

The Background of Good Scholarship

Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen

W. A. RINGO, DRUGGIST

Jots and Tittles

Justice Victor Olliver of Albany has been appointed commissioner of the United States district court for Oregon.

The J. W. Sprenger farm at Shedd has been rented to T. B. Sprenger jr. and the owner and his wife are going to North Bend.

George Maxwell and wife have gone to Newport for a few weeks' stay.

The southern road from Brownsville to the Pacific highway has been rocked and the other, which comes to Halsey, will now receive attention.

Linn county was one of ten which won $100 each at the state fair in the boys' and girls' club competition.

Mrs. Belvay Logan returned Tuesday from her three-weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. Newland, near Corvallis.

The second half of taxes not paid today will be delinquent.

Reuben Jackson and family arrived at Halsey from Alplia, Mich., Monday night. Mrs. Jackson is Mrs. Arthur Foote's sister and the party are at the Foote home. All hands visited Brownsville yesterday. The newcomers are looking for a location for a home in this vicinity.

Those who have expressed the opinion that the last two shows here charged too much ought to be satisfied with Mr. Kossell's offer for tonight—30 cents and students free, and that for such a treat as he offers.

The second half of the Southern Pacific's county tax was $28,555.

There'll be a full house at the Rialto tomorrow night. All school students are invited to attend free.

A. J. Hill has been enjoying a visit from his sister and her husband, S. P. Fuller and wife of Visalia, Cal. The couple are talented musicians and sang at the M. E. church Sunday. They have a daughter who, though greatly afflicted physically, is the author of many songs and hymns.

Raleigh Templeton got about all the prizes on Cheviot sheep at the state fair.

It is not often that eleven brothers and sisters in a family get together after some of them are over seventy years old, as the Davis family did in Halsey Sunday.

C. C. Jackson was at the county fair the first day.

Frank Porter's red polled cattle are at the fair. So are C. B. Corbett's Durhams and Holsteins shown by George McCort of Harrisburg and C. R. Evans.

The valuation of personal property in the county is more than $300,000 less than last year. The greater part of the decline is in prices of livestock.

A. A. Morrill and wife and granddaughter, Mildred Tirke, are visiting with Eldon Cross and wife. Mrs. Cross is a daughter of the Morrills.—Cor. Albany Herald.

As we go to press the management of the county fair faces a financial failure. Of course it was not advertised in that great newspaper, the Halsey Enterprise.

Mrs. Portia Stewart, late of the Stewart & Price confectionery, and Charles Butler of Lebanon are licensed and probably wed by now. Good luck to them!

Mrs. Mildred McMahan is to meet representatives of twelve Lane county Rebekah lodges in convention at Eugene Oct. 26.

Tackle for fishing for sharks that a Florida man has invented is featured by a float to be filled with animal blood, which slowly exudes to attract the savage fish.

HAD USE FOR THUNDER

Thunderstorms have been rather frequent here this summer.

During one particularly severe storm, while the thunder was rolling, Jimmy, eight years old, became rather annoying to his four-year-old brother.

An unusually loud clap finally drove Jimmy away from teasing Bill.

"What is the thunder for?" asked the four-year-old.

The father, thinking to drive home a lesson in conduct, said: "It is to make bad boys be good."

Jimmy looked properly squelched.

Then the storm cleared up. Small Bill, formerly much subdued, got his courage back, and began to tease the penitent James.

At last the older boy could stand the annoyance no longer. He walked over to the window.

"Lord, send some more thunder," he said, earnestly.—Washington Star.

HARD OF HEARING

A farmer's wife had given a party. During the night two farmhands who lived in the house grew hungry for the good things in the pantry. Rising from bed, they crept downstairs, but unfortunately the mistress heard them. One heard her coming and escaped; the other was caught.

Afterward the more fortunate one remarked to the unlucky one: "Didn't you 'ear 'er comin', Bill?" "Oow could I?" he replied, "with me mouth full of meat!"—Judge.

SCENTED CHEESE

A short time before the war the Germans on the occasion of the Oberammergau festivals placed on the market a perfumed cheese, to which they gave an immense amount of publicity. This cheese was easily manufactured; fresh little curds were mingled with dried flowers and finely chopped aromatic herbs. The name with which the cheese was labeled constituted its sole originality. "Oberammergauer Passions fest-spielalpenkrauter klosterdelicats-fruhstueckskaese." Which meant: Cloister cheese, delicate breakfast, made of herbs of the Alps, for the festivals of the Oberammergau Passion play performances.

POLAND TO EXPORT EGGS

Poland will have available for export from 700 to 1,000 carloads of eggs annually, according to recent calculations based on the potential egg production of the nation, says the Poland Magazine. It is estimated that the annual production is approximately 2,000,000,000 eggs, or 15,000 carloads. At a recent conference in Cracow the continued control of the egg export trade was favored, since otherwise the low rate of Polish exchange would tend toward the exporting of too great a proportion of the nation's egg supply. At the present rate of exchange it is about 1 cent an egg.
