Brownsville Briefs

(By Carmelita Woodworth)

M. S. Woodworth and daughters Elaine and Carmelita and Misses Irene and Gretia Harrison left last Monday for an extended trip through Oregon. They contemplate stopping at McMinnville, Portland, Columbia City and Newport.

A Baptist Sunday school picnic was held in the park Sunday. All report a very entertaining time.

Mr. and Mrs. Blain and son are surgical patients at the Corvallis hospital this week.

Mrs. Charles Howe and daughter Emma are spending two weeks at Newport.

Mrs. Hazel Moyer was here from Creswell last Friday.

Cecil Harrison was in Albany and Corvallis Monday.

Potter Points

Thrashing is getting along well.

Harry Porter took a carload of cattle to Portland Tuesday.

Nate Smith has been up to his old home place and will move back October 1.

W. A. Cummings and wife spent Sunday at the C. C. Cameron home in Albany.

One-fourth of the timber of the United States is in the northwest and more in Oregon than in any other state and more in Lane than in any other county in Oregon.

Saturday afternoon fire destroyed at the U. of O. at Eugene the brick art building and the frame building of the department of physical education with nearly all their contents, and practically ruined the journalism building, the contents of which were saved. The roofs of several other structures were damaged. Loss $80,000.

A bundle wagon driven by Dale Lamar near Shedd, with Misses Myrtle and Katherine Pugh and Grace Satchwell in it, overturned and the only harm done was the spraining of Katherine's ankle.

New Concrete Garage

Mr. Ganzel, who was expected to build a concrete garage on Second street, back of the McCully building, has been considering other Second-street locations, one of which he is expected to take if the title proves satisfactory.

The latest information is that through W. J. Ribelin Mr. Ganzel has practically closed a deal for the property on the southwest corner of Second and H. streets, where Postmaster Bramwell resides. He will probably move the dwelling back and build the garage on Second street.

Soldiers' Compensation

Miss Edith Forrest, Red Cross nurse, was in town Thursday and announced that any ex-service man will be assisted in making out his application for disability compensation or for medical treatment if he will call on her at 217 Lyon street, Albany, or that she will bring the blanks and call on him for that purpose at his home on request.

Applications must be filed by Aug. 9—next Wednesday—and as a doctor's examination and certificate must be had first there is no time to lose.

Donations of all kinds, especially men's, women's and children's clothing, new or not so worn as to be unserviceable, will be thankfully received at Red Cross headquarters, 217 Lyon street, Albany, the proceeds to be devoted to the relief of ex-service men and civilians who are in need.

The slogan of the society is "Give what you don't need; buy what you do need."

Jesse Tucker is patents and manufacturer of a spoke tightening device. His factory is in California. His father, R. Tucker, travels in the interest of the factory. He entered Vick Bros.' garage in Albany the other day and was told the device was carried in stock there already. When shown where the articles were stored he said: "That is the exact spot where my son, inventor of the device, was born thirty years ago."

The editor received a visit a week ago Saturday from his son Marion and wife and a 3-year old grandson. They came in their machine from their home at Greenleaf and were nearly all day doing to, being held up at Junction City by word that they could not cross the ferry at Harrisburg. They made their way to Irish Bend to cross the river and lost much time finding their way to Halsey. Here they learned by phone that the Harrisburg ferry, though declining heavy truck business, would have put them across and they went home that way. O for a bridge across the raging Willamette!

Short Stories of Happenings in Linn County Generally and in Halsey Particularly

Mrs. R. B. Mayberry visited Albany Monday.

Bert Clark went to the county seat Monday.

Charles Arnold and son Karl were week-end visitors.

Albany has an automobile delivery of the parcel post.

Andrew Brown is working for the Southern Pacific at Ashland.

Dan Gaylord, 25, perished Sunday in McDowell creek, near Waterloo. It is thought heart failure caused him to drown while bathing.

L. C. Lillis and wife and son, who have been on a farm near Brownsville, went to Bend Monday to reside.

T. J. Conkright of Woodburn was here over the week end but had business to attend to that prevented him from visiting friends he would have liked to call upon.

Mrs. Robert Crittenden visited at the F. O. Salmon home Sunday.

Mrs. William Davidson and sister, Mrs. Johnnie Porter of Los Angeles, Mr. Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Clint Morse of Brownsville attended the reunion of the Morris family at Harrisburg Sunday.

Mrs. Davidson before her marriage was a Morris, being a daughter of George Morris, Linn county pioneer. Mrs. Porter was visiting here at the time of the reunion.—Brownsville cor. Albany Democrat.

The state highway inspector condemned the sand which was being used in the concrete on the Halsey-Harrisburg road and the mixer was shut down Saturday forenoon. The sand was of the same kind which he accepted when the paving commenced. A car of sand of better quality was ordered from Eugene Saturday noon.

F. E. Roberts and wife and child of Seattle arrived for an indefinite visit at the home of Mrs. Roberts' parents, P. J. Forster and wife.

Raymond Southern and mother went to Bend Thursday for an indefinite visit their sister and daughter, Mrs. J. W. Clark, and they also will visit Willis Southern near Lapine. Raymond is a chemist in the laboratories of the Standard Oil company in California and came home last week on a vacation.

Alec Powers came over here with Charles Poole on a visit with old friends Saturday. He reports that Mrs. Booth, sister of Mrs. D. H. Sturtevant, is very low in health. Mr. Powers, who has been in very poor health for the past sixteen months, is feeling much better.

The seed wheat certified on several farms at Shedd the other day is a new variety which E. Zimmerman of that place developed from a large-kerneled head his children found some years ago in a field of vetch.

The $1000 fountain on Main street, Brownsville, presented by Lieutenant Raymond E. Templeton of that city, who lost his life in an airplane accident in Michigan in the government service, was solemnly dedicated Saturday in presence of a great gathering.

The R. B. Mayberry family migrated to Eugene yesterday. Monday evening Miss Cecile's mates in the intermediate league gave her a good-by party on the Methodist church lawn, in which many of their elders participated, and a merry time was enjoyed. Cookies, sandwiches and punch were consumed in quantity. A postcard album was given her as a token of remembrance. Mrs. G. W. Mornhinweg presided.

Mr. Dawson, proprietor of the Brownsville bakery, was in Halsey Monday. The quality of Dawson's unexcelled bread, cake, etc., has made that establishment famous. Mr. Anensen, whom Dawson brought from Portland, was an expert, but when he left Dawson took charge of the ovens and apparatus in person and proved himself a top-notch. Anensen is now running a bakery in Lebanon and it is a success.

Mamie Robertson, Mrs. M. E. Bassett's granddaughter, who has been visiting here for some time, has gone to Portland for a few days.

About 400 attended the telephone picnic at Kiger's island and the general good time usually had at this annual event was enjoyed.

Miss Josie Munkers of Brownsville came in on Saturday night's train on her way home.

Hurley Wallace and wife arrived Saturday night for an indefinite visit at the J. W. Rector home. Their daughter Grace has been visiting here for some time.

The fellow who can read Eleanor H. Porter's story in this week's paper without emotion is hard boiled.

In making repairs on his place Sidney Smith last week overturned some brooding boxes and forgot to replace them. As a result some five Plymouth rock chicks that had been using them went in with other chicks, overcrowding, and nineteen of them perished.

Mrs. Margaret Stinson of Norton, Wash., is at the home of her parents, J. C. Curry and wife, for her annual vacation of a few weeks. She and Mrs. Curry visited Junction City Sunday.

Frank Albro of Burlingame, Cal., brother-in-law of Ella C. Meade, the Albany optician, and father of Harold Albro, manufacturing optician in her establishment, died at his home Saturday.

K. K. K. Defeated

In the recall election in Jackson county Saturday the attempt of the K. K. K. to head off Olcott's prosecution of hooded lynchers by the recall of the sheriff who was trying to enforce the law was a failure.

At Ashland and Central Point D. M. Lowe, the klan candidate, had big majorities, but he was badly beaten in the county as a whole and C. E. Terrill remains sheriff.

In the grand jury investigation of outrages in that county and in the recall campaign it developed that klansmen are taught that they may deny, under oath or otherwise, that they are members, justifying themselves by the claim that they are members, only when participating in a meeting of the klan.

It also developed at the grand jury meeting that some of them are very nimble at evading subpoenas when the law reaches out for them.

Brownsville Grange Notes

The Linn and Benton Counties district Pomona met at Brownsville Saturday, July 29, in the W. O. W. hall.

About 50 persons enjoyed the splendid dinner, which was served cafeteria style on the picnic grounds at noon. After dinner eight candidates were initiated in the Pomona degree. The work was done in a very pleasing manner and was enjoyed by all present.

Lecturer's hour was occupied by music and readings.

The discussion of suppressing national patriotism in our school history textbooks by substituting English propaganda was well brought out by different speakers.

An invitation was accepted that the Pomona grange hold its next meeting at grange hall No. 10, west of the county seat, September 30, after which the meeting adjourned. Grange Reporter.

Shedd Shots

(By Anna Peunell)

Mrs. Fay Duncan and family of Albany visited relatives in and about Shedd last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster, who lived in Shedd, have moved back to Portland.

Miss Vera Cornett left last week for Monmouth. She expects to go to Portland.

Miss Margaret Forbes, Portland, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jack Cornett.

Harry Sprenger and wife and Mrs. Emma Arnold went to Salem Saturday.

John Robson and wife and daughter of Albany visited their son and his wife last Sunday.

Mrs. J. M. McCumbers is in Corvallis having her throat treated.

C. Thompson and wife returned Sunday from eastern Oregon, where they have been visiting.

Mrs. Agnes Clark went to Eugene one day last week.

Lyle Pennell, while working at the rock plant, got hit with a cable, which hurt his leg.

Raymond Shedd came home from summer school Friday.

If the prices the farmer receives for the important crops about to be harvested cover the cost of production, allow the farmer $10 a week for his own labor and five per cent on his invested capital, you and I need not worry. We'll be steadily employed making or doing things for the farmer, who constitutes forty per cent of the population and who for forty years has worked for nothing a week, donating the use of his capital in order to retain his job.—Sunset Magazine for August.
