Marvin Martin went to Portland Monday.

Mrs. George Hayes was in Albany Monday.

Mrs. Lena Beene drove to Albany Thursday.

Mary LaRue made a trip to Albany Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Foote visited at Junction City Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Robinson.

Edna Robinson came down from Junction City Monday to stay with her sister, Mrs. A. E. Foote, a few days.

In the six months just ended $1,139,336.98 passed through the hands of Linn County Treasurer Lenore Powell.

Mrs. Ara Miller of Yakima and W. A. Allen were with the Beene-Laubner party at Jefferson on the 4th.

Mayor Shedd's water tower at Shedd fell in Monday's wind. So did the temperature and the water content of growing crops.

Paul Robertson, a pioneer settler of Brownsville, came up from his home in southern Oregon to spend the 4th in his old home town.

Mrs. J. T. McNeil came home from Eugene the first of the week and goes soon to Cottage Grove to spend a month or so with her daughter, Mrs. Perry.

Miss Maud Farnham of Eugene spent several days in Halsey this week in the interest of the American Educational association of Portland.

Clifford Carey will preach Sunday at the Church of Christ, in the morning on "Despised and Rejected Men," with Isaiah 53:3 for a text, and in the evening "The Foolishness of God."

W. J. Ribelin expects to leave within a day or two for a couple of weeks fishing and rustivating at Crescent Lake, on the other side of the mountains on the new Klamath Falls cutoff.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Helseth and sons of Eugene have been visiting at the W. L. Wells home. They left on Friday to make their home at Tekoa, Wash., where Mr. Helseth has a pastorate.

Mrs. Ida Smith and her sisters, Mrs. Wilson Glass and Mrs. Fred Washburne, and husbands spent the 4th at Crawfordville and Washburn and their husbands spent the Fourth at Crawfordville and Cascadia. Mr. Glass was for many years cashier of the bank of Brownsville and the ladies were all natives of Halsey, daughters of the late Jacob Ramsay and wife.

A couple of very young girls were in Halsey Monday who said they came down from Portland to enjoy the celebration held at Crawfordville July 4th. To save money they endeavored to steal a ride back on a truck bound for Portland. While coming from Brownsville to Halsey they discovered one of their grips had fallen from the truck, so they stopped here and took the Brownsville stage back to look for it. Both girls were moderately well dressed. Someone is to blame when two girls are found roaming over the country in this manner. What can their mothers mean?

About forty young people of the Methodist church went on the 4th to Mary's Peak. It is said that each and every one of them reached the top.

Leone Palmer was home during the holidays.

Mrs. E. E. Gormley was on the sick list Sunday.

Miss Audrey Montague, from the summer school at O. A. C., was the guest of her friend, Miss Cleona Smith, over the 4th and the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Staab, parents of Mrs. Frank Gansle, and sister, Mrs. T. N. Smith, came from Oregon City and visited the Gansles this week.

Henry Mitzner of Paisley, Lake county, arrived Thursday for a visit with the home folks. It is the first time he has been in the valley for two years.

Mrs. Fred Taylor of Eugene was the guest of her father, J. C. Stanish, and wife Wednesday, and on Thursday she visited her brother Everett at Salem.

Mrs. M. V. Koontz returned Wednesday from Albany, where she has been the guest of Mrs. Z. J. Rudd. She drove down with Mr. and Mrs. James Drinkard.

Mrs. William Randle and daughter Priscilla of Seattle visited at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. George F. Schroll, Tuesday. They were en route to Newport.

Frank Gansle has bought his brother's interest in the garage and Ray has gone to Eugene, but he says he has another brother and the firm name is still Gansle Bros.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Tank returned to Junction City Tuesday, Monday. They were here to attend the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Mellie Knott.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner of Montana, with their children, were guests of Mrs. Gardner's cousin, W. K. Winstead, the last of the week. This was the first meeting of Mr. Winstead and Mrs. Gardner.

William Wheeler's granddaughter and her husband, Alfred Steinhauer, from Greenleaf, took a load of chickens to Junction City Tuesday and came on to Halsey to call on their old grandpa and new grandpa.

C. E. Bafford and wife and three children were camped in Halsey a few days last week when they had car trouble. They were on their way from Wasco to North Bend.

Dr. T. I. Marks returned Friday from a trip to Hood River. He was accompanied from Portland by Mrs. Marks' three nieces, daughters of Mrs. M. S. Robinson of that city, who will visit their aunt for two or three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Case of Heppner were in Halsey for a short time on Tuesday, calling on the latter's cousin, C. P. Stafford, and wife. Mrs. Case is the daughter of B. A. Stafford, one-time merchant of Halsey and county assessor of Linn county.

Lon Chamlee writes to several members of the Church of Christ that he has arrived in Hollywood, Cal., and is enjoying his vacation immensely. He asks for letters from members of his congregation. His address is 5541 Colton way, Los Angeles.

Dr. and Mrs. Barnum and daughter and son of Mount Angel drove over Saturday evening and spent the night and Sunday at the C. F. Stafford home. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Stafford, who extended her trip to Portland before returning home Monday. Dr. Barnum paid the Enterprise a pleasant call.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hutton, Mrs. Eliza Kleppinger and Mrs. Stella Bridges of Salem, cousins of Mrs. J. C. Bramwell, were in Halsey Saturday to attend the

on the creek of the same name. This town and its immediate environs were bustling with mining activities, the first travelers had witnessed since leaving Red canyon.

It was at Rapid City that the gambler and Dinsdale learned how McCall, slayer of Wild Bill, had been arraigned the night before by a so-called "citizens" or "minors" committee, had been acquitted and furnished with a good horse and allowed to try his luck in escaping from the hills. And there were those who had watched the stage road ever since the word was received, hoping that the murderer would ride within range of their rifles.

"Let him go, eh?" mused San Juan. "That's too bad! Wonder what's behind it?"

"Looks as if he might be able to tell things that some one doesn't want told," commented Dinsdale savagely.

Fourteen miles were covered before San Juan selected the next camping place, a restful spot in Spring valley.

The night passed quietly, and another ride into the fog was commenced. A few miles out they overtook a man leading a diminutive burro. The animal was all but concealed by camping gear, tent and blankets. Lashed on top of the load was a Henry rifle, forerunner of the Winchester. Juan waved his hand and saluted:

"How now, Pyrites? Another rich strike?"

The man halted and blinked up at them, revealing a weather-worn face that was traversed by a network of tiny wrinkles. From the corner of his mouth San Juan informed Dinsdale:

"Old 'Iron Pyrites,' best sample of perpetual prospector you ever saw. He'd quit millions in a sure thing to pan out new gravel. I grubstake him."

"Howdy, Joey?" joyously cried Pyrites, now finding his tongue. "Ain't struck anything but rich prospects (this trip, but I'll uncover the real article on the next. Found some mighty rich indications. Who's your friends?"

The gambler made Lottie Carl and Dinsdale known, and briefly told of the massacre in the canyon. Pyrites stared sympathetically at the girl.

"Too bad, youker," he said. "But this is a mighty fine country to forget things in. You've heard about Bill, Joey?"

San Juan nodded gloomily, then exclaimed in deep disgust:

"And to think of letting that McCall go free!"

This was news to Pyrites, for he fairly yelled:

"Go free? Why, Joey, they just couldn't. They had to hang him! You can't mean that they didn't hang him on the spot!"

ENGINEERING BOTH BABIES AND BUSINESS

Would you expect a woman who had adopted as her slogan, "Babies Before Business," to be written up in all sorts of magazines as an unusually successful geological engineer?

Ten years ago, when the two Gould kiddies were healthy, little school children, Nina S. Gould went back to her job of being an assistant geological engineer. In the office of Gould & Gould she has entire charge of reports, maps, cost estimates and enough other technical details to make the average woman—or man—blink. She's an honorary member of Chi Epsilon, a fraternity for women doing geological work.

Mrs. Gould found time, as the children's interests and her own led her outside home walls, to take an active interest first in the kindergarten club and then in the school patrons' club, to organize two Camp Fire groups, and to become an active member in a social study club.

At present she serves as the business women's representative on the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A., as vice president of the civic committee of the chamber of commerce, keeps up church and Sunday school work and presides over the Town club with 70 picked business women members and an active city-beautiful program. Also she goes to ball games with the children!

It's hardly fair to call Oklahoma City with its 110,000 people a gopher prairie, even though the Town club is still struggling with untidy chicken yards inside the city limits. Anyway Mrs. Gould's answer to "Would you like to move to New York?" was "No."

But a girl just starting? "A large city is too lonesome," advises this woman of many friends, "for the girl just going into business. She has far more opportunity for making friends in the smaller place. And as to success, if a girl is happy outside of business hours, she makes a more efficient business girl."

"A smaller city is the best place to live (which means to live, laugh and work), to rear a family, and a place where one may have a chance to grow into the life of a community; that is to become an integral part of the growth, development of the neighborhood, the city and the state."

Add Some Timothy Seed in Sowing Sweet Clover

Sweet clover may be sown as a single crop, but better results would be obtained by using 2 pounds of timothy and 20 pounds of sweet clover seed per acre. The sweet clover seed should be put through a scarifying machine, in order to increase the percentage of germination. The clover and timothy seed may be sown with two bushels per acre of an early variety of oats. A light top-dressing of manure, when preparing the ground for oats, will ensure a better crop of grass and will not injure the oats, unless the soil is very rich. The white clover may be pastured moderately during the fall, but should not be pastured too closely late in the season.—C. F. Curtis, Iowa State College.
