Shedd Shots

(Regular Correspondence)

Mr. B. Crawford went to Eugene Monday to attend the Rebekah convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard of Hood River, on their way to California, spent a day with Mrs. Josling.

Maybelle Jones of Sweet Home, who formally taught in Shedd, came down Tuesday after her piano, that she had left at the Gregory home.

The eighth grade of the Shedd school held graduation exercises Wednesday night. An interesting program was rendered by the pupils who are as follows: Norma Farwell, Dorothy Abraham, Hurley St John, Vernon Acheson, Cecil Elder, Stanley Satchwell, Leland Pennell, Nina Miller, Robert Suiker, Lyle Davis, Raymond Duncan and Myrie Thompson.

The Charles Troutman family spent Sunday at Brownsville.

Howard McElvane drove to Portland after some men to work at the paving plant, which expects to start paving Thursday.

The high school commencement program was given Friday night. The graduates were Merle Pugh, Vera Cornett, Rose Nitzel, Lyman Graves, Arnold Suiker, Agnes Pugh and Dalton Gibbs.

Several carloads of people from Shedd attended the dance at Riverside.

Rex Davis and wife of Albany spent Sunday in Shedd visiting relatives.

The picnic for the jubilee men at Dickson's was attended by a large crowd, estimated at about 800.

Rev. Mr. Moore of Canby filled his son's place in the Methodist pulpit.

Shedd played a ball game with Tangent and won with a score of 16 to 4.

Mrs. Robinson's and Miss Stoddard's rooms had a picnic the last day of school and everyone had a good time.

Mr. Tomlin of Beaverton spent

Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Mrs. W. Y. Shearer.

The highway builders will be ready to spread the hot stuff about June 1.

A Joyous Graduation

Congratulations, flowers, music, dainty dresses, happy smiles—these marked the crowning day of four years' toil and achievement for the class of 1922 of Halsey high school. Patrons and friends of the public school gathered in the Methodist church last night for the commencement exercises, and the flower gardens of the community were stripped of their choicest blooms for those whom the people delight to honor.

To the strains of a march the five girls and three boys of the graduating class, wearing their class flowers, pink and white carnations, filed in and took their places on the platform, which had been tastefully decorated by the juniors. The dresses of the girl graduates were of dainty organdy in rainbow colors, instead of the conventional white.

The assembly united in singing "America," following which Rev. C. T. Cook offered prayer. Clarence Cornelius of the freshman class played a cornet solo, Rubinstein's "Melody in F," accompanied by Miss Nora Pehrsson.

The address of the evening was delivered by Professor Edwin T. Reed of Oregon agricultural college, on the subject, "What is Heroism?"

Miss Donna Robertson of the class of 1921 gave a most pleasing piano solo, "The Nightingale."

Diplomas were presented by Mr. English, principal of the school, to a class of eleven from the eighth grade.

It was deplorable that it cost Mr. Newberry $195,000 to run his election, because $195,000 is a lot of money. Doubtless the fact that Mr. Newberry received a two-year penitentiary sentence for the way he ran his election is also deplorable. Doubtless it is even more deplorable that the people of Michigan had to see $195,000 spent before they understood that they should elect Mr. Newberry.—Albany Democrat.

On the Goldson-Beachly road 18.63 miles is to be macadamized once by A. D. Kearne for $86,850. This is about the first case of the state highway commission building road where it will develop the state.

Grading of 3.46 miles of road from Harrisburg toward Junction City has been contracted for by S. S. Schell of Grants Pass with the state highway commission for $88,987.50, work to begin at once.

For the first time in years the Brownsville pioneer picnic managers have issued a program before the fact.

The city of Brownsville has accepted W. P. Elmore's unimproved lot for the cost of the paving on both lots.

Sweet Home baseballers came over to Brownsville Friday to wal-destroyed together. Ps. 145: 20: The Lord preserveth all them that love Him; but all the wicked will He destroy. Phil. 3: 10: Whose end is destruction. 2 Thes. 1: 9: Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction. 2 Pet. 2: 1: They bring upon themselves swift destruction. Matt. 10: 28: Fear Him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell. Acts 3: 23: And it shall come to pass that every soul which will not hear the Prophet shall be destroyed.

According to the primary definition of the Greek words translated torment, and to torment, in Rev. 14: 10, 11, and Rev. 20: 10, how should these verses read?

Rev. 14: 10, 11: He shall be tested with fire and brimstone. The smoke of their testing ascendeth up forever and ever. Rev. 20: 10: The devil was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone . . . and shall be examined day and night forever and ever. (Compare with Is. 14: 15-20.)

Is Jerusalem with its Gehenna outside its walls a picture of New Jerusalem with its lake of fire outside its walls?

Matt. 5: 84, 85: Swear not by Jerusalem, for it is [types] the City of the great King.

Since Gehenna outside of Jerusalem as the latter's sewage plant destroyed its refuse, what will figurative Gehenna—the second Hell—with its figurative fires outside of New Jerusalem do with its figurative refuse—those unworthy of being in New Jerusalem?

Rev. 22: 15: For without are murderers and idolaters, Matt. 10: 28: Fear Him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell [Gehenna]. It is better for thee to enter into the Kingdom of God with one eye than having two eyes to be cast into hell [Gehenna] fire, where their worm [destruction] dieth not, and their fire [destruction] is not quenched.

Since in the parable of Matt. 25: 31-46 the sheep and the goats are figurative, what should we infer of the parable fire into which they are cast?

Matt. 25: 41, 46: Depart from Me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels; . . . And these shall go away into everlasting punishment; [the Greek here rendered everlasting punishment is kolasis aionion, which means everlasting cutting off. The contrast in the next clause suggests an everlasting cutting off from life, that is everlasting death.] Heb. 2: 14: That through death He might destroy him that hath the power of death that is, the devil. 2 Thes. 1: 9: Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction. Rom. 6: 23: The wages of sin is death.

What are some Old Testament passages that refer to the second Hell?

Ps. 9: 17: The wicked shall be [re]turned [Hebrew, shut, to turn or return] into hell [Sheol]. Prov. 15: 24: The way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell [Sheol] beneath.

Will there ever be a recovery from the destruction of the second Hell?

Job. 7: 9: As the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away, so he that goeth down to Sheol shall come up no more. Prov. 20: 1: He that being often reproved hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.

What symbolic term does the Book of Revelation use for the second Hell? Rev. 19: 20: The beast and the false prophet were cast alive into a lake of fire. Rev. 20: 10, 14: The devil . . . and death and Hades were cast into the lake of fire. What is the Lake of Fire? Rev. 21: 8: The lake which burneth with fire and brimstone . . . is the second death. Rev. 20: 14, 15 (Amer. Rev. Ver.): This is the second death, even the lake of fire. And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.

What do the clear passages teach in the fate of all cast into the lake of fire?

(1) Of the devil, Heb. 2: 14: That through death He might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil.

(2) Of the beast, 2 Thes. 2: 8: Then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord . . . shall destroy with the brightness of His coming.

(3) Of the false prophet, Is. 8: 8, 10, 12: Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces. Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought. Nay ye not, a Confederacy, to all to whom this people shall say, a Confederacy.

(4) Of death, 1 Cor. 15: 26: The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.

(5) Of the first hell, Hon. 18: 14: I will ransom them from the power of Sheol; I will redeem them from Death. O Death, I will be thy plagues. O Sheol, I will be thy destruction!

Farmers' Liability

Under a decision of the Oregon supreme court made in April, 1917, farmers are subject to the operation of the employers' liability act with practically the same effect as any of the most hazardous occupations. It was decided in that case that an injured farm hand had a right of action for damages against his employer, even though there was a contributory negligence on his own part.

The knowledge of this condition has caused many farmers throughout the state to embrace the protection afforded by the Oregon compensation law.

An employer who is operating under the industrial accident commission pays a certain percentage of his payroll into the state fund, his workers each contributing one cent a day to the same fund. When accident happens and a workman is injured he is entitled to medical attention and care, also compensation for loss of time, and in such cases of accident as result in death the widow and children or other dependents receive substantial relief, the widow for all her life unless she remarries, and the children to the age of 16 years. All this is paid from the contributed fund, the beneficiary requiring no lawyers to obtain it and the employer being relieved of legal liability.

Attractive to say the least is the new 1922 booklet "Oregon Outdoors" which describes the scenic features and resorts of western Oregon. The cover design is a work of art in four colors, and features in beautiful shades the intense brightness of the great outdoors and immediately suggests a vacation. It is for free distribution. Copies may be had on request, to agents Southern Pacific lines, or by writing John M. Scott, general passenger agent, Portland.

Brownsville Briefs

(Regular Correspondence)

Editor Enterprise: Will you kindly allow space for correction of the statements in the item last week about the Brownsville "Good Citizenship League"? The League did not "make its first strike in a petition to the school board to forbid dancing" but already had in motion some movements looking to law enforcement and better moral conditions in the community. Principal Baker did not introduce Bible study in the Brownsville schools. Principal Baker did not oppose the petition. The petition was not denied. Fuller explanation can be given on request.

[The item complained of was based on statements made in Brownsville correspondence in Albany papers. The petition in question was assumed to be the "first strike" because it was the first reported in the press. The editor reported Prof. Baker as introducing scripture study in the schools because that was his recollection of what an Enterprise correspondent at Brownsville had written at the time. The term used may have been "sacred history." The report we received stated that the school board did not grant the request though members promised to consider it, as far as convenient, in employing teachers. The Enterprise desires to publish facts only, and its thanks are due to anybody who corrects any misstatement that creeps into its columns.]

Charles Robertson had the misfortune to break a bone just above his ankle in the baseball game with Sweet Home.

The annual junior-senior banquet was held Friday evening in the Masonic hall. The room was beautifully decorated in green and gold, the senior colors. A four-course dinner was served. Carmelita Woodworth was mistress of ceremonies.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. The speaker was Rev. A. M. Williams, D. D., president of Albany college.

A union service of all the churches was held yesterday at the Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Morris gave the address, which was followed by memorial day exercises.

The senior class will hold commencement exercises at the Presbyterian church next Friday night.
