 Miss Lillian Barber took train Monday for Eugene to attend revival meetings.

The White shoe garage announces elsewhere that it has moved from First street, Albany, to Lyons street.

Thomas A. Powell of Halsey died in a hospital at the county seat Tuesday evening. He went there a couple of weeks ago for treatment. He was 69 years old and had lived nearly all his life in Halsey. Mrs. Powell, two brothers in California and a sister whose home is in Seattle survive him. Funeral today at the Smith cemetery.

Mrs. C. M. Muehler (formerly Jean Savage of Halsey) writes from her present home at Chino, Cal.: The paper [Enterprise] certainly has made a big improvement and I enjoy the good stories so much, as well as the Halsey news, as that city was always my home until nearly two years ago. I see some news once in a while about California, but let me tell you it has been far from the land of sunshine this winter and so far we have had only three warm days.

C. J. Shedd of Shedd has been one of the official counters after every election for 26 years.

Frank Walker of Brownsville will have an auction of his household goods and supplies Saturday at 2. He and his wife are going to travel during a well-earned vacation.

The Brownsville creamery has bought the dairy that was Frank Walker's and Coleman Warner's cows, and with its new ice-making machine is making ice cream to sell at whole sale, in addition to its former regular creamery products.

The Nicholi hotel at Newport, which was bought by a Portland Bouiface, is being entirely refurnished and Bartcher & Rohrbach, who advertise the Albany Furniture exchange in these columns have the contract.

Lyle Standish of Portland traded his ranch at Troutdale for a 15-acre tract at Washougal, Wash. He intends to develop the place into a prune orchard. The trade was made the first of the week.

Dennison and Stewart commenced Wednesday evening conducting evangelistic meetings in their tent opposite the Baptist church and will carry on an active program for three or four weeks. They belong to no denomination and preach strictly from the Bible. They wish to announce that they are not connected in any manner with the Mormons, as has been rumored. Services commence at 8 every evening except Saturday and everybody is welcome.

G. T. Kitchen and family, accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Muller, drove to the county seat Saturday.

Mrs. J. W. Rector and grandson Willis returned from Portland Monday after a few days spent at the L. H. Wallace home in that city.

Miss Cleona Smith was home from U. of O. and spent the week end with her father, W. L. Smith.

Mrs. J. W. Drinkard went to Portland today for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Porter and daughter Amy came up from Portland Thursday so they might exercise their right to vote on Friday. They returned to Portland the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Whitaker and James Newman and family of Corvallis spent Sunday at the G. T. Kitchen home northwest of town.

Charles P. Poole and family of Lebanon passed through Halsey Tuesday on their way to the Odd-fellows grand lodge at Eugene.

P. J. Ashton and family of Albany visited at the home of Mrs. Ashton's mother, Mrs. W. W. Bass, Tuesday.

Henry Mitzner and his two sisters, Ida and Amanda, arrived from Paisley, Lake county, Saturday and will spend the summer in Halsey.

Balf Bond has bought thirty goats to eat the thistles off his farm.

Mr and Mrs. O. W. Frum attended the Oddfellows grand lodge at Eugene this week.
