M. C. Bond and Miss Mona Bond were in Lebanon Sunday.

Some children are whooping with whooping cough.

Clarence Williams was at the county seat Monday.

Miss Catherine Arnold of Shedd is visiting her sister, Mrs. Andrew Brown.

A daughter came to the home of Elmer C. Lehr at Shedd last Wednesday.

J. W. Moore and family and Andy Brown and wife were Lebanon visitors Sunday.

Clinton, son of C. W. Standish and wife of Brownville, was over for a cornet lesson yesterday.

Mrs. D. Taylor and son Lawrence, accompanied by Grant Taylor, drove to Portland Monday.

Guy Layton is hovering near death's door from lockjaw which developed from an ulcerated tooth.

Miss Ella C. Meade of Albany has again been re-elected secretary of the state board of optician examiners.

Irene Quimby is enjoying that free scholarship at O. A. C. which she won as a prize in her club work.

J. S. Beene and wife and little son from California have been visiting Beene's brother, W. H. Beene and wife.

Mrs. L. J. Cornelius of Pleasant Hill, mother of A. D. Cornelius, the jeweler, spent the week end with his family.

A corrugated roller ran over Theodore Mitzner's foot Saturday and sent him to a surgeon, but no bones were broken.

A valuable horse belonging to Barney Albers on the Charles Troutman place at Ash Swale fell over a bank into the Calapooia river and drowned the other day.

Archie Cornelius' grandmother, who afterwards became a Bristow, was a pioneer and herself drove a team of oxen over the trail to Oregon when she was but 13 years old. There was energy.

Two hundred tins of adulterated chloroform shipped from Chicago to somebody in Albany were seized in Portland Tuesday by United States authorities.

R. Cornelius, formerly railroad agent here, has been definitely assigned to a similar position at Turner and his family has gone there.

A Washington dispatch states that the appointments of postmasters at Halsey and Shedd have been approved by the committee on post roads and post offices of the senate. Karl Bramwell is one step nearer the goal.

Last Sunday Mrs. Adda Ringo entertained her brother, Robert Kenady, and Miss Lottis Smith of Cottage Grove. Miss Ella Kenady and little nephew, who have been visiting Mrs. Ringo for a couple of weeks, went home with them.

Dr. Marks has been up to more of his tricks this week. He went to Charles Falk's, to George Mogs' of Tangent and to Elmer Lehr's at Shedd and yesterday to Karl Bramwell's, and five babies have been crying at the four places since.

A birthday party was given at the home of R. K. Stewart and wife Tuesday of last week, in honor of Miss Grace Pehrson and Pete Settle. Games were played and ice cream and oake were served. About twenty-eight young people were present.

Misses Marie and Elizabeth Stewart of Portland visited their cousin, Mrs. E. E. Hover, the first of the week. They went to the pioneer picnic also. They went home Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. L. E. Walton.

Douglas Taylor left yesterday noon for Spokane, where he was called by the death of his brother, B. J. Taylor, who has been a resident of that city for many years. Mr. Taylor, who is about sixty-five years old, recently underwent an operation in a Spokane hospital. Douglas was joined by his brother Grant in Portland.

Thomas Glaze of Albany, 79 years old, was found dead Monday in a stable, where he had been attending to some cows. It is believed that he accidentally fell and received fatal injuries.

Robert Andrews of Portland accompanied by Will Johnson and wife, arrived Thursday and spent the day at the pioneer picnic at Brownsville. They came to Halsey in the evening and visited at the home of Frank Kirk until the following day, when they returned to Portland.

lying in the shock a few weeks under the burning sun when the owner can ill afford such a loss.

The Curry home, on the H. C. Davis farm, was a pretty busy place during the week end. Jesse Curry, a son, with his wife and three children arrived from Pasco in the afternoon, and later along came two sons, with the wife of one, and a daughter and her husband, and more children. There were eighteen guests at the hospitable home that night.

Our national birthday approaches and the voice of the firecracker is heard in the land.

Eldon Cross and wife left Wednesday for Hillsboro, Mrs. Cross' home, and Portland. Mrs. G. W. Mornhinweg went with them as far as Newburg, where her son-in-law, Harrison Wallace, lay in danger of death from the accident elsewhere recorded.

J. H. LaRue accompanied Frank Porter in the latter's auto to Portland Friday, coming home on the evening train Monday. He reports enjoying a fine visit with the Porters and others and a ride about the city, which he had not seen for forty-eight years. He visited Everett Standish while there. He calls it a good week end.

The genial Mr. Tohl of the Woodworth drug store, Albany, has been laid up by illness this week.

A daughter arrived to bless the home of Charles Falk Sunday.

We may have a lady barber here yet. Karl Bramwell has been looking for somebody to take charge of his shop when his commission as postmaster arrives, if it ever does, and yesterday morning there arrived at the Bramwell home a young lady weighing seven pounds. Her presence had been provided for by the ladies of the Christian church by a shower of little garments at a gathering at the Ringo home some days ago and Mrs. Bramwell was most pleasantly surprised when the offerings arrived in a handsomely decorated basket.

P. J. Forster has built improvements to his house, reshingling part of it, and painted it all, making it look as attractive as his well-cultivated garden. And he built his own new cement sidewalk.

J. W. Rector is a deserted man, his family having gone to the rose show. With all restraint thus removed there is no knowing what he may do. He has already torn up all the sidewalk on the First street side of his shop. Watch him. He avers an intention to put the walk back with improvements.

JUST A FEW SNAPS TO SNAP

For skating, skiing, tobogganing or hiking where one has no place to change from street clothes, this is a welcome sport suit. With the aid of hooks and snaps the nether garment is easily and quickly converted from skirt to knickers and back again.

WHITE BETTER THAN COLORS

Snowy Fabrics More Economical for Household Purposes—Boiling Keeps Spotless and Sweet.

It is a wise woman who discovers early in her career as a housewife that pure white fabrics are more economical for household purposes than those of colors, notes a writer in the Kansas City Star. Always pure white table cloth, dollies and runners are the best. If they are colored the color fades in time, leaving an unattractive result. Moreover, if they are colored they cannot be boiled, and after all, boiling is the most satisfactory method for keeping cottons or linens spotless and sweet.

Another thing to bear in mind: Colored fabrics sometimes "run" in the washing. This makes it necessary to wash them separately from the white fabrics and this means more work on washday.

It is a good plan to select pure white bath and hand towels. Wash cloths should always be pure white, for wash cloths ought certainly to be boiled quite frequently to keep them sweet and white.

Some women even prefer pure white kitchen aprons. To be sure the old-fashioned, dark checked aprons do not show the soil, but they become soiled just as soon. The pure white apron has the advantage to the scrupulous housewife of showing soil. You can always tell when it should be discarded for a clean one. And the pure white apron can be washed with other white clothes and never takes on that dingy look that comes to colored aprons when they have become faded.

Mothers sometimes regard it as an extravagance to dress children in pure white. But the same advantage that holds in the case of household linens holds in children's clothes. This is especially true in the case of very young children whose clothes must be washed frequently.

MILK SAMPLES FOR TESTING

Only Fair Way Would Be to Make Average of Two to Four Milkings—Cows Will Vary.

A fair sample of milk for a test should be an average of two or four milkings. Cows do not always give milk of the same test. Lots of cows test lower in the morning milking than at night. The only fair way is to make an average and a sample of more than one milking is necessary to get this average test.

The Way to God. Prayer carries us halfway to God, fasting brings us to the door of His palace, and alma-giving procures us admission.—Koran. Charles Hall is still guessing.

High School Consolidation

Harrisburg is commendably ambitious and proposes, if eleven other districts will consolidate with her, to erect a $35,000 high school building. Halsey has been invited to be one of the eleven.

But Halsey, too, is ambitious, and Bert Clark and Henry Zimmerman have been named as members of a committee of three, they to choose the other member, to solicit adherents to a consolidated high school district here at home.

The school budget published recently in the Enterprise was approved at the election Monday. Balf Bond was chosen to succeed himself as clerk and Douglas Taylor to succeed himself as director for the coming three years.

Inez B. Freeland has been chosen as assistant principal for the coming term. Mrs. Freeland was principal at Shedd for several terms and was well liked.

During the Wilson regime, when the president was an autocrat over congress, particularly over the senate, the congress functioned, but during the past year and half * * * there appears to be no mutual vantage point on which all can stand. * * * There are signs that the president sees that he must do something. Unless he uses the whip he will spoil the congressional child.—Albany Herald.

E. J. Zimmerman of Shedd will run for county commissioner on the democratic ticket.

W. H. Beene and wife were at the county seat Tuesday.

George W. West, traveling for the International Harvester company, was in town yesterday and went over to Brownsville this morning. Mr. West is well known in the latter city, having at one time had an implement store in the south end. He called at the Wheeler home and exchanged reminiscences.

To be in keeping with its brightened-up inside, the Hill hardware store has a new coat of white paint outside. Jim McWilliams and Eldon Cross did the job.

Good by, strawberries. Come again! You'll be welcome.

Have you noticed that the days are growing shorter? Well, the almanac says they are.

Chancy Sickles has demonstrated the great increase in production that even open drainage can accomplish on some of these valley lands. He believes that if he had a good outlet he could make the increase much greater by tiling. Not only the farm crops but the wealth of flowers on his place are pronounced good for the eyes.

Halsey was spattered with rain yesterday. A little more, please.

Mrs. A. C. Schmitt and two sons, Lawrence and Rolla, of Albany visited the McWilliams family last Thursday and Friday. They all went to the pioneer picnic Thursday.

Victor Yates of Oakville passed through town Wednesday.

Summer Dougherty of Portland, Asa Dougherty and wife and Mr. Price of Seattle arrived Tuesday for a few weeks' visit with Mrs. S. C. Dougherty of Halsey.

Charles Mornhinweg is caring for the Swift cream station at Shedd while his brother Homer is on a mysterious trip northward. Rumors fly about that Homer will have a partner from Tacoma with him when he returns and the boys have their eyes on tin horns and pans and cowbells, so they can find them quickly when needed for a sweet serenade.

Saturday Deputy Sheriff Walton found that the description of a "track walker" who had passed south through Halsey on the Southern Pacific tallied with that of the fellow who on the previous day had robbed the Aurora bank of $1155, but no arrests have yet been reported.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson, of Brownsville, with their daughter, Mrs. Clara McCoy of Corvallis, were in Halsey for a short time Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Barnum returned Tuesday from a few days' trip to Portland. While gone their children, Jean and Bobby, were at the C. F. Stafford home.

"Foolish Wives," the Universal super-picture, which will occupy the screen of the Rialto theater tomorrow night, is unique in that the hero of the film also is the villain. Erich von Stroheim, the author and director of the picture, in addition plays the principal role, that of a renegade Russian count, who victimizes the wife of an American envoy to the principality of Monaco. The count pursues a villainous way across the screen until he meets his deserts in the final reel.

Dr. Royal J. Gick, optometrist, of Eugene, will be at the hotel in Halsey on June 25, 1 to 5 p. m., to fit glasses. Quality and service guaranteed. Prices reasonable.

Dr. E. W. Barnum, dentist, at Hotel Halsey every Tuesday and Friday.

An Old Timer Visits Halsey

N. B. Sutton and wife and son, Frederick, of Wenatchee, Wash., visited Mrs. Sutton's mother, Mrs. Brandon, in Halsey last week.

Mr. Sutton came to Halsey thirty-three years ago and left Linn county seventeen years ago for Harney Valley, remaining there two and half years, and moved to Wenatchee and there engaged in fruit growing.

He says the orchards look a great deal different here from those in the Wenatchee district. He says they can raise as good fruit here in certain districts as they do there if the same time were spent on the orchards here as there, where care and fertilizers of the right kind are used.

Mr. Sutton attended the pioneer picnic thirty-three years ago. He spent one day there this time and saw many of his old-time friends and found many had gone in the last seventeen years.

Mr. Sutton and family left last Friday for home, expecting to drive there in three days, but to spend some time with Mrs. Sutton's sister, Mrs. G. C. Osborn, and brother, H. F. Brandon, in Portland.

Charles Arnold was elected school director and Miss Lucille Shedd was re-elected clerk at Shedd Monday.
