Brownsville Briefs

(By Elaine Woodworth)

Amos Simon has a new coat of paint on his house.

John Blain and family are moving to the Cecil Harrison chicken ranch for the winter.

Miss Irene McDaniels of Portland is visiting her friends, Misses Gretia and Irene Harrison.

The Howe garage has been nearly completed and Howe Bros. are to move in the 1st of September.

Clifford Harold of Albany was here Friday and Saturday demonstrating a 1923 model Buick touring and sport car.

Mrs. Carp Hale and daughter Helen have returned from a few days' visit to Oregon City, where they have been visiting Mrs. Hale's son, George Hale, and family.

Cecil Harrison, Tom Harrison, Frank Darling and M. S. Woodworth are off for a motor trip through California and southern Oregon for a couple of weeks.

Mr. Baker has been elected temporary president of Albany college. He had been elected as vice-president, but at a recent meeting the board gave him the new position.

Jim Yokum and wife, who accompanied Fred Harrison and wife to Riddle, decided to remain there indefinitely. Mr. Harrison reported bumper crops of melons, tomatoes and peaches. He said that prices were very low and one-half to two-thirds cheaper than here. Muskmelons are 80¢ a dozen, peaches $1 a bushel and tomatoes 40¢ a bushel. Such a good report resulted in Mr. Eggleston and Nelson Crume planning going there and bringing back truckloads of those products.

Senator McNary has an amendment tacked to the bonus bill which calls for the expenditure ultimately of $300,000,000 in reclamation of desert and overflowed land, without interfering with the present reclamation acts.

Last year 50,000 deer and several men were killed by hunters in Oregon.

Calapooia Grange

The grange met in a special called meeting Saturday evening, August 26.

The charter was draped in memory of Brother T. C. Davidson, using the new ritualistic ceremony.

Business letters from the United States Cream Separator company and the Odell Paint company were read and discussed, special discounts being offered to grangers.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler withdrew from our grange as they cannot attend our meetings. We regret giving them up very much.

A light lunch was served after the meeting and all enjoyed the social hour. Another special meeting was called for Saturday, September 23, at 7:30.

NEWFOUNDLAND WATER POWER

A total of 235,000 horsepower is estimated as the probable output of a project which comes from a rather surprising locality. The development is to be undertaken of the Humber valley, Newfoundland, with the expenditure of $7,000,000 within the next two years. The power project is tied up with logging and other operations in a way which will involve the permanent employment of 1,500 men in the works and 2,000 more in the woods. The paper resources of the island will be very largely expanded by the new development, which is actually under contract at the present writing.—Scientific American.

Short Stories of Happenings in Linn County Generally and in Halsey Particularly

Miss Delma Wahl went to Portland Monday.

Mrs. G. W. Porter visited the county seat Monday.

Harrisburg Chautauqua guarantors are wrestling with a $190 deficit on last year's course.

The largest deer yet brought into Albany came from the Siuslaw and dressed 135 pounds.

Twenty-one people witnessed the poultry calling demonstration at Ralph Dannen's, Shedd, Monday.

Mrs. A. S. Gruett of Corvallis went home Monday after a visit of several days with Mrs. Fox, Mrs. McNeil and Mrs. Palmer.

Douglas Taylor, F. M. Gray and W. F. White are the appraisers of the estate of John T. McNeil and N. G. McNeil administrator.

Grain has been coming to the warehouses at a wonderful rate the past few days in anticipation of the rain which came yesterday.

Delos Clark, Glenn Frum, Alberta Koontz and Geraldine Cook attended the open-air band concert at the county seat Tuesday evening.

R. W. Kessell has bought the moving picture business at Junction City. He and his wife will run shows four nights a week at Junction, two nights at Harrisburg and one night at Halsey, and perhaps have all other evenings for play.

Gertrude Boggie, 26, of Shedd has been sent to the state hospital at Salem. It is claimed that her husband had been cruel, often striking her and mistreating her, thus contributing materially to her condition.

It is announced that W. C. Templeton of Brownsville will be a candidate for sheriff this fall, running as an independent because the primary law bars him from running as a republican if not nominated at the republican primaries. Mr. Dunlap, who succeeded the slain Sheriff Kendall, has not stated whether he will be a candidate or not. Either of these men, on his record to date, would have the endorsement of the Enterprise.

Last Monday an Enterprise representative enjoyed a spin in a new Oldsmobile car which Morton & Dotson, the Albany dealers, were testing out. These are carriages de luxe. From the beautiful and durable leather of the upholstery to the last inch of the glossy jet finish every part engenders a sense of elegance and the quiet power with which the mechanism responds to the slightest touch of the chauffeur and speeds up, slows down, backs or turns about leaves old faithful but obsolete Dobbin far in the shade.

Mrs. E. B. Penland was among the Halseyites seen on the streets at the county seat Monday.

Bob Miller was in Albany Monday and met his wife on her return from a visit of a few days in Portland.

Road work on Shea bill, between Foster and Cascadia, employs forty men and will probably last all winter.

Mrs. Riley Logan left Sunday for a three-weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. James Newman, who lives thirteen miles from Corvallis.

Mrs. George Taylor spent several days at Portland with her nephew, Everett Standish, who is a patient at the Pierce Sanatorium. She returned Friday.

The Lebanon Big Brother farm had 12 boys nine years ago. This year it cared for 125. The boys have gone from the farm for this, the ninth, season.

The general success of the fall-sown grain over that sown in the spring induces the farmer to get in as much this fall as possible. Some are beginning to turn the ground.—Harrisburg Bulletin.

All the boys' and girls' clubs in the county are invited to a picnic near the Thomas schoolhouse in the Scio community Saturday. Among other entertainment features there will probably be a baseball game between Scio and Shedd.

The first deer reported at Harrisburg came from the Lake Creek country, to reach which by the new low pass highway from Junction City one must go over a bad handslide which the Lane county authorities seem in no hurry to clear away.

There was again a full house at the Rialto Friday evening to greet the "The Mysterious Rider," and the general verdict was that it was one of the best plays of the year. The comedy, too, which the Enterprise had announced as unusual, made many laugh till they cried.

We have received the program of the Calapooia Valley fair, which will be at the Claploia metropolis September 15 and 16. There will be no "agricultural hoas trot" and therefore no betting on horse races, but cash first prize prizes and ribbons for second will be awarded to horses and cattle in a number of classes and to sheep, goats, swine, poultry, grain, vegetables, preserves and jams and ladies' textile work. A first of $1 and second of 50 cents will go for free-for-all fifty-yard dash, boys' fifty-yard dash, girls' race, fat men's race, ladies' race, women's nail driving contest, cracker-eating contest, egg and spoon race and sack race, and $5 for horseshoe pitching.

His Sufferings Ended

William Harrison McMahan died early Tuesday morning at his home in this city, aged 61, after suffering for several years with cancer.

Mr. McMahan was born on his father's farm near Halsey. About a dozen years ago he left the farm, which is now conducted by his only child, James McMahan, for whose education the family lived for several years at Corvallis. Since then the deceased has occupied a fine residence in Halsey. His widow survives him.

Rev. C. T. Cook preached the funeral sermon yesterday afternoon at the Pine Grove church and interment was in the cemetery nearby, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows, of which order the deceased had been a member for a quarter of a century.

The attendance at these last rites was large and the floral offerings were in profusion.

The Best None Too Good

On Monday A. C. Armstrong took a little twenty-mile hike, in addition to the walk from his farm to town, to the county seat, to which was added perhaps miles of side-stepping, for he drove before him five registered Jersey cows which he had sold to Clarence Wild of Corvallis. Mr. Wild met him at the end of the jaunt and took the animals to their new home and Armstrong was content to make the return trip as far as Halsey reposing on the upholstery of the Southern Pacific.

Mr. Armstrong has faith in the register of the A. J. C. club as a prize booster. In this case, while cows perhaps their equals in production efficiency are selling around $40 or $60 apiece, he got a straight $100 per head for the lot, and they were not the pick of his herd.

He says a grade cow may equal the registered animal in yield of butter fat, but the extra price which the registered calves will bring, as well as the extra value in their mother, should be chosen to sell her, much more than compensates for the cost of starting the herd with registered animals instead of with grades whose progeny can never get into the record.

Howard a fight was it to get high protection, for any commodity from soap to nuts, in the highest tariff bill ever known? Nothing was left out, if any senator wanted it protected, and paid for it by delivering his vote for the completed bill.—Oregonian.

All political parties are now in practice for protection, and free trade and tariff for revenue as democratic doctrines are ignored and forgotten.—Portland Oregonian.

Shedd Shots

(By Anna Pennell)

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Troutman spent Sunday in Holley.

Rev. Mr. Reid plans moving to Tacoma in about two weeks.

Alvan Leach and Mrs. Matt Morgan were married Saturday.

Margaret Coates spent a few days with her grandparents, L. O. Coates, here.

Mrs. Grover Barnes and daughter Marie of Jefferson spent Wednesday in Shedd.

Mrs. L. C. Pennell and daughter Laura of Canby drove to Shedd Sunday to visit relatives.

Harry Campbell, who has been cooking for the A. D. Kern rock crusher, left Tuesday for Seattle.

Pete Freerkson and wife and daughter Frances and Anna Pennell spent the week end at Cascadia.

Mr. Widdows and family of Barlow motored to Shedd Sunday to visit their son, Abe Widdows, who is working at Saddle Butte.

Cat Fight and Harmony

When the Steinhauers of Greenleaf took their grandparents for a ride Thursday evening they went over to Brownsville, where the newspaper people were greeted by many friends.

The Steinhauers had never seen nor heard a radio outfit, and they visited Stevenson's drug store, where there is one. Mr. Stevenson sells radio appliances and a customer (Kenneth Stone, the Halsey radio man) had bought a part which Mr. Stevenson had taken off his own outfit, so that it was out of commission until a new one could arrive.

But Harold is nothing if not accommodating in disposition, and he at once called up Dr. Shelton at his eyrie on the hill and in person piloted the party thither.

The genial doctor tuned up his apparatus and everybody in the room enjoyed a treat, including a fine concert from Los Angeles.

By the way, if you want to hear an ideal cat fight, as staged by a full chorus of robust felines, put on a headpiece and listen in while a radio outfit is being tuned up. There are howls and yowls and screeches and splittings and splutterings to beat the (cat) band until the tuning hits the right wave length, and then suddenly all is delightful harmony, as restful as a perfect calm after a hurricane.

D. Wesley was a visitor at the county seat Monday.

They Are Here

Beautiful new garments for fall are here in large numbers, and more are arriving daily. We are sure you will be delighted with the new styles.

Our Fall Hats are now on display. These hats were purchased in Chicago and New York by our own buyers. An early selection is always desirable.

Coats You really must see these new coats. We have them for every occasion: Plain tailored; also the lovely coats for dress wear. The prices are much lower than in the past season.

Blouses We have a fine lot of new blouses and waists. Some are plain tailored. Others are elaborately beaded. All the new shades. Priced from $4.48 to $17.95

Furs New fur neck pieces have arrived. A fur neck piece with your suit adds distinction.

NO HUMMING BIRD

Tommy—Nurse, baby is nearly unconscious, ain't she?
Nurse—Yes.
Tommy—Well, don't sing to her any more or you'll kill her.

The steamer Itala sank near Coquimbo, Chili, probably through striking a rock, Tuesday, and all the 240 people on board were drowned.

The Washington coal miners are back at work, having lost their strike.
