

This is a striking redingote model of French serge banded with Hungarian embroidery. One large button serves to give the dress a semi-belted effect.

FASHION NOTES

Velvet still is good for entire costumes, but it is considered smarter this season when used in combination with soft wool fabric or with silk or satin.

Bengaline weaves are appearing in the shops—another old-fashioned fabric come back in new color tones.

Nightgowns made of silk, similar to that used for men's shirts, are shown, made on very simple lines and finished with a double row of machine hemstitching.

All shimmering fabrics are not all silk, though they are known by names that convey the silk idea. Bengaline is a worsted-filled silk that has good wearing qualities and is of attractive texture.

Deep-pleded woollens for coats have such a soft and close texture that they resemble fur. Chemise resembles beaver in its deep, lustrous pile. Armla conveys a good idea of Persian lamb fur. Panvelaine is a close suggestion of otter. Wool canton has a pebbly surface, and is shown in all the new color tones.

Camsoles made with lace and embroidery trimming at the front to show in the cloth suits and dresses instead of vests are being shown in great numbers. The camsole itself is made of net, satin, crepe, edged about the top with lace and strapped over the shoulder with ribbon. The vest front in some of them is loose and long enough to hang down over the skirt.

Sets comprised of hats and scarfs are being developed by the different designers as accessories to the winter outfit. Some of them are made of fur and silk and metal fabric combinations, others are of flowers, and include muffs for evening wear. Still others are of paisley effects, or roman striped material combined into many different and clever shapes and sizes.

GIVES $70 TO MOONSHINER

Texas Jury Collects Purse for Man After Giving Him Suspended Sentence.

Breckenridge, Tex.—After granting A. P. Markwood, self-confessed moonshiner, a suspended sentence of one year in the penitentiary, a jury in the Nineteenth District court made up a purse of about $70 and gave it to him. Markwood told the court that hard times forced him into the distillery business to make a living for his wife and six children. His wife on the stand corroborated his testimony. Markwood came to Breckenridge from his home at Necessity and surrendered after a fellow moonshiner had been arrested.

LET POTATOES LAY ON SOIL

If Exposed for an Hour or So After Digging Skin Toughens and Wards Off Decay.

It is always advisable to allow the potatoes to remain on the ground for an hour or two after digging, as this toughens the skin against bruising and decay resulting from handling. It also loosens the dirt on them and removes some of the moisture from the surface, so that their appearance and keeping quality are improved.

Millinery Modes.

Small, close hats for the street and a large chapeau for formal afternoon affairs are the latest mode. Satin and velvet in these will be most popular.

High School Notes

Don't forget the big basketball game Saturday evening, Dec. 10, when the Halsey hoopmen compete with those of Junction City.

A literary society has been organized in the high school and officers elected as follows: President, Louise Robnett; vice-president, Janet Boggs; secretary and treasurer, Alta Hayes; sergeant-at-arms, Alberta Koontz. Name and motto, "Eulixia," colors, old rose and silver gray. The first program given by this society will be a Christmas. Program committee, Chairman Janet Boggs and Hazel Gullford and Pearl Pehrsson.

The glee club practiced this week at the home of Mrs. English, and has begun work on a new song.

All attending the freshman party report a good time.

Last Wednesday night an interclass game was played between the junior boys and seniors. It was a hard fight, especially for the seniors. Both teams were in good shape to play a fast and steady game, but the juniors outplayed the seniors from the beginning, with a score of 14 to 3 at the close of the first half, and kept ahead to the end, the final score being 28 to 17 in favor of the juniors. Of course, much credit is given the junior girls in yelling, for the seniors were slow, besides very weak. We hope they will be better prepared for the next game so they might give their team greater support.

An interclass game was also played between the frosh and sophomores, with the latter victorious.

H. S. Reporter, J. B.

NOW COMES THE VEIL RING

Two Bands May Be Used if Popular Two-Sided Drape Is Milady's Preference.

The ring is rendering first aid to a veil in holding it to a chic line.

A simple, dainty ring of galalith may be used to transform regular square and rectangular veils into the semblance of the newer and more unusual shapes in veils.

By its use the regular square and oblong effects can be adjusted easily over the turban or sailor and draped portion held snugly to one side of the hat. If the popular two-sided drape is preferred, it may be attained by the use of two rings.

Among the newer ideas in veils are the boat-shape styles, decorated at either end with huge chenille dots arranged in various odd patterns. In these newest chenille dot interpretations, soft furry balls of chenille are used in three colors, harmoniously blended. One style, called the Cleopatra, has an earring motif in gorgeous jade color surrounded with brown and henna dots.

The Jenny Sleeve Is for the Slender.

The newest note in blouses is the wide armhole. Unfortunately this style is not becoming to every figure. The slender woman wears it well, but the woman who has permitted herself to put on flesh and who has "curve" rather than "line" must close her eyes to this new sleeve style, as it will have a tendency to decidedly accentuate her size.

Colored Linens.

Flat colors in table linens are found in some of the smart shops. One particularly good-looking luncheon set was of vivid pink with hemstitched ends.

Brown Shades Rule.

One has only to make a round of the specialty shops to become convinced of the place the brown shades have in fall fashions. One charming youthful frock is of brown red canton crepe with a wide band of open-work trimming, while the cafe au lait shades are represented nearly everywhere. Even the evening gowns have adopted the bronze brown shades, especially in pailletted robes, as these light up better than most shades of brown for evening wear.

Sashes.

The sash continues to be prominent and it is no difficult task to make this of the dress material or ribbon, and then knot up some silk for the fringe edging, but for the woman who does not care to do this herself there are ready-made sashes in large variety to be had in the ribbon section. They can be had in plain or fancy ribbons, among which the Roman stripes are prominent. The home dressmaker can save $2 or more by buying two yards of ribbon and making fringe herself.

The Lord Changeth Not.

And I will come near to you to judgment; I will be a swift witness against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the Lord of hosts. For I am the Lord, I change not.—Malachi 3: 5, 6.

Prophecy as to Backslider.

Now the spirit speaketh expressly that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith.—I Timothy, 4:1.

"Frosh" Give Party

Last Saturday night the "frosh" gave a party in honor of the sophomores.

The hall was decorated in the sophomore colors, purple and gold, and flowers were in great abundance.

The address of welcome was given by Agnes Chandler. In it the evening was proclaimed as freshman night. First the sophs were effectively "put on the shelf" and after a duet by De Etta Robnett and Grace Pehrsson games were played the rest of the evening. Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, pickles, cake and lemonade.

The freshmen are to be congratulated on the success of their party.

Team work between the public and railroad officials and employes was responsible for the attaining of the car-loading average of 28.3 tons for the month of October by the Southern Pacific. This is the highest average loading in the history of the company and increased the available equipment supply, in comparison with October, 1920, by 755 cars.

Ten were killed and sixty injured in a railroad collision and wreck at Celilo Thursday.

Christmas Gifts SHOULD BE SELECTED NOW

WE will gladly reserve anything you want from our large stock of useful Christmas gifts and deliver them when you want them.

We sell EVERYTHING used to furnish the home at prices that will mean a saving to you.

BARTCHER & RORBAUGH The Albany Furniture Exchange 415-421 West First street, Albany, Ore.

SECOND HAND

2 good sets Heavy Work Harness for sale
1 set heavy Hack Harness
1 set single buggy Harness
1 Clipper Fanning Mill, in first-class shape, for sale. Have you a good milch cow to trade for new machinery?
See me for new farm implements.

G. W. Mornhinweg Implement Store

THE HALSEY STATE BANK HALSEY, OREGON Capital and Surplus $34,000

Interest paid on time certificates of deposit We invite your banking business C. H. KOONTZ, Pres. D. TAYLOR, Vice-Pres. B. M. BOND, Cashier

J. W. MOORE Real Estate and Insurance

Automobile Insurance

Fire, theft, collision, property damage and personal liability. Protect yourself against loss.

C. P. STAFFORD, Agent.

How about your 10-pound lard pails? We have them. Also a stock of Butcher Knives and Food Choppers. Any number of Perfection Corn Poppers at 60 cents. Cross & White

TO REMAKE FROCK

Addition of Cape That Matches Provides Up-to-Dateness

Fabric That Blends May Be Used, Lined With Silk in Shade Like the Dress.

Making over a last-season frock has become a popular experiment with a great many women these days. One of the best possible ways to make a simple one-piece frock of last season's vintage look like one of the 1921-22 models is to equip it with a cape that matches, or at least blends, with the costume well enough to make it seem an actual part of the year-old frock. This may be accomplished in a number of ways. Of course, best of all is the actual matching of the dress fabric and the fashioning of the smart cape to accompany it. If this is not possible, then fabric in some color that blends with the frock may be purchased, and it may be lined with silk in a shade exactly matching the dress.

Stitching a fabric in heavy silk thread or in beads to match the frock it is to accompany is often done, the plain material being transformed into a checkered or striped weave, so far as appearances are concerned. Very fine silk braid is frequently used for this purpose, instead of the silk stitching.

A smart one-piece frock and matching cape is made of light tangerine colored duvetyne or velours. The frock fastens in front, little loops of the fabric serving as buttonholes and the buttons are small bullet-shaped affairs covered with black silk. A silk braid girdle holds the frock in at the waistline. The cape is lined with black crepe de chine and finished with a collar of black crinkly fur. The sleeves are smartly trimmed with bands of fur that extend from the edge of the sleeve half-way to the elbow.

Paris Model in Blue Broadcloth.

CREPE POPULAR WITH FRENCH

Fabric Is in Evidence Everywhere in Paris—Used for Both Day and Evening Wear.

All smart Frenchwomen have now completed their season's wardrobe and the couturiers are specially busy for the moment with their foreign clientele. Crepe de chine is more successful than ever. In the morning in the Bois, in the fashionable tea places which the really smart Frenchwoman frequents more as an onlooker than to dance, in restaurants, theaters, in fact everywhere, one sees crepe de chine.

For day-time wear, it is usually black, and in style, the most successful models are the simple straight chemise line either trimmed with a double fastening effect on each side of the bodice, or sometimes trimmed with plaited flounces; the sleeves are short, and long black gloves are still a much favored accessory for this style of dress.

For evening wear, also, crepe de chine is used but in light shades, of which mauve seems to be the most favored, and the Vionnet models are among the most successful. One of the models designed by this house was made of a narrow white foundation covered by lace and jade chiffon points starting from the waistline and falling a little longer than the foundation.

Children's Styles.

Simplicity is the rule in developing styles for children, whether coats or dresses are under consideration. The sleeveless jumper dress is to be a fall favorite, made of serge, velveteen, tricotine or wool jersey cloth, and worn with either silk or cotton blouse.

Jots and Tittles

(Continued from page 1)

Frost formed in a fog Saturday morning, which is unusual.

The grand jury recommends a new roof for the courthouse.

Only eleven members of the Brownsville Grand Army post survive.

Thursday's rainstorm at Brownsville is declared the worst of the winter.

Carson D. (Pete) Beebe has been indicted for the murder of the Painters.

It is estimated that replacing the roads ruined by the storms will cost the county $50,000.

Dr. Waltz of Brownsville is the new vice-president of the Williamette Valley Medical association.

The white Leghorns of C. B. Chandler of Lebanon were the champion layers in Oregon in October.

Mrs. M. E. Basset got home Monday from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. C. F. Applegate, at Yoncalla.

Miss Geraldine Cook spent the week end with Carrie Gornley at the Gornley home.

Judge Bingham has decided that the municipal budget law does not apply to road districts, thus validating the special road district levies.

Every municipal tax in Linn county will be increased next year over 1921. Halsey's increase, one-tenth of a mill to 8.8, is lowest, Seio is the highest, 43 1/2.

S. E. Cole and C. S. Williams are suing the sheriff for hops which he seized for another man's debt near Brownsville and which they claim are theirs.

The Epworth league held its monthly meeting at the Methodist church Wednesday of last week and after the meeting was over a social time and refreshments were enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Piper of Portland returned home last week after a two-weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Petrick near Halsey. Mr. Piper is a brother of Mrs. Petrick.

There was recently a suggestion that the Brownsville grange surrender its charter, but the members woke up at the hot and a big meeting resulted. There is plenty of work for the grange to do.

Speaking of the special session of the legislature, Assemblyman W. C. Templeton of Brownsville says: "When taxes upon our land becomes rental it is time to call a halt, and that is the condition all up and down this fair state of ours."

While Halsey complained that the wind was rather fresh part of last week it blew forty miles an hour at Astoria and sent a wave up the Columbia that washed out a mile or so of railroad track between that city and Portland. Wind, flood and cold treat Halsey gently.

John Standish has a very interesting collection of European copper coins, Greek, Belgian and others, and one of the old American two-cent pieces. But John's specialty is not philately, numismatics nor any other big item. It's cartooning, and he has produced some fine specimens in this line.

The city of Brownsville gives $35 to the public library, which provides for the insurance. To raise $200 more W. C. Cooley, J. H. Ferrell, A. A. Tussing, E. E. White, W. J. Shelton, C. E. and Wayne Starnard, C. C. Snyder, Harry Thompson and A. S. Hamill have subscribed $5 each and ten more are being sought who will do likewise.

Lucinda, wife of Ira Van Epps of Crawfordville, died in an Albany hospital Sunday. A son four hours old had died the previous day. She left a little daughter at her home. Mr. Van Epps is well known as having operated a factory at Crawfordville where corn raised in the vicinity was made into brooms.

Preston Newton, residing between Halsey and Shedd, was accidentally shot by his brother Ernest. Preston was in the buggy ready to come to the high school social given by the freshmen class to the upper class Saturday night, when the gun in some manner was discharged. The bullet passed along the fleshy part of the arm. The wound would have been more serious but for his heavy clothing.

R. K. Stewart and wife were in