LESSON FOR OCTOBER 30

STRONG DRINK IN A NATION'S LIFE—WORLD'S TEMPER-ANCE SUNDAY.

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 28:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Woe unto him that giveth his neighbor drink.—Hab. 2:15.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Isa. 5:11-13,
28; Amos 4:1, 2.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Story of the Rechabites.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Faithful Rechabites.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
Enforcing Prohibition.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
World Prohibition.

I. God's Judgment Upon Israel (vv. 1-4).

1. The sin for which Israel was judged (v. 1). It was drunkenness, which seems to have been a national sin. (See Isa. 5:11, 12; 7:5; Amos 2:8, 8, 12; 4:1; 6, 6.) Samaria's position was an enviable one. The whole nation was proud of her. The crown of pride whose glorious beauty had been so marked was fading through the blighting effects of drunkenness.

2. The instrument by which the punishment was effected (v. 2). It was to be by the strong hand of the Assyrians. The imagery of this verse shows that this destruction was to be sudden, swift and irresistible. Some of the evils wrought by drunkenness:
(a) Strength is wasted by it (v. 1). "Are overcome with wine." Man's manifold strength, physical, mental and spiritual, is soon mastered by strong drink. (b) Honor brought into the dust. "Shall be trodden under feet" (v. 1, 3). Just as this proud city was humbled through intemperance, so does drunkenness bring down into the dust those high in educational, social and business circles. (c) It despoils beauty (v. 1, 4).

"Beauty is a fading flower." Beauty soon departs from the form and spirit of men and women who indulge in the intoxicating cup. (d) Wisdom is turned aside (v. 7). "They have erred through wine and strong drink." As a consequence they were groping in darkness instead of walking in the light of the Lord.

II. The Lord's Promise to the Remnant (vv. 5, 6).

Out of this awful darkness shines a ray of brightness, for following the destruction of the proud city the Lord of Hosts is promised for a crown of glory to the remnant of His people. This pointed forward to the coming of the Savior (Zech. 6:13). Their hopes were partially fulfilled at the first coming of the Savior, but the real fulfillment shall be when drunkenness, pride and all unrighteousness shall disappear before the glaring light of the Sun of Righteousness (Mal. 4:2; 1 Pet. 5:4).

III. The Sinfulness of Judah (vv. 7-10).

1. Drunkenness (v. 7). Judah had also erred through strong drink. Even their priests and prophets had fallen through the blighting effects of wine. It was a violation of God's law for a priest to take wine before entering the tabernacle. The drunkards of both Judah and Ephraim are denounced. The message is a fitting one for this day, for the Scriptures declare that no drunkard shall enter the kingdom (1 Cor. 5:11; 6:10).

2. Unnamable filth (v. 8). This description shows a condition which is deplorable indeed. Filth and drunkenness go hand in hand.

3. Mockery (vv. 9, 10). In addition to their drunkenness and filth they scornfully mock God's prophets. These priests had become so hardened by their drunken debauchery that they set at naught Isaiah's instructions and scorned God's messengers. They questioned their authority and gave back the answer of ridicule as if to say, "We are teachers, what do you mean to teach us? Are we babes that have just been weaned? You come to us with your line upon line, line upon line." They were not only unwilling to receive the message, but tired of the way in which it was delivered. Not being willing to receive the message, they complain of the manner in which it is delivered. The doctrine of salvation by blood alone is not a very popular one; the preaching of the cross is foolishness to some (1 Cor. 1:18-21; 2:14).

IV. Judah's Punishment. (vv. 11-13).

The prophet replies to these drunken scoffers that their very drunken questions should be answered by the Lord in judgment. God had repeatedly offered them rest, but they had as repeatedly refused it. Their scorn and contempt are answered with the bitterest sarcasm. The bloody conqueror would come upon them and cause them to be snared and taken.

God Waits.

Patience, nobly, magnanimously, God waits; waits for the man who is a fool to find out his own folly; waits for the heart which has tried to find pleasure in everything else to find out that everything else disappoints and to come back to Him, the fountain of all wholesome pleasure, the well-spring of all life fit for a man to live.—Charles Kingsley.

Jots and Tittles

Short Stories of Happenings in Linn County Generally and in Halsey Particularly

Mrs. G. W. Laubner was an Albany visitor Monday.

R. L. Widdiford returned Friday evening from a business trip to Salem.

On account of Mrs. E. J. Harrington's health she and husband cut short their visit here and went home.

An $11,298 grading contract at Murder creek, Linn county, has been let by the state highway commission.

Monday's Albany Democrat had a column of news under a Scio head which the Enterprise had the weakness to print the week before as Halsey news.

Miss Mona Bond returned Sunday from Jerome, Arizona, where she had a position in the schools. Miss Bond was called home by the illness of her mother, Mrs. M. C. Bond.

Fred Taylor of Corvallis, who had been visiting a few days at the J. C. Standish home in this city, returned home Tuesday. Mrs. Taylor, who accompanied him, remained for a longer visit.

Everett Robinson, at one time resident of this vicinity, was instantly killed at the Balderree logging camp, near Independence, Monday, when a block which was attached to a guide pulled out and the line struck him. Mr. Robinson spent a considerable part of last year near Halsey and has many friends here. Funeral services will be at Falls City, where his parents reside. Wednesday morning F. W. Robinson, an uncle, Miss Grace Robinson, Miss Lois Hampton and Arthur Thompson, cousins, left here to attend the funeral.

In looking over the advertising columns we note that Ringo carries everything to cleanse the teeth and make the breath pure and wholesome. Then last week he told us in advertising all about rouges and complexion remedies, skin creams and "sich." This week he dilates on hair tonics and helps of all kinds to benefit the scalp. If people would only try some of these things there would be no excuse for homely people in the world at all. What is more beautiful than a clear, healthy skin, a fine set of white teeth and a fine head of healthy hair. Go up, thou baldhead!

G. R. Wallop, Mrs. L. E. Walton and J. C. Walton were passengers to Albany today.

Mrs. S. E. Cole and grandson of Brownsville returned on this morning's train from Silverton, where Mrs. Cole had been visiting her daughter. She also visited a son in Portland and on Sunday they all together took in the Columbia highway and other places of interest. S. E. Cole motored over from Brownsville and they went home together.

George Maxwell went to Albany on this morning's train. George is "keeping back," as his wife has not yet returned from her recent trip.

George Starr and family, who are living on the Dr. Philo Starr farm, received a car of furniture Wednesday from Alberta, Canada, their former home.

T. B. Davidson of Eugene arrived on this morning's train for a visit at the C. H. Davidson home.

Miss Greta Case of Dever reached Brownsville last Friday for several weeks' employment at the William Pents home.

J. C. Heinrich, who lived near Peoria, left for McCleary, Wash. this morning. He expects to be employed there.

Mrs. L. V. Chance went to Albany today to visit her mother, who resides at that place.

Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Chance and Sidney Smith motored to Corvallis to take in the football game. Mrs. Chance says there seemed to be more cars out than she had seen at one time before in a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cameron and Miss Lura Chambers of Albany were callers at W. A. Cummings' Ancona farm Sunday for a chicken dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Mayberry motored to the Alsea country last Saturday. Mrs. McKinney traveled with them to Albany, where she visited, her husband following on Sunday and the two returning to Halsey together.

Mrs. J. C. Bramwell spent Monday in Albany and incidentally called on Mrs. Nellie Taylor, formerly of Halsey but now a resident of Albany.

L. C. Merriam, railroad section boss, and family are about to occupy the Mrs. Nellie Taylor house next to the Methodist church.

N. W. Windom, who lived in Brownsville 21 years ago, has been visiting the C. B. Tyceer home for the week end and left on Monday's train in Halsey for Eugene.

Mrs. Ida Maxwell of Albany spent the week end with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Safley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Horton, a pair of "honeymooners" from Riddle, Oregon, were arrivals in Halsey Tuesday, coming from Brownsville, where they had been guests for a short time of Mrs. Thomas Harrison, who is aunt to the bride. They had traveled over the Willamette valley visiting friends and relatives. They went from here to Cottage Grove on the way home.

Mrs. Hugh Leeper left on Tuesday morning's train for Shedd, to remain for several days.

Mrs. C. A. Davis and Miss Davie of Turner were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Leeper last week and are now visiting at Shedd. Mrs. Davis is the aunt of Mrs. Leeper and it was thirty years since she had visited the Leepers.

W. A. Carey received a telegram that his father, B. I. Carey, was seriously ill at Cottage Grove and Mrs. Freeman Robinson, a daughter, went at once and returned with her father Tuesday. It is hoped that the gentleman will soon respond to medical treatment.

Mrs. E. V. Ferguson and infant of Salem were Tuesday arrivals and were met at the station by G. R. Walker, at whose home Mrs. Ferguson will visit.

Mrs. C. H. Koontz and daughter were Albany shoppers Tuesday.

Monday night and Tuesday and Wednesday we enjoyed our first taste of winter rains, altho it is ovely and warm.

The Study Club

Mrs. T. I. Marks was hostess for the Women's Study club last Thursday afternoon. Sixteen members responded to rollo call by a verse each from her favorite poet. It was decided to give a chicken pie dinner Friday at the McCully building, proceeds to be used for new books for the library.

Mesdames May Huston, L. E. Walton, Arthur Foote, Henry English and Wm. H. Wheeler became members.

The first lesson on Oregon history was presented in an interesting manner by Mrs. J. W. Moore.

The poem, "Thanatopsis," by William Cullen Bryant, was read by Mrs. Laubner. This work was written five years after the visit to the Oregon country by Lewis and Clark and refers to the Columbia river as the Oregon.

Mrs. Stafford sang "Oregon," a state song by J. Norman Waterhouse of Eugene, and "Out Where the West Begins," Chapman-Thillio. Mrs. English was her accompanist.

The decorations were autumn leaves with red and bronze dahlias and zinnias. Each member received a golden chrysanthemum and a question pertinent to Oregon in her napkin. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Laubner.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Moore, Nov. 3, at which time the lesson will be continued by Mrs. Laubner, assisted by Mrs. Templeton.

RUSS PRINCES ASK U. S. BRIDES

Refugee Noblemen in Turkey Are Perfectly Willing to Marry for Money.

HOPE TO GET BACK ESTATES

Many Refugee Russian Women Have Married Turks in Order to Get Temporary Homes—Still Retain Their Politeness and Courtesy.

Constantinople.—The arranging of marriages between Russian princes and well-to-do American women is the latest scheme advanced here by an ingenious Russian to get a livelihood for workless, penniless refugees living on American and other charity.

It is argued that the American woman, in addition to the title, make a good business bargain, since the exiled Russian noblemen all have large estates which they hope to recover when private property is restored and Bolshevik Russia is no more.

Many Russians have open minds on the marriage question. Many of the refugee Russian women have married Turks since their arrival here, in order to get temporary homes. The Russian men have followed suit. Many of the older ones have married Greek women.

And Age Has Its Weddings.

"Youth has its follies, age its stupidities," said a Russian general, no longer young, when inviting a friend to his wedding.

The difficulty of locating these American wives across the seas is not one to stump the imaginative Russian mind, which readily adapts itself to the lighter branches of commerce, and has succeeded here with cafes, beauty parlors, manure and tea shops, concert halls and public grounds.

The first and only bathing pavilion near here has been established at Florida beach, on the Marmora sea, by a group of Georgian princesses, through the loan of American Red Cross tents.

Men Are Out of Luck.

The condition of Russian men refugees here is bad, as there are few industries or factories to provide work. Recently the French government cut off its food rations to several thousand men, though still feeding a certain number of children, women and old men.

It is hard for them to get passports to go to other countries. Serbia has accepted some 20,000, but her leniency to refugees is finding its limit.

Prince Goltzky, who formerly held immense estates near Kiev, and may recover them, among hundreds of others, is attempting to earn a living by utilizing his knowledge of precious stones of which he once had a large collection.

Such men often lose their clothing and baggage to rapacious landlords who serve them in default of the payment of room rent, but the Russian aristocrats never lose their politeness and courtesy in adversity.

They still kiss the hands of the women, after the manner of their country. Often cheerful and courageous in the face of poverty, they share their last money with friends.

Emmett Howard, Mr. Vitus and Mr. Dickey of Junction City had business in Halsey Wednesday.

HOLLEY BRIDE WIDOW

Joseph Crocker's Son-in-law Killed in Accident

Joseph Crocker and family of Holley, above Brownsville, this morning received a telegram from their daughter, Mrs. Daisy Crocker Burlingame of Gresham, stating that her husband had been killed last night by an electric train while in his car on his way home from the school of which he was principal. The Crocker family had to walk a mile before they could reach their car, because the recent rains had made the roads so bad, and then had to drive thru Brownsville to Halsey in order to get the noon train for Portland. Two daughters and a son accompanied them on their sad journey. Daisy Crocker was married last July to L. A. Burlingame of Fairview. They recently moved to Gresham.

Mr. Burlingame, 31 years of age, had been principal of the school at Orient for two years. Mrs. Burlingame was a teacher at Rockwood.

Mr. Burlingame had been driving Miss Bertha Spencer, 21, a teacher in the Lusted school, and Miss Grace Fieldhouse, who is the principal of the same school, to and from the school. Miss Spencer was killed. Miss Fieldhouse was taken to a hospital with fractures of both legs, a broken hip and possibly a fractured skull. Her recovery is doubtful. Mr. Burlingame was a cripple, one leg having been amputated just below the knee. The accident occurred while on the way home, about one mile east of Gresham. Mr. Burlingame died from injury to his head. His skull was fractured. The heavy electric train and the light automobile met at the crossing and the motor car was hurled and dragged more than a hundred feet. It is not known whether the auto stalled at the crossing or not.

Life Insurance

In his letter of advice to employees of the Southern Pacific Mr. Sproule says of insurance:

If, because of refusal to go out on strike when it is called, employees have to resign their memberships in labor organizations or are expelled from them, thus losing their insurance carried thru the organization, you need not hesitate on that point. The company will in such cases assume this insurance, and carry it on at rates no higher than are now charged you by the organizations. The company will do so under conditions giving your insurance such permanency that your thrift in behalf of those for whom you wish to provide may be taken care of as you intended.
