

HALSEY ENTERPRISE

VOL. XI HALSEY, LINN COUNTY, OREGON, THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1923 NO. 50

JOTS AND TITLES

Brief Chronicles of Happenings in Halsey and All Over Linn County.

Mrs. Harry Commons is ill with a severe cold.

Hay baling time is here and there never was more hay to bale.

Prof. English's mother and sister Edna, from Eugene, were here over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stevenson are visiting their son Glenn and family in Portland.

Rev. C. T. Cook and D. S. McWilliams and their wives were Corvallis visitors Sunday evening.

Word has been received that Joe Culp, who has been ill for some time, is in Portland taking treatment from a specialist.

Mrs. W. H. Green and daughter Charlotte of Pasadena, Cal., are expected to arrive Saturday to spend the summer with their daughter and sister, Mrs. W. F. English.

One Albany paper says the people of Albany have the habit of looking to it for the news. The other says this is "pure bunk." Of course it is. The Halsey Enterprise is the place to look for the news.

E. H. Margason, near Shedd, found a stone in his pasture, diamond shaped and weighing 700 pounds, with "1841" chiseled on it, and wants to know "who from that brick?"

The jury list was exhausted in the murder case at Albany and Monday additional names of 56 men and 19 women were drawn, among them Lena Shorey, Holley; Martha E. Abraham, Shedd; Viola Belle Gardner, Halsey; E. R. Groshong, Holley; George W. Laubner, Halsey; D. C. McClure, Tangent; Ralph Robnett, Holley; and F. M. Tindle, William Allingham and Clifford L. Carey, Brownsville.

Union Point, Crawfordville and Brush Creek Sunday schools had their first group meeting Sunday near Crawfordville and want to make it an annual event. There was an interesting program and a good feed.

Mrs. Pearl True underwent a surgical operation at Corvallis Thursday.

Karl Bramwell's mother, Mrs. Mae Miller of Eugene, visited the Bramwell family Thursday.

Mrs. M. M. Ward of Brownsville visited at the Karl Bramwell home from Thursday until Saturday.

Mrs. Karl Bramwell and children returned Saturday from a visit to Eugene.

Mrs. O. M. Miller and son Dale of Cottage Grove were Halsey business visitors the last of the week.

Mrs. H. M. Miller is recovering from the effects of the fall she suffered last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Beene and son Allen drove to Oregon City Friday evening for a visit with Mrs. Beene's brother, Ben Allen.

Mrs. W. N. Damon of Brownsville returned Friday from Ferndale, Cal., and was met here by her people.

Mrs. L. H. Armstrong and daughter Hazel were in Albany Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Willbanks spent Sunday afternoon at the A. C. Armstrong home.

Mr. and Mrs. Shebeck of Mt. Angel visited their cousin, Harry Commons, Tuesday. So did Mr. and Mrs. Commons of Salem, who remained over for a longer visit.

J. W. Rector and grandson James and Redmond Pearl and Frank and Martin Kootz, who have been rusticated on the banks of the Calapoois, several miles above Holley, for the past two weeks, returned home Monday evening. C. H. Kootz drove up after them.

G. T. Kitchen was called to Portland Thursday by the serious illness of his father, J. M. Kitchen, who had suffered from paralysis for some time. The old gentleman died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock. The funeral will be at Eugene tomorrow afternoon. The deceased came to Linn county when he was 18 years old. He married Martha Rodgers, who died in 1914. They lived for some years on the Rodgers donation claim. At one time he conducted a mercantile business at Irving. His daughter, Mrs. J. J. Robinson of Portland, and the son mentioned above survive him.

Brownsville Briefs

(By Ralph Lawrence)

Rev. Mr. Cline preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning. Next Sunday Rev. Mr. Millikan is to preach. Mr. Cline and family go from here to Columbia City to the Baptist convention, which begins July 25, continuing ten days. Mrs. C. J. Howe and daughter, Emma, expect to take in the convention.

Dr. Garnjost departed Sunday for Seattle to take a ten days lecture course in post graduate work.

George Crume and wife from Scio spent Sunday with Mr. Crume's parents.

Clara Hasset of Lebanon spent Sunday with the Burson family.

Mrs. Hazel Moyer spent Friday at the J. C. Harrison home.

Frank Darling, sr., spent the week-end with his sister, Mrs. Barbara Darling, in Albany.

Thos. Harrison, who was quite ill for a time earlier in the summer with heart trouble, has had a relapse and is again confined to his bed.

The Tevepaugh family have moved into the Lawrence property on north Main street.

The union services will be at the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening. The supply minister for the Baptist church will preach.

The roof of the Sawyer sawmill, east of town, caught fire Friday evening, but Isaac Lowden, the watchman, discovered it and blew the whistle and help from town saved the property.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cameron are expected home tomorrow from a vacation trip in eastern Oregon, including a visit to Mrs. Cameron's sister, Mrs. Ben Rogers of Lost Valley.

The Times corrects our statement that Oren Stratton's logberries, and through him Thomas Miller's, were marketed in Eugene. They went to Salem.

Mrs. Alice Moore, head of the telephone office, attended the wedding of her sister, Mrs. Ica Slavens, and Rola Kent in Portland July 4. Bride and groom got their schooling in Brownsville, where the latter's father, Dr. O. R. Kent, practiced osteopathy.

Thirty-seven cords of wood went into the posts on Tom Miller's Paramount berry farm.

Mrs. C. Schure's first grandson, Delbert Walter Brisbia, was born at Albany June 21 and weighed ten pounds and never got into the Enterprise until now.

Mrs. Ora E. Tetzle, whose husband was killed in a boxing match at Eugene a year or two ago, has married Conrad F. White.

Shedd Shots

(By Anna Pennell)

Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Kennedy are moving to Chelan Falls, Washington.

A large number of friends and relatives attended the funeral of Dal Duncan Saturday.

Beed McElvain of Portland, was in Shedd on business last week.

Mr. Brown is grading roads around Shedd on business last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy of Seattle are visiting Mr. Kennedy's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kennedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Link St. John drove to Newport Sunday to visit their daughter, Georgie Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Pennell drove to Portland Friday and returned Saturday.

Elmo Davis and wife of Eureka, California visited Mr. Davis' aunt, Mrs. Dora Davis and Mrs. C. J. Shedd, last week on their way to Newport.

A farewell party was given at the Masonic hall Monday, to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kennedy due to their departure to their new home at Chelan Falls, Wash. A short program was given and refreshments served. A large number of friends and relatives attended and expressed their regrets at their leaving the Shedd community, where they both will be missed.

FOR SOUND MONEY

Senator Oddie of Nevada, chairman of the United States Senate commission to investigate the problems of gold and silver mining, has allayed the fear that Western Senators, in their zeal to aid the cause of silver, might launch an unsound money war. "I am for sound money," Senator Oddie says. "There is no thought of bimetallism or departing from the gold standard. We desire to help the great mining industry, but not through the creation of an unsound currency."

The commission is to study and report on the causes of the continuing decrease in the production of gold and silver; the causes of the depressed condition of the gold and silver mining industry in the United States; the production, reduction, refining, transportation, marketing, sale, and uses of gold and silver in the United States and elsewhere; and the effect of the decreased production of gold and silver upon commerce, industry, exchange and prices.

PECULIAR AND IMPERTINENT

Some of the Quips and Quirks Observed by Gleaners of Current News.

Easy Money.—Delmer Morrison was fined $5 at Albany last week for smoking cigarets, being a minor. There are a few $5 bills lying around Halsey if the officers will pick them up.

Cigaret Got Him.—At Index, Wash., last week Robert Rankin, 18, member of a railroad crew, got his clothes saturated with gasoline while transferring that fluid in his work. Then he lighted a cigaret and was burned to death as a result.

Bowing to Mammon.—Bert Korbert was found kneeling in the library of Father Gregory, a Catholic priest, in Portland Monday, but he was not worshipping God nor any of the orthodox saints. His deity was Mammon. He was in front of a safe. He is now safe in jail.

Bugs.—The federal department of agriculture is offering big money for 1000 bedbugs for use at Washington in studying the part they play in spreading disease. The Douglas county agricultural agent has been distributing 800,000 lady bugs in orchards east of Medford, expecting them to destroy the scale insect and save the fruit trees.

A Jawbreaker.—Los Angeles, July 12.—Falling five stories from a hotel room to the roof of a garage, Windsor Putnam, San Francisco college student, got to his feet, apologized to the garage man for the unexpected call and disappeared. The garage man notified the police, who found the youth with both jaws broken and the possibility of a fractured skull.

Inharmony in N. M.—Judge D. J. Leahy, accused by the New Mexico state Tribune of various kinds of malfeasance, sentenced Carl C. Magee, the editor, to a number of consecutive terms of imprisonment and some heavy fines for what he called contempt of court, Governor Winkle pardoned him and denounced the judge's action as "a disgrace to New Mexico."

Anti-Race Suicide.—The only set of human quadruplets known to have grown to maturity are offspring of John Ormsby and wife of Chicago, born in 1901. Ten brothers and sisters had been born before them, including two pairs of twins. When their father saw the four he left home and never came back. The mother lives on a two-acre farm with a cow and some goats and chickens.

Ribs In His Head.—They're better there than wheels. The Wenatchee Sun of July 13 says: At St. Anthony's hospital Wednesday Arthur Keefe was under an anesthetic for several hours while his bones were juggled from one part of his body to another. Mr. Keefe fell off a train here in the spring and suffered a severe injury of the skull, which left a large opening, protected only by the scalp. He came back and asked to have the operation performed. Two of his floating ribs were taken out and placed in his skull.

Prince of Wales Locked Out.—The Prince of Wales forgot his key and stayed out too late the other night. To avoid waking the servants he tried to open a window of St. James' palace but he lower ones were all fastened. A policeman started to arrest him for a burglar. The officer recognized him and boosted him to a higher window, which was open, but when the prince got his head in he found the room was occupied by a sleeping beauty and dropped back. At last he made his way to a skylight, broke it and reached his bed. The important news was cabled to America.

Newspapers are carried free in the mails to paid-up subscribers within the county where published, except on R. F. D. routes, and for a cent a pound elsewhere in the country, with exceptions in the case of the portions devoted to advertising, but publishers must pay 52 cents a year in postage on copies on which the subscription is more than a year in arrears. Following is the ruling of the postoffice department on this subject.

"Copies sent to persons after one year from the date of the expiration of their subscriptions, unless such subscriptions be expressly renewed for a definite time, together with an actual payment of subscriptions or a bona fide promise of payment, will not be accepted at the pound rate, but will be accepted at the transient second-class rate of one cent for each four ounces, or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamps affixed." Under this ruling, a subscriber owing for a year's papers must pay that bill before we can send more for less than $2.00 a year.

One of John's Cartoons

It will be remembered that John Standish was a principal witness against a bootlegger in trials at Albany and that he went for the evidence by agreement with the officers and in a deputy sheriff's car. He went from the Enterprise office to Wenatchee, Wash., where the Sun is making war on the chief of police, who is accused of protecting bootleggers. Ex-policeman Kingwell charges that the chief discharged him for trying to enforce the law and the Methodist pastor there says the charge is true. John is something of a caricaturist and by permission of the Sun we reproduce below one of his cartoons in that paper.
