method can be used in reviewing the lessons in all departments and grades, and can be easily adapted by any teacher. The second method will be preferred by many in the senior and adult classes.

The following is given by way of suggestion:

Lesson 1. Paul was born at Tarsus, of Hebrew parentage. Being brought up in a pious home, he was thoroughly imbued with the spirit of devotion to the Scriptures. He was educated at Jerusalem under the tutelage of Gamaliel. The chief text book was the Bible. In addition to his religious training he was taught a trade which came in very useful later, enabling him to support himself while preaching the gospel.

Lesson 2. In Paul's training as a Pharisee, he was taught to love his own nation, to love God's law, and to be zealous toward God, that is, to have a passion for God and His work.

Lesson 3. Paul's burning hatred of Jesus incited him to endeavor to stamp out the Nazarene heresy. While on the way to Damascus, with authority to arrest and imprison the believers, men and women, he was stricken with blindness and fell to the earth, and Jesus spoke to him from heaven, saying, "Why persecutest thou me?" In response to the heavenly instruction he went to Damascus where Ananias baptized him, and he received his sight and was filled with the Holy Spirit.

Lesson 4. Paul straightway preached Christ in the synagogue. Like everyone who is really converted he began to tell of the newly found Saviour. After a lengthy sojourn in Arabia he visited Jerusalem where he was befriended by Barnabas when suspected by the disciples.

Lesson 5. When the religious awakening at Antioch had come to the attention of the Jerusalem church, Barnabas was sent to inspect it, and seeing help was needed he brought Paul from Tarsus to be his helper.

Lesson 6. After teaching a year at Antioch, the Spirit moved the church to send forth Barnabas and Paul to evangelize the heathen. The church sent her best men.

Lesson 7. As Paul and Barnabas were preaching at Iconium, an attempt was made to worship them as gods. Their efforts were frustrated by the tact of Paul. Soon after this Paul was stoned, showing that satanic worship can soon be turned into satanic hate.

Lesson 8. Paul's preaching the grace of God to the heathen brought on a controversy in the church at Antioch. The question in dispute was: "Shall Gentiles be required to keep the Mosaic law as a condition of salvation?" The decision was in favor of Paul, and so Paul and Barnabas were free to begin their second missionary journey.

Lesson 9. The Spirit forbade Paul to tarry longer in the provinces of Asia preaching the Gospel, and by a vision of a man from Macedonia pleading for help, he was called into Europe.

Lesson 10. The casting out of a demon from a young woman resulted in landing Paul and Silas in jail. They were miraculously delivered and the jailer was converted.

Lesson 11. Being driven out from Thessalonica and Berea, Paul went to Athens where he preached the gospel on Mars' Hill. The result of his preaching here was that some mocked, some prostrated, and some believed.

Lesson 12. Paul in this lesson sets forth the grand principles which should govern the believer's life, the sum and substance of which is: "Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God."

Peoria Points

Peoria, Sept. 20.

School started Monday. The children were busy hurrying around.

Dalton Gibbs, Willard Gibbs, Dale LaMar and George Allen go to school to Shedd. There are several more who are ready for high school but cannot attend, as it is very inconvenient to go so far. Every community should have a good high school so the children could live at home and still attend school. Some say it is only a matter of time until the country schools, churches and stores will have to go out of business. It will be a sorry day for everyone if such a time comes.

Cleone LaMar left Sunday for Corvallis to attend O. A. C.

Flora Barcus left Sunday for Corvallis. She and her mother are keeping boarders and roomers near the college.

B. F. Austin and wife and their nephew, George Allen, went to Albany last Saturday.

D. C. Gibbs and wife were in Albany Saturday.

W. S. Gibbs has been visiting his son, D. C., but has now returned to Roseburg.

Mrs. M. M. Fruit fell and fractured a bone in her arm last week, but is improving slowly.

Mrs. Albert Hughes and family have returned from Independence, where they were picking hops.

Fred Frady and wife went to Eugene last Friday and returned Sunday.

Miller Morgan and family of Albany stayed over night with Mr. Miller's aunt and uncle, J. R. Frady and wife, last Saturday. They were on their way home from the mountains. They considered themselves lucky to be out of there before the rain, which started in that night.

The Waddell boys came home from a deer hunt last week with two nice deer on their running boards, one of them the largest killed so far this season. They are trying for a prize which has been offered for the largest deer killed, by some sporting goods house in Albany.

The Linn County Fair

Splendid Exhibits Insured in All Departments—Two Hundred Entries in Baby Show

The county fair at Albany, Oct. 4, 5, 6 and 7, is gaining form. From the present outlook, it will surpass the fondest dreams of the fair management.

"Baby land" will certainly be the most suitable name for the baby show, as Miss Edith Forrest, of the Red Cross, assures all that, from the present outlook, nearly two hundred babies will be entered, if not more, by the opening day.

The races will surpass anything ever held at a county fair. The horses entered, in numbers, are greater than the list shown for the state fair. Every horseman on the circuit this year is out for the money, and but very little friendship is being manifested among them, and this, coupled with a speedy track, assures fast racing. A new barn is in course of construction to house fifty additional head.

Tuesday, the 4th, will be "Portland 1925 fair day" and "homecoming day." The 1925 fair promoters have assured the management that they will be here in great numbers to put over a rousing big gala day. We understand that this is the only day set aside for the boosting of the 1925 fair by any county fair in the state, which has aroused a feeling in our favor from the Portland boosters. Many have been heard from, signifying their intentions of coming back on homecoming day to meet with their Linn county friends. The railroads will have those homeseekers in attendance, on this day, whom they are bringing west to look this part of the country over, in view of locating.

Wednesday will be "fraternal lodge day" and the different lodges throughout Linn and surrounding counties are planning on making this day one that will equal any other day's features during the fair's four big days. Very acceptable prizes have been offered by the fair association for the best appearance of the men, largest group of men in each participating order, and best stunt put on by the lodge boys on that day.

"Wedding day" will shine with splendor on Thursday. Many applications have been received and more are expected. No one will know who the happy, lucky couple will be except the manager of the matrimonial department and the contracting parties, until they are presented at the grand stand for the ceremony. The application department will cease to accept any entries after six o'clock on the evening of Sept. 26, when the ballot box will be closed and the applications shaken up and the lucky ones drawn. They will be notified on the following day to prepare for the big event. Mail applications to George G. Dungey, manager of the matrimonial department, Albany, care of the secretary of the Linn county fair. Be sure and have the applications signed by both contracting parties and correct resident address so the manager can readily find you if it should be yours that is drawn. Also, across the outside of the envelope, write plainly the county in which you live, the upper left hand corner being the most appropriate position. This event includes couples living in Linn or Benton counties. Many valuable presents have been pledged, including a $500 Albany lot.

Friday will be "children's day" and "Linn county day." All school children will be admitted free, and special stunts will be pulled off on that day for their amusement, as well as some for the older folks.

Many special attractions for each day are now arranged for and more taking form every day. The Frisco Big Shows, along with dancing on the fair grounds, will assist in making each hour of the day and night a merry one.

A special invitation to the different lodges of Linn and surrounding counties to participate in the lodge day events is given. Notify the secretary, A. C. Schmitt, at an early date of your intention to participate.

The management takes this opportunity to urge those who are planning on having exhibits at the fair to be on hand early Monday morning, so that special pains can be taken in the arrangement of the exhibits.

New graveled walks have been made and other conveniences arranged for the fair patrons.

THE HOMESEEKERS

Preparations Made to Show Them Linn County

J. W. Moore represented Halsey at a meeting at the St. Francis hotel in Albany Tuesday evening of representatives of commercial organizations of this place and Harrisburg, Lebanon, Brownsville and Albany to make plans for the reception of the Oregon chamber of commerce's special trainload of homeseekers from the east.

The visitors are expected to arrive at Portland on the 27th and be at Salem on the 30th.

The tentative plans are for them to be at Corvallis Oct. 1 and go up the east side, arriving at Eugene on the 3rd. Autos from Harrisburg are to take them at 8 the next morning. If the plans materialize Halsey autos will bring the guests to Halsey at 10. At 11 they are to be at Brownsville and at Lebanon at 1, arriving at Albany at 2:30 to take in the county fair.

An excursion train of boosters for the 1925 fair at Portland is to visit the Linn county fair the same day, Oct. 4.

Mr. Moore expects to meet the excursionists at Salem Sept. 30 to take part in finally arranging the itinerary.

It is presumed that about 15 Halsey cars will be needed on the 4th.

Mrs. J. S. McMahan was a visitor at Corvallis Monday.
