HALSEY HAPPENINGS AND COUNTY EVENTS

Short Stories from Sundry Sources

May day.
Clifford Carey preached at the Church of Christ Sunday.

→ Fred Roadman of Scio has two pairs of twins, born last week. They are all heifers.

Mrs. B. L. Masson, field representative of the Alberta Kerr nursery home, was in Halsey Friday.

W. J. Ribelin is able to be down town again after being very much indisposed for about ten days.

Mrs. G. E. Jackson and two children left yesterday for Portland to visit her sister. She also expects to visit at Bend.

Halsey Neighbors of Woodcraft attended a reception given at Albany to the Grand Guardian on Wednesday of last week. Neighbors from Brownsville, Lebanon, Shedd and Corvallis were also present. From Halsey there were Neighbors Hill, Corcoran, Ringo, Taylor, May Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cross, Mrs. Freeland, Mrs. White, Kenneth Cross, Mrs. Morhinweg, Wayne Robertson, Mrs. Edith R. Bennett and Louise Robnett. A much appreciated banquet and program were enjoyed.

Somebody seems to think it is funny to shoot insulators from the electric light line. Catch him at it and you can have $50 and perhaps he can sit in the jail and think about the fun he had. See the advertisement in this paper.

Frost Thursday morning is reported to have damaged strawberries in North Albany and various fruits at other places, but Halsey was not hard hit. More than half the apple and cherry crops at Hood River are reported killed.

William Van Nice and wife arrived Monday for a visit with home folks. Mr. Van Nice has been teaching in The Dalles school.

Mrs. Jess O. Cross went to Eugene Tuesday.

Mrs. L. E. Walton was a passenger to Eugene Tuesday.

Mrs. T. I. Marks and Mrs. Edythe Drinkard were Corvallis visitors Friday.

Miss Ethel Bray and mother of Albany drove down Sunday and were guests of Mrs. Rosa Powell.

Mrs. E. C. Miller and sons Thomas and Gilbert, with Mrs. Bliss Byers and daughters Blissina and Betty, motored to Albany Saturday.

E. C. Miller and family and Mrs. W. H. Robertson accompanied Mrs. Bliss Byers and daughters to their home at Independence Sunday.

Mrs. Hurley Wallace and Miss Grace Wallace and little Harry Reeves come down from Portland Saturday to visit at the J. W. Rector home.

Mrs. R. F. Montgomery of Medford returned to her home Monday, after a visit with her mother, Mrs. M. M. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stevenson and little son Richard of Beaverton arrived Wednesday of last week for a visit with Halsey relatives. Glen took the train Monday for Eugene, to visit his brother, Stanley Stevenson, and family and he will also visit a sister at Drain.

Mrs. E. C. Miller and her sisters, Mrs. W. H. Robertson, Mrs. J. H. Griffith of Albany and Mrs. Bliss Byers of Independence, and her nieces, Mrs. Donna Cross of Halsey and Blissina and Betty Byers of Independence, motored to Eugene Thursday to attend the funeral of the uncle of the elder ladies, R. A. McIntyre, who died suddenly at his home in Tillamook.

The Brownsville Times office has linotype trouble this week and cannot set the news for the Enterprise. The Junction City Times people are accommodatingly doing the work, but there is not as close connection with Junction City as with Brownsville at the desired day and hour, so some correspondence that would ordinarily be used must be held over and take its chances another week. Monday is early, Tuesday is late and Wednesday is too late for copy to arrive that must be set on the linotype.

Shedd Snapshots

(Enterprise Correspondence)

Jim Tait was a Portland visitor Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Morgason were Albany shoppers Thursday.

Mrs. Kenneth Robson and Mrs. Agnes Clark were Albany shoppers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sprenger of Albany visited at the C. A. Pugh home Sunday.

M. T. Nolan and family were called to Willamette last week on account of the death of Mr. Nolan's mother.

Oscar Ingram, at one time teacher in Shedd school, but now of Lebanon, was a Shedd business visitor last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sprenger and Mrs. Lyman Pennell and sons spent Sunday at the L. C. Pennell home near Canby.

Mrs. Dora Davis, who underwent an operation in Albany last week, has left the hospital and is convalescing at the home of Rex Davis in that city.

Monday night a delegation of members of Woodcraft visited the lodge at Albany and Tuesday night members of the Eastern Star visited the Albany chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Freerksen and Mrs. Henry Freerksen, Mrs. Agnes Clark, Miss Lucile Shedd, Mrs. J. C. Clay and Mrs. Mary Porter were Eastern Star visitors in Corvallis Friday evening.

The baseball game last Friday, Shedd high vs. Harrisburg high, was won by Harrisburg; the game on Saturday between the grammar schools of Tangent and Shedd was won by Shedd; the games on Sunday were won by the Shedd first and second town teams against Albany Mooze and Sand Ridge grangers.

Rev. Mr. Hawkins of Salem conducted the Sunday morning services at the M. E. church.

Virginian's Alibi

The story is told of a Virginian who stayed out until two o'clock in the morning. His wife objected. He said he wasn't out as late as she thought he was. She declared she had heard the clock strike. "What!" said the Virginian, "you'll take the word of a d--n Yankee clock before mine?"

→ William Hoover of Portland was 100 years old yesterday and is an active old gentleman. John Leonard, 103 years old, committed suicide in a hospital at Mantec, Wis., Tuesday. Angelo Magnano of Middletown, Ct., became the father of a ten-pound son last week on his 72 birthday. He had two children by his first wife, fourteen by his second and eight by his present spouse. If he keeps up his lick he will have quite a family by the time he reaches the mature age of the others named above.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe and daughter Emma visited at the Cecil Harrison home one evening last week.

L. A. Arnold, the Lebanon chicken man, called at the J. C. Harrison chicken ranch one evening last week. The men are cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harrison and Miss Francis Booker expect to leave the latter part of the week for a visit with relatives at Portland.

C. C. Carlson and daughter Josie motored to Portland Sunday, returning Tuesday. While there they visited Victor Carlson and family and at the Salvog home.

Ed Oxford is taking a vacation from the Sterling Warehouse and he, his wife, and son are peeling chittim on his place north of town. It has been reported that they are making $20 a day.

J. C. Harrison and daughter Thelma and Edna motored to Riddle Saturday morning, returning Sunday night. There they visited at the M. S. Ryan home. Mr. Ryan is grandfather to the Harrison children.

After an explanation of the situation by Passenger Agent Jenkins of the Southern Pacific, Brownsville has withdrawn its protest against the suspension of the daily train service and accepts without opposition the substitution of the passenger and freight auto buses now connecting with the trains at Halsey.

→ Mr. and Mrs. Axel Salvog of Portland spent the week at the C. C. Carlson home. Just recently the Salvogs were married. While here a bunch from Brownsville came out to charivari them. Evidently they were unexpected, for after the crowd arrived Mr. and Mrs. Salvog quietly left the room, went out and let the air from the tires of the waiting automobiles and escaped. They left for Portland Sunday before the Ash Swab crowd came to charivari them.

Misses Ione Callaway and Bessie McDonald of the teachers training class in the Brownsville high school have both secured schools for the coming year. One received $100 and the other $105 per month. Both are good students and will undoubtedly make good in the profession. We congratulate them. Their schools are in Moro and Wasco counties respectively.

A first class baseball field is being prepared in the city park.

Alford Arrows

(Enterprise Correspondence)

The Burnett family have all been down with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCart visited at the Rolfe home Sunday.

Miss Hattie Dannen visited her sister, Mrs. E. A. Starnes, Sunday.

Mrs. J. F. Isom has been on the sick list this week and last, that would ordinarily be used

Mr. and Mrs. Harpole and daughter of Junction City, visited at the Lee Ingram home Sunday.

The basket social and program given by the Alford school Saturday was quite well attended.

Miss Violet Burnett came up from Portland to spend Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Burnett.

Mrs. Landis Philpott of Wendling visited her sister, Mrs. Chester Curtis, Wednesday of last week.

Roads and Pavements

The editor was as drunk as he ever gets when he wrote the reference to the Lebanon road meeting last week and could not see as far away as Lebanon, so he located it at Sweet Home, which is as near Lebanon as our stage mail route goes.

The meeting, being on Wednesday evening, was too late for any report for the Enterprise to be set on the linotype, so was only briefly mentioned.

The outstanding feature was the explanation by Roadmaster Culver of Marion county of the way that county has managed the building of a system of paved roads connecting the principal towns with the Pacific highway.

It was stated that the leading towns of this county can be similarly linked up by the construction of 24 miles of paved roads. Marion has built such at a cost of $15,000 a mile.

Woodman, Spare That Tree.

The Silverton Woman's Club is asking through the State Federation of Woman's Clubs for the co-operation of private land owners in the reservation of the state's scenic beauty in saving trees along the highways although they stand on private grounds.

There are trees in Oregon entitled to special protection to prevent their becoming extinct. In many instances the beautiful flowering dogwood and the hawthornes have been exterminated.

In portions of Oregon, especially the Willamette valley and along the Columbia, are scattered specimens of giant yellow pines, isolated trees that have come from great forests of that variety.

These trees and the dogwood are objects of rare beauty, and a special effort should be made to induce owners of forests along the highways to save them and others that can be named.

The W. C. T. U. is sounding candidates for office on the prohibition question. No candidate, especially for a legislative office, should receive the vote of a friend of the law as it stands unless he unequivocally promises to oppose any bill to lessen the restrictions. Sam Gompers and the federation of labor are petitioning for 2.75 per cent of alcohol in beer. The liquor sellers and the boozers would not obey such a law any better than they do the present one or than they did the license law when it was on the books. They were lawbreakers. They are lawbreakers. They will be lawbreakers until their generation passes. There is a wonderful difference between the home of the average laboring man, union or non union, as it is today and as it was when the liquor seller got the first and largest slice of the contents of the envelope on pay day.

Rest Animals Before Slaughter.
Transported animals are, as a rule, slaughtered after they have been allowed a period of rest, so that the keeping quality of their meat will be increased.

An Overtime Job.
Almost any man can convince a woman that he loves her, but he has to work overtime in order to keep her convinced.

There's a Reason.
It isn't easier to write plays than to work novels; but if they are successful, they pay much better; so novelists strive to be play writers.
