School Notes

(By Special Correspondent)

Friday evening last, the Monroe girls' and boys' teams played ball against the Halsey teams. They Halsey girls were defeated 25 to 4, and the Halsey boys were victorious 18 to 10. After the games a reception was given the visiting teams at the school house.

The girls' team and the boys' second team go to Scio to play basketball February 8. The boys' first team goes to Crabtree on that date.

Feb. 15 the Halsey boys play Crabtree here and February 16 the girls play another game with Brownsville here. Don't forget to come and cheer for your home town teams.

Last Thursday the following girls received letters for service on the baseball team of last year: Ruth Frum, Lena Bass, Agnes Chandler, Iona Albertson, Ellen Vannice, Roberta Vannice, Leone Palmer, Willamina Corcoran and Agnes Hayes.

The English IV class is busy writing a long argument on the question, "Immigration should be further restricted in the United States."

The flag was flown at half mast Monday in respect for our former president, Woodrow Wilson.

(The French II class is intending to present two short French plays in the future, the proceeds from which will probably be added to the gymnasium fund which the high school has started.

George Cross, Tom Miller and Frank Koontz accompanied Professor English and his wife to Corvallis Saturday evening to attend the basketball game between the University of Washington and O. A. C.

The contestants in the declamation contest are now learning their selections.

The Halsey high school has been asked to send a representative to a public speaking contest, conducted by the O. A. C. chamber of commerce, which will be one feature of the educational exposition February 22 and 23. Chambers of commerce in all parts of the state are planning to arrange for special booths to show the community industry. Arrangements to entertain 400 high school students have been made.

Homer Mornhinweg Advances

G. W. Mornhinweg was in Shedd Friday where he was busy assisting his son Homer and wife in their packing, preparatory to their removal to Portland. Homer has accepted a position in the receiving department of Swift & company there. The Swift & company station at Shedd which he has been conducting for the past year or two has been taken over by a brother of M. H. Shook, proprietor of the local Swift & company station, who came up from Portland for that purpose. Mr. and Mrs. Mornhinweg and baby left the first of the week for their new home in Portland.

The company has given Homer a position of responsibility in Portland, with better remuneration and possibilities of further advancement.

Instinct and Intuition

Instinct is the term applied to an inherited tendency to perform a specific action in a particular way whenever a situation arises. Intuition, on the other hand, implies the faculty of knowing something beforehand, whether it be mystical, intellectual or moral.
