

We accept the more modest version until further informed.

H. B. Suiker of Tangent was an Albany visitor Tuesday.

Karl Stewart of Halsey was an Albany visitor last Tuesday.

Mrs. Clara Williams was a visitor from Lake creek Tuesday.

The banquet of the Rebekahs and Odd Fellows has been postponed from Thanksgiving to a later date.

The high school reporter is beginning to get her gait. There's more news in the report in the Enterprise this week.

A. H. Cornelius, who expected to return from Eugene Monday, was unable to get into that city from twenty miles west of there where he was. He got home Wednesday.

W. M. Morgan was careless in throwing an empty bottle from his automobile in Albany. It smashed the windshield of another auto and broke on the street. He settled in court by paying $50.

Mrs. Ella Crews of Peoria and her brother-in-law, John Crews of Dexter, both relatives of Mrs. John Porter, were here to her funeral. They left for Albany Wednesday.

Dean Tycer was very much in evidence at the Southern Pacific depot Wednesday when he met M. W. Windom of Harrisburg and took him to Brownsville to spend Thanksgiving with the Tycer family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Laubner, Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Templeton and Mrs. Dr. Marks and son Roland are a few who journeyed to Eugene to take in the football game with all its trimmings.

After page 5 was printed it developed that the first prize in the Brownsville Times' competition of school children in armistice day essays was won by plagiarism. The first place is therefore given to Johnny Gross.

Mrs. W. A. Ringo has been under the weather this week, suffering from the latest fashionable up-to-date cold. Their home was recently repapered and fixed up in fine shape and undoubtedly having the house open and no fires she took the cold.

A most agreeable visit was made to the Wheelers last Thursday when Mesdames Clara Starr, Oren Stratton and Harry Park made an hour's call while on their way home to Brownsville from the missionary meeting at Eugene.

Dr. Alma Cannon of Eugene was on the evening train Monday in an attempt to reach Seattle to attend a funeral the next morning. Finding it would be impossible to get through, she stopped off here, called on the Wheelers and caught the south-bound train for her home.

Mrs. E. B. McKinney and child left Monday for Mrs. McKinney's father's home 6 1/2 miles north of Albany, in response to a message stating that he was ill. Tuesday her sister, Mrs. Jacob Kotsch, accompanied by her husband, followed after. Mrs. Kotsch had received a later message stating that the father was suffering from a bad case of grip.

The Harrisburg Bulletin says that Glenn Morris' electrical entertainment, the second in the Lyceum course, was good, but that the attendance at that city was poor and the guarantors will lose money. Why shouldn't the attendance be poor after the knock the Bulletin gave the first number? Halsey people liked both entertainments and the Enterprise approves their judgment.

Mrs. E. E. Van Epps of Crawfordville, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. S. F. White of the same place, motored over thru Brownsville to Halsey to entrain for Portland, to consult medical authority for treatment for a cancer that Mrs. White has been afflicted with for about two years. Mr. Van Epps is the broomcorn man of their locality and is busy making brooms, whisk brushes and many other useful things in his line.

Mrs. English Wins

Mrs. Elizabeth English, mother of the Halsey school principal, was sued for $824 for war savings stamps which her husband bought and received before his death and which the Eugene postmaster claimed he did not pay for. It took a federal jury in Portland 10 minutes yesterday to decide the case in her favor. The inference is that the jury thought a clerk in the postoffice embezzled the money.

Beer is Bounced

Special session of the legislature Dec. 19.

Special Session

Mr. Harding has signed the act prohibiting the prescribing of beer as medicine.

Mrs. Ida Maxwell Cummings and Mrs. Ella Crews and Mrs. Fred Bloom of Albany attended the Porter funeral Tuesday.

Strained Music. The organist at Gloucester cathedral declares that the present vogue of wearing hair over the ears is responsible for a lot of poor singing. His opinion is open to criticism, but it is generally admitted that it would be better if some singers wore the hair over their mouths instead.—Eve (London).

Korean Race a Mixture. The Koreans are taller than either the Chinese or Japanese. They are robust and vivacious, indefatigable workers and are in great demand in Japan as mechanics. There are different races in the country, and there is a great diversity of features. Some faces are entirely void of hair; others have rich, silky beards and whiskers, while those of others present nothing but a coarse tangled mass.

Brownsville Briefs

Beginning the first Sunday in December the Baptist people will commence a series of meetings under the direction of Evangelist M. G. Bentley.

Mrs. Charles Stull of Seattle, who spent some days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hamill, while her mother was seriously ill, returned to her home the latter part of the week, Mrs. Hamill being much improved.

B. W. Loucks & Sons have just completed concrete work for Mayor White and Fred Gustafson fronting their residence properties, including a sustaining wall and walks. They have also put down concrete walks in front of the White hardware store and the Calapooia Co-operative store.

Harold, son of Henry Blakely and wife, who had been here for a few weeks, returned to Portland Saturday.

The Brownsville high school ball team suffered its first defeat Friday in a game with Lebanon. It lost by a score of 6 to 8.

C. V. Burr has been at Coburg several days painting and decorating the interior of a large house belonging to Rev. Henry Myers, a former Brownsville resident.

Mayor White and wife returned a few days ago from a brief visit with their three daughters, Mrs. Ina Weber, and Misses Ethel and Blanche, at Portland. Blanche teaches in the Portland public schools and Ethel has a fine music class at Oregon City. She spends Sundays and Mondays with Blanche and Mrs. Cecil Sawyer, who have rooms in one of the finest apartments in the city. Mrs. Sawyer is also teaching in the public schools of Portland.

Rev. A. M. McClain goes to Waldport next Monday to assist in a two-weeks' series of evangelist meetings.

Mrs. Williams, a representative of the North Pacific board of missions, will be in Brownsville next

The Postmastership

With the Skin of Jacob, the Voice of Esau Will Make the Appointment

Senator McNary writes to the Enterprise of the Halsey postmastership: "The matter has been taken out of the realm of politics, as you know."

This paper begs to differ with the senator. A third-class postmastership is one of the most lively political footballs we know of.

The practice is, when such a position is to be filled, for the civil service commission to order a competitive examination of candidates. In such examination credits are given in the following ratio: Business experience and fitness, 60; accounts and arithmetic, 30; penmanship, 10; letter writing, 10; total possible, 100.

The commission certifies to the postmaster-general the three names receiving the highest credits and the postmaster-general certifies to the president one of the three for appointment. Candidates unfit by reason of character or physical disability will not be certified. They must be 21 years old and less than 65.

Of course, if the age of miracles has not passed, it might be possible for three democrats to be certified under a republican administration or three republicans under democratic auspices, but even then it would take another miracle to prevent the appointment from falling outside of the certified three through some hook or crook.

The postmaster-general is permitted to certify for renomination the name of a postmaster whose term has expired, without a re-examination, but the matter is not far enough out of politics for this to happen often in cases where the postmaster's political affiliations differ from those of the appointing power.

Probably a gentlemen's understanding would prevent a senator from interfering in a third-class postmastership. He has other and bigger fish to fry. And a representative in the house would be unlikely to meddle in another one's district. So the Halsey appointment is "up to" Mr. Hawley and the administration.

The civil service examination will occur in Albany Dec. 10.

The name of E. E. Gormley might have been added to the list of candidates published last week.

Monday and give an address in the Presbyterian church under the auspices of the Women's Missionary society.

A few nights since some unprincipled thing in the form of a man stole a load of wood from Miss Anna Warmoth's premises in South Brownsville. It had just been delivered a day or two before. The deed seems all the more contemptible in view of the fact that Miss Warmoth is very ill—beyond recovery, perhaps. When alone with his thoughts what do you suppose such a creature thinks of himself?

Helen and Ruth McClain, who have been down for a couple of weeks with tonsillitis, and an abscess in the ear in Helen's case and inflammatory rheumatism in Ruth's, are better and it is thought will soon be around again.

The Calapooia was on a rampage Sunday, the water being higher than for many years if it was ever before so high. It came up so suddenly that in some instances chickens and other small stock could not be saved. Fences and walks were demoralized. Parkings along the pavement, filled with sand and gravel last fall, were badly cut up, and newly filled gravel roads washed out in some places. Waders were in great demand and dealers in rubber boots verified the old saying that it is an ill wind that blows nobody good. At this writing, (Monday) the waters are abating slowly and some who have been marooned are beginning to see their way out.

The Baptist church of Brownsville has been organized 68 years. But a single one of the original members survives and he lives elsewhere. [Page 5, giving the church's age as 63, was printed before the foregoing came to hand.]

Miss Velma Drinkard from near Harrisburg spent the week end with her grandmother, Mrs. Harriet Cooley.

Mr. and Mrs. Crawford of Albany are spending a couple of weeks at the home of the Dunlaps. Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Dunlap are sisters.

Elder Fite, the new pastor of the Christian church, was here Sunday to fill his pulpit. The Brownsville churches are now all manned for the first time in several months.

MORTUARY Many Win the Final Victory This Season of Thanks

Mrs. Laura J., wife of John M. Porter of this city, died at the age of 59 years at the family home here Sunday morning at 7:30, following an attack of apoplexy. She had retired the night before feeling as well as usual. As she arose in the morning she complained of a pain in her head and sank to the floor, dying in a few minutes. She had been a resident of Halsey and vicinity for a great many years and was well known. Besides her husband, Mrs. Porter is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Karl Bramwell and Mrs. Edith Robnett of Halsey, and Mrs. Frank Maxwell of Tangent. She is also survived by two sisters and a brother, John Crews of Dexter. Funeral services were held in the Christian church, of which she had been a member from the time the church was organized. Rev. Lester Jones officiated. Interment was in Pine Grove cemetery.

A large circle of friends will miss her saintly smile and the loving deeds of mercy and kindness which her hands were ever open to perform in the many sick rooms of the community.

Mrs. Andy Kirk of Brownsville died last Monday after a prolonged illness. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon and interment was in the Masonic cemetery at that place. A number of relatives and friends from Halsey attended.

Mrs. Phoebe Owen died in Harrisburg last Saturday evening at 72 years of age, at the home of her son, Joseph Owen. Funeral services were held Wednesday in the Christian church at Harrisburg with interment in the Smith cemetery near Halsey. Mrs. Owen was well known here and lived here for many years. She recently disposed of her home here to P. J. Forster, who resides in it.

Mrs. Hazel Warmoth, daughter of Grant Taylor, born and raised in Halsey, 27 years of age today, died in Salem Tuesday night, following an operation performed the Friday before. She was the wife of E. N. Warmoth of Halsey. They had also lived in Eugene and Salem. Besides her husband she is survived by her father and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Whitlatch of Eugene and Mrs. Guy Bramwell of Brownsville.
