P. H. Willis went to Albany Saturday.

A. C. Armstrong and wife visited at the R. E. Ingald home Sunday.

Curtis Veatch went to Cottage Grove Friday, returning Sunday.

W. P. Wahl and wife and Mrs. W. C. Smith were in Lebanon Tuesday.

Mrs. George Workinger visited Mrs. Harry Commons Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Workinger visited Mr. Workinger's sister in Corvallis Sunday.

Charles Hassett of Winnett, Montana, took the train here Tuesday for Brookings, Ore.

The M. E. church choir at Salem of which Miss Alberta Koontz is member, motored to Portland Sunday and sang at the Sunnyside church.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Forster went to Albany Saturday to see an oculist.

R. L. Winniford spent a few days in Halsey last week, returning to his home at Lorane Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Stal naker visited at the T. P. Patton home Sunday. Mr. Stal naker returned to Corvallis Monday but his wife remained with her parents for a longer visit.

J. S. West, who was at his brother's funeral here last week, was from Medford, instead of Portland. The brother who came from Portland arrived too late for the obsequies.

At the school meeting Thursday evening the budget was approved by a bigger vote than before and the special tax of $4284.1 was voted. Watch that last cent. It might get lost.

Will Kirk, George Cross, James McWilliams, Frank Koontz, William Corcoran, De Los Clark, Carl Hill and Wayne Robertson took in the O. A. C. U. of O. basketball game at Eugene Saturday.

John Penland, well known engineer, who has figured in much of the road work in this county in recent years, died of pneumonia Monday at his home in Albany, leaving a widow and three children.

Mrs. Gerber, the grandmother in the party who died from poisoning at Albany, left an estate valued at $5500, $1000 of which was willed to the Lutheran church and school at Albany. The balance, with a $2000 estate left by her husband, goes to Mrs. Gerber's brother, Otto Yunker, who lives near Scio.

Charles Taylor of Eugene bought seventeen heavy horses here last Friday at an average of about $100 apiece. No saddle horses were offered. Glen Chance shipped them to him by rail next day.

There will be a three hours' concert by Walker's orchestra of Forest Grove, March 15, given by radio. This is old-fashioned dance music and especially good. Everyone should hear it.

Harry Commons and family visited at the home of T. B. Sprenger at Shedd Sunday. Mrs. Sprenger has been sick for sometime but is much improved and up and around the house.

New Cummings and wife visited Mr. Cummings' sister, Mrs. W. C. Smith, Thursday.

The revival meetings at the M. E. church were well attended. The series ended Monday.

Lila Dudley returned to her home Saturday after staying several weeks with Mrs. Harry Commons.

Mrs. John Archibald was here Monday in the interest of the W. C. T. U. She expects to be here again Feb. 22.

Rev. Mr. Shangel of Milton, who reaches Sunday at the Lake Creek church, was the guest of Clarence Williams and family.

It is thought that all preliminary difficulties will be disposed of in time or the state highway to call, Feb. 25, or bids for building the Harrisburg bridge.

The young people of the Methodist church have formed a gospel team and will hold their first meeting next Sunday evening at the regular church service. The pastor will preach in the morning and there will also be preaching at the Oak Plains school-house at 2:30 in the afternoon.

Mrs. G. W. Mornhinweg and granddaughters, Maxine and Jane Wallace, and Miss Mona Bond were visitors at

An Obstinate Man
 Firmness is a virtue. Obstinacy is firmness intensified and it may include intensified virtue. Of our president the Albany Democrat remarks: "We do not consider Calvin Coolidge the type of president who would obey the type of president who would obey a senate resolution. He is, instead, the type who will when pushed, stand solid; and the harder he is pushed the more stubbornly he stands."
 On one of the many occasions when efforts were being made to induce President Grant to change his course the matter was mentioned to Mrs. Grant. Her comment was: "Mr. Grant is an obstinate man."

S. S. Gilbert & Son of Albany are about to add builders' hardware to their stock of crockery and glassware.

Oregon Occurrences

Recent increases in the price of gasoline in Oregon are to be included in the country-wide investigation of gasoline prices which the department of justice has been ordered by President Coolidge to make at once.

Rats, which eat food similar to that of humans, are being used in experiments by Mrs. Jessamine C. Williams, professor of household science at Oregon Agricultural college to determine the value of various foods for children.

Oregon's share of the appropriation for forest road and trail projects is the largest of any state within the national forest system, according to word received by George H. Cecil, district forester, from Washington, D. C. The state will get $136,686 in 1924.

A caravan consisting of 75 persons from Umatilla appeared before the Umatilla county court at Pendleton with petitions bearing more than 1000 names asking that a new bridge be built over the Umatilla river near Umatilla where it flows into the Columbia.

Salem hop dealers, as a result of the recent flurry in the hop market, are now holding their product for 40 cents a pound. It is said that there are less than 1000 bales of prime hops in the state, and these can be moved at any time at prices ranging from 31 to 33 cents.

The Hood River Oddfellows and Rebekah lodges are launching a campaign to obtain co-operation of householders in entertaining delegates to the annual convention of Oregon grand lodges at Hood River in May. It is anticipated that 4000 guests will be present.

Confirmation of the sale of 600,000 pounds of wool, the total crop in the hands of Baker county wool growers, to Koshland & Co., Boston, was received at Baker. The price received by the wool men was 40 cents a pound, with the exception of one lot that brought 42 cents.

An investigation of the proposed water pipe line from Clear lake to Willamette valley cities as far north as Salem was heartily indorsed at a meeting at Eugene attended by 75 business and professional men of Eugene, Corvallis, Albany, Springfield and Junction City.

About 400 farmers assembled at Arlington and formed the permanent organization of the Oregon Export Commission league. Eastern Oregon was well represented. Farmers and wheat growers from Sherman, Gilliam, Wasco and Umatilla counties were present and assisted in the organization.

Arrangements have been completed for the construction of the first unit of the Eugene-Springfield irrigation project, according to announcement made at the offices of the state engineer. The project includes some 15,000 acres of land, and the water will be diverted from the McKenzie river.

The state game commission and sportsmen of eastern Oregon have been aroused over an attempt to have a bill introduced in congress to create an antelope and sage grouse reserve in the southeastern corner of Harney county, which would take in an amount of territory greatly in excess of the original reserve plan.

Oregon pensions have been granted as follows: Mary J. Helms, Beaver-ton, $30; Thomas S. Williamson, Albany, $12; Jesse Kotovsky, Salem, $12; Phoebe J. Rowley, Williams, $30; Charles B. Compton, Seaside, $24; Harold Rasmussen, Portland, $15; Fred Schmidt, Oregon City, $12; Mary O. Woody, Hood River, $30.

By following a policy of selective logging through a tract of pine timber bordering the Dalles-California highway on its new location from Lava Butte to a point nine miles south, the Shelvin-Hixon company will leave a scenic border of pines along the state road. Mature trees are being marked for logging, but other timber will remain untouched.

Ten of the more important railroads operating in Oregon have filed in the Marion county circuit court at Salem a suit to enjoin the public service commission and I. H. Van Winkle, attorney-general, from enforcing orders issued recently by the commission providing reduced maximum freight rates on hay, grain, grain products, potatoes and onions.

The commercial club at Pilot Rock has sent a request to the public service commission for a schedule of the existing freight rates as they affect growers located in the vicinity of that city. It was intimated in the letter received by the commission that an investigation of the rates will be attempted with a view of determining if they are just and reasonable.

The state of Oregon, with a population of 783,389, has $417.87 of bankable resources per capita, as compared with $467.14 for the entire United States, according to a statement prepared by Frank Bramwell, state superintendent of banks. The statement shows that Oregon has a total of 281 banks, the average population per capita per bank is 2752 and the aggregate resources of these institutions is $312,216,530.70.

A deed filed for record in the Clatsop county clerk's office entails the transfer of property, which revenue stamps on the document show is valued at $8,974,500. By it the Crossett Timber company, the Big Creek Logging company and the Crossett Western Lumber company sell to the Crossett Western company all their timber land holdings, sawmills, logging railroads and camps and other property in Clatsop, Washington, Tillamook, Linn and Yamhill counties, Oregon, and Cowlitz county, Washington.

Mrs. M. M. Ward returned from Albany Monday.

M. A. Foster, a civil war veteran, several times wounded, aged 80, who gave his occupation as laborer, and Mrs. Jane Eshman, 62, both of Portland, were married Monday. It was his third marriage and her fifth.

A W. C. T. U. in Halsey. What place more fit than the town which never had a legalized saloon in all the years when Oregon was wet? The W. C. T. U. has more results to its credit than any other temperance organization that is actively alive today, and it is more alive today than ever before.

School Notes
 (By Special Correspondent)

In the game last Friday evening at Scio the Scio girls were victorious by three points. The score was 12 to 9. The Albany Evening Herald said incorrectly that this was the worst Halsey had even been beaten. Although Halsey had ever been beaten. Though good sportsmanship and proved themselves to be perfect ladies, which cannot be said, we are sorry to say, for the Scio girls. A return game will be played here Feb. 21.

The boys' second team was defeated at Scio by a score of 25 to 5. This might not have been the case under different circumstances.

The contract for the game called for Scio's second team against Halsey's second team, but when Halsey's team arrived at Scio they were informed that Scio had no second team and that Halsey would have to play Scio's first team. Heinrich and Norton made all the points for Halsey.

The boys' first team at Crabtree was defeated by a score of 25 to 14. After the game Crabtree gave Halsey a reception which was much enjoyed. Crenshaw, just up after a siege of pneumonia, made 18 of Crabtree's 35 points.

Tomorrow night Halsey will play Crabtree here. Everyone turn out and yell for Halsey.

Saturday evening the Halsey girls will proceed to trim Brownsville again on Halsey's floor.

The Lincoln medal recently awarded to Everett Corbin of the local high school by the Illinois Watch company, has been on display in the window of the Koontz store. It was presented to him by Miss Leitner at the school on Lincoln day.

Joe Weber of Brownsville was a Halsey caller Thursday.

Tuesday, Lincoln's birthday, slides illustrating events in his life were shown at the high school and the pupils rendered an appropriate program.

Mrs. Freeland is training pupils for a French play to be given soon to raise funds for the gymnasium.

The girls' basketball team played Brownsville Saturday night at Halsey.

Obsequies of Mrs. Perry
 The remains of the late Mrs. Perry arrived by rail from Seattle Friday of last week, instead of Thursday, as had been expected. W. L. Wright of Harrisburg had charge and burial was at the Pine Grove cemetery, after services conducted by Rev. Robert Parker at the Pine Grove church. Out-of-town relatives who attended the funeral were Clarence Simons of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Perry and her son, W. G. Perry, all of Cottage Grove, and Mrs. Warren Perry and the widower, J. L. Perry and son William of Seattle.

Mrs. Perry was a member of the Methodist church and of the Halsey organizations of Rebekahs and Neighbors of Woodcraft. She was a daughter of Mrs. W. T. McNeil of this city and Grant McNeil is her brother.

Mrs. Lizzie Simons of Eugene and Mrs. Clara Perry of Cottage Grove are her sisters.
