

Jots and Tittles

(Continued from page 3)

Thomas Miller was a Tangent visitor Sunday.

F. W. Robinson was an Albany caller Wednesday.

R. L. Winniford and E. B. Penland were in Albany Tuesday.

The Linn Jersey Cattle club meets at Albany Saturday forenoon.

Mrs. James West is suffering from a severe cold. So are a great many others.

C. P. Stafford and wife spent Sunday at the home of Dr. Barnum in Harrisburg.

C. J. Malone has sued Mabel H for divorce and she has brot a counter suit. Malone is postmaster at Holley.

People are reported moving into Shedd in hope of getting work when the weather settles and road improvements are resumed.

Mrs. Andy Falk of Eugene returned Monday from a visit of a week or two with her sister, Mrs. E. B. McKinney, here.

The county court has been petitioned to appoint C. J. Howe of Brownsville guardian for Frances Brown, a minor.

The W. F. M. S. will meet at the church Friday afternoon at 2:30. Rev. and Mrs. E. P. Parrott will address the meeting. All members and friends are urged to be present.

Mrs. J. S. McMahan returned Tuesday from Portland where she had been for several days in the interest of the Rebekah lodge.

H. L. Straley and family, who have occupied the Miller residence on East First street since the beginning of school, returned to the farm Wednesday and their son Charles and family have taken the residence vacated by them.

Roy Miller, for many years a resident of Halsey, was here visiting his cousin, E. C. Miller, Saturday.

Harry Snoigrass and his ax ought to be in the movies. A few weeks ago he cut his face and knocked out a couple of teeth with an ax he was using and last Saturday he amputated his left little toe in the same way. He has used the ax from head to foot.

Toilet Articles

Hinds' Honey and Almond Cream. All the leading brands of Tooth Pastes.

Cold and Vanishing Creams.

Rubber Goods. 2- and 3-quart fountain syringes and combination syringes and hot water bottles.

Drugs. Camphorated Oil. Oil Encalyptus. Quinine Tablets. Cream of Tartar.

Ringo's Drug Store

FOR SALE

Houses, Acreage and Farms. IDA M. CUMMINGS. 227 W. Fourth St., Albany, Ore.

LONESOME?

MEN, WIDOWS, GIRLS, BACHELORS, MARRY AND BE HAPPY.

We put you in correspondence with hundreds of refined Ladies and Gentlemen in Canada and U. S. who wish to marry, or correspond for a amusement. FREE. Many worth $5000, $10,000 and $25,000. Everything strictly confidential. WE DO NOT PUBLISH YOUR NAME OR ADDRESS. A year's subscription with all privileges $1.00, or four months, trial for 50c. Don't send cash, only Money Orders or 2-cent American stamps. If check, send ten cents extra for exchange.

After this month subscriptions will be $2 per year. Rush and with your name and address for full particulars.

MRS. FLORENCE BELLAIRE, 200 Montague St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Victor Records for March

- 87334—My Am Folk, by Louise Homer
66028—Sweet Peggy O'Neil
74727—Mazarka, by Erika Morini
66027—Bless You, by Frances Alda
66025—Paradise, by Fritz Kreisler
45267—Chimes of Normandy (With Joy My Heart), by Zenato Ranelli
45267—Smile Through Your Tears, by Lambert Murphy
The Hand of You, by Lucy Isabelle Marsh
45265—Washing Baby, by Marie Cahill
Shopping, by Marie Cahill
18854—Ka-Lu-A, by Brown and Shaw
Granny, by Yvette Rugel

DANCE.

- 18850—How Wow Blues fox trot, by Dixieland Jazz Band
Railroad Blues, fox trot, by Benson Orchestra of Chicago
18858—When Shall We Meet Again, medley, waltz, by Hackel-Berge Orchestra
By the Old Ohio Shore, waltz, by Green Bros. Mellorimba Orch.
18851—Smilin', fox trot, by Green Bros. Mellorimba Orch.
Somewhere in Naples, fox trot, by All-star Trio and their Orch.
18857—Wimmin, medley, fox trot, by Club Royal Orchestra
Goodbye Shanghai, fox trot, by Club Royal Orchestra
18649—Dream Kiss, waltz, by Ferera and Franchini
Laughing Rag, by Sam Moore and Holace Davis

Woodworth Drug Company Albany, Oregon

The thirty-seven C. J. Brewer stores have decided to incorporate with a capital of $8,000,000. All the stock has been subscribed by the managers of the several stores, of whom L. B. Self of the Albany store is one.

A stone unknown person placed a large rock on the railroad track near Knox butte and another near Bussard station Thursday. Either rock was large enough to upset a freight car.—Albany Democrat.

Mrs. Henry English entertained for Mrs. F. H. English of Halsey on Saturday, the 18th. The guests indulged in story telling and played games until the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Edna English, served luncheon.—Enterprise Register.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Holgate and Ralph Clem of Lebanon came over Sunday and visited at L. A. McKern's. They brot Edward McKern, who had been at Lebanon about six weeks.

The Seio students took in $125 at a show given for the benefit of their proposed gymnasium.

Mrs. Douglas Taylor, who has been suffering with an abscess in her ear, is better and able to be out.

The county court has decided that Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt of Waterloo is not insane but feebly mentally and physically from old age. A guardian and a caretaker to be appointed for her.

Brownsville has contributed nearly enough to the near-east relief fund to care for six orphans a year and the county, up to Monday, had provided for forty.

Mrs. Ida M. Cummings, the Albany real estate dealer, was in Halsey again Monday with prospective buyers. Her business card appears in another column.

Walter E. Stafford, a breeder of blooded sheep near Eugene, died last Sunday, aged 36. He was a cousin of C. P. Stafford of Halsey. He had been ill and unable to walk for a long time, but attended to all the details of his business closely.

When the present publishers took over the Enterprise plant last August another imposing stone was needed. From time immemorial printers' imposing stones have been of marble, but J. J. Corcoran was called in and made one of cement. He took as much trouble to make that stone perfect as a hen does in scratching for one chicken, and nursed it until it was seasoned for use. It is in use yet, and superior to the old marble stones.

Seven crates of young China pheasants were received at Albany Wednesday by Deputy Warden Hawker and turned loose on the Proprietor's reserve, near Albany, on one north of Seio and near Lebanon. More of the birds are expected.

Men's Dress Shirts

A beautiful selection in Percales and Madras. Also the new Aero and Balloon cloth, made with the new-style stand-up soft collar.

Prices $1.00 to $4.50

The store with a square deal for every customer. THE BLAIN CLOTHING CO. Albany, Oregon

Automobile Insurance. Fire, theft, collision, property damage and personal liability. Protect yourself against loss. C. P. STAFFORD, Agent.

ORPHANS ONLY HOPE

Oregon Teacher Tells of the 110,000 Children in American Orphanages "Over There."

The hope of the entire Near East country, according to Miss Margaret Reid, teacher in Jefferson High School of Portland, who recently returned from a term of service in the Near East Relief orphanages in Russian Armenia, is bound up in the 110,000 orphans being fed, clothed, educated and trained for farming and the industrial trades.

The continuous wars which have swept this unfortunate country since 1914, she says, have left it devastated and its people helpless, starving and in despair before the staggering task of reconstruction.

"They are plodding on as best they can," says Miss Reid, "but are centering all their hopes for the future of the Armenian and Syrian races upon 110,000-children in the American orphanages who are receiving careful American training. Outside the orphanages there is practically no schooling or training to be had. Every effort must be directed towards the difficult objective of mere physical survival. Many 12 year old children can neither read nor write. This is because war has swept that country ever since 1914. These boys and girls are from well-educated families, and realizing how handicapped they are, they come to the orphanages and offer to give up part of their food if they can be given schooling. From the destitute families come mothers in rags and tatters, thin and hollow-eyed from hunger, offering to make any sacrifice if we will only establish schools for their children. * * * In all the orphanages the children are being taught to read, write and figure in their own language. The older and brighter children receive instruction in geography, history and English. Because bread is needed so much more than education, we cannot afford a sufficient number of teachers to teach personally all the children, so our few teachers give their extra time to the bright pupils, who are able, in a short time, to serve as teachers for the others. These children are marvelously industrious. Practically all the work of my orphanage was carried on by the children, who did all the cleaning, sewing, cooking and laundry work, also helping in the hospital work and clinical treatments. They realize that every penny of American money must go for their support and to help other children keep alive, so the boys of our orphanage, when they wanted a swimming pool, dug the hole themselves and then went without supper twice a week for many weeks in order to buy the cement and the labor of the workmen to finish it.

"When the little refugee children come into our orphanages they are always in a most pitiable condition—dirty, covered with vermin, clad only in filthy rags, and many of them afflicted with scabies, trachoma and other diseases resulting from starvation, exposure and lack of care. The first task is to clean the child thoroughly, shave its head, and treat the eyes and scabies sores. Next comes a system of careful feeding, lest the food prove fatal to the famished and emaciated little bodies. In about two weeks the little waifs are able to run about, but it takes a year or more to make them over into normal, wholesome children. Their joy and happiness in the paradise of an American orphanage is the thing that makes it possible for an American worker to endure the sights that must be seen on the outside of the orphanage walls every day. But happy as they are, these little ones never seem to forget the awful things they have been through. We had one little boy named John, four years old, who for weeks after being admitted, would steal the shoes of the other boys, their books, food from the kitchen, everything. This was because the only way he had of keeping alive all his life, had been by stealing. Another boy of six years would sit by the door, for days after he came, with his hands out begging for food, despite the fact that he was receiving three meals a day. It was hard to make him understand that he still did not have to beg for food. A four-year-old boy who had spent the previous winter begging in a ruined village and sleeping at night among the sheep, had a perfect horror of being sent away from the orphanage. One day he recognized two women visitors who came from the ruined village where he had begged when scarcely more than a baby, and he ran to me sobbing and in terror, pleading with me not to let them take him away. The boy who ran my errands was 12 years old, an Armenian. He had seen his entire family killed before his eyes in a Turkish massacre. Hiding among the ruins, he escaped massacre, but next day was found by some Arabs, who took him into the desert and made him their slave for two years. Then he was rescued by the English and brought to our orphanage.

"The personal history of each little orphan is a tragedy in itself and no one but those in close touch with these little ones can know their deep gratitude and reverence for anything American. This gratitude and reverence is universal throughout all that land of sorrow, where the helping hand of America, through the Near East Relief, has saved hundreds of thousands from death by starvation and today offers the only hope for the survival and rehabilitation of these tragically stricken races."

HALSEY RAILROAD TIME

Table with 2 columns: North, South. Times for various routes.

SUNDAY MAIL HOURS

The delivery window of the Halsey postoffice is open Sundays from 9:15 to 9:45 a. m. and 12:20 to 12:35 and 4:45 to 5:00 p. m.

PAID-FOR PARAGRAPHS

Admittance Here 5 Cents a Line

Halsey High Girls' Glee club concert, Rialto hall, March 11.

Barred Rock eggs for hatching, 60 cents per setting of 15. Phone 55 Mrs. S. J. Smith.

"The Man From Lost River"

As the title indicates, it is a story of strong men and their work; of rushing waters, great timber, and ad-shirted lumberjacks. "Lost River" is a place where physical force dominates, and where a man must daily show the power of his muscle to survive. None better suited for this splendid characterization can be conceived of than House Peters, who will be seen in the role of Barnes, the camp foreman, at the Rialto theater Saturday.

Regarding Income Tax

All persons who are liable for an income tax report will be delinquent if return is not made by March 15. A. M. Dalrymple, who left the internal revenue service last December, will be in Halsey at the Halsey hotel on Wednesday, March 8, to make up returns for any who need help. A reasonable fee will be charged. He will have all necessary blanks.

Custom hatching. E. Russ.

For Sale—White Wyandotte cockerels, $2 each. Mary S. Evans, Route 1.

For Sale—Oliver Typewriter No. 9. Two-color ribbon, back spacer, tabulator. $25. C. P. Stafford, Halsey, Ore.

Leave your orders for land-plaster at the lumber yard.

Dr. E. W. Barnum, dentist, at Hotel Halsey every Tuesday and Friday.

George Tetzio of Brownsville came out second best in the boxing match at Corvallis last night.

The lenten season is here. Pass the fish, please!

Mrs. D. F. Dean, wife of the founder of the Enterprise, is expected home next week from a month's visit with relatives at Coquille and Bandon.

Junction City will play Halsey at basket ball on skates at Frum's hall Saturday evening at 7:30 sharp. No delay. The game will be all over before the Rialto show.

Mrs. L. A. Pray's daughter, Mrs. Morrow, has arrived from San Francisco, where her arrival from Honolulu was announced last week. She is quite ill at her mother's, but expects to start for her home in Canada next Sunday.

Summer excursion rates from California, Oregon, Nevada and Arizona to the east are to be granted by the Southern Pacific Company on rates nearly the same as those granted before the war. The tickets will be on sale from June 1 to August 31, with return limit October 31, and will be subject to divers route and stopover privileges.

Twenty-eight brokers have failed in New York since Feb. 1. Does this make the farmers worry?

The estate is paying out the $3,000,000 soldiers' bonus fund.

Between $5 and $6 for every man, woman and child in the United States, or $25 to $30 for each family of five, was spent on public road building and upkeep in 1921.

Tests of floor oils, patented and unpatented, show that the best is simply of one part boiled linseed oil and three parts turpentine.

A princess and a lord or squire or something were married in England this week and much space has been given to the event in newspapers. Who cares?

RIALTO SATURDAY

"The Man from Lost River"

You'll be thrilled at the story, and you'll revel in the magnificent stretches of woodland scenery that form the background for the story. It's a great picture.

Two Reels of Good Comedy

You'll like House Peters as the man