WEAR-EVER ALUMINUM
 Big stock of Wear-Ever kitchen utensils just received at
HILL & CO.'S
 Wear-Ever is stamped from hard metal—not spun nor cast. Spun articles are made from soft sheets. Cast metal is more porous than that which is produced under heavy pressure. Besides, to make it cast smoothly it is mixed with from 5 to 8 per cent of alloy, which encourages the disintegration of the metal by water containing impurities. Get the best, Wear-Ever is the best.

 Station Agents,
 Sou. Pac. Co. in Oregon;
 Please notify postmasters and all others concerned that during the remainder of the rainy season it will be necessary, at stations where mail is picked up from mail cranes by trains that do not stop, to protect mail sacks that are hanging up while it is raining by holding an umbrella over them. Notify all concerned that the "arm" that holds the mail is plenty strong to hold the weight of an ordinary person, therefore suggest a convenient way would be to sit straddle of arm and hold umbrella over sacks, jumping off when train approaches, being careful not to jump in front of the engine. Red umbrellas not allowed for this use. They may, however, be used for other purposes.
