

GLOBE ALBANY

High-class Picture Entertainment

SUNDAY—MONDAY
AUG. 10-11

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

*****

COMING
AUGUST 15-16-17-18

THE COVERED WAGON

4 SHOWS DAILY
1:30-3:30-7:30-9:30

Adults, 50c, Children 25c.

Halsey Happenings

(Continued from page 3)

Miss Willmina Corcoran was in Albany Saturday.

Chas. C. Hamer took the train for Creswell Thursday.

Mrs. Hazel Wallace made a trip to Albany Saturday.

Mrs. Armstrong and Helen were in Eugene Wednesday.

B. E. Cogswell returned to Portland, Friday, after a visit to his ranch near town.

Postmaster Karl Bramwell and niece, Miss Louise Robnett, were Eugene visitors Saturday.

Karl Bramwell and family and the former's mother, Mrs. May Miller, made a business trip to Eugene on Thursday.

Mrs. A. E. Foote and sister Edna were Albany shoppers Wednesday and on Friday, in company with A. E., made a trip to Eugene.

Saturday Helen Armstrong drove her cousins, Miss McKee and Miss Gilliland, to Eugene. They enjoyed seeing the university of Oregon campus.

H. A. Munkers started for Stockton, Cal., Saturday to be at the bedside of his father who was critically ill after a surgical operation.

Mrs. P. H. Freerksen, Mrs. Frank Workenger, Mrs. H. Abraham, and Mrs. W. G. Abraham called on Mrs. E. Abraham last Friday and knotted a quilt for her.

H. C. Hinton, brother of Mrs. Mary Armstrong, is suffering from diabetes. He was taken to Salem on Monday, by Charles Hamer to receive medical attention at the diabetic hospital there.

Miss Mona Bond returned Wednesday of last week after several weeks sight seeing in Alaska with a party of school teacher friends. She reports a fine trip, but, it being the daylight season there, she said it was hard to get enough sleep.

The W. F. M. S. met at Mrs. W. A. Carey's Friday afternoon, with sixteen members present and five Standard Bearer girls. The topic was, "The Art of Conversation." Miss Alberta Kootz sang a solo in her usual pleasing manner and Gladys and Elva Hadley gave an interesting dialogue. The society was pleased to have Mrs. D. S. McWilliams present. Ice cream and cookies were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

The Rebekahs gave a farewell party Wednesday night of last week, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mornhinweg and daughter, Mrs. Hazel Wallace, who left this week to make their home at Newport, and Mrs. L. E. Walton and Mrs. Elfa Moore, who are soon to reside at Harrisburg. The lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Bond was beautifully decorated with Japanese lanterns for the event and the evening was spent in games and conversation. Ice cream and wafers were served.

Mrs. Herman Steinke returned from Eugene Friday with her little son Floyd, who recently had his left eye injured by a thrust from a sack needle. Floyd is only able to see at close range with the injured eye and

Mary Succeeds on Main Street

By LAURA MILLER

"OLD MISS," PLANTATION MANAGER

Miss Effie Moncure and I, friends of a half hour, were lunching on shrimp and rice. It was a quaint little restaurant, not to be duplicated in any metropolis. Neither are shrimp and rice, cooked as these were cooked, to be duplicated outside of Dixieland—or of Shreveport, for all I know. Certainly Miss Moncure is unique in her "side line."

"I'll have to get back to work fairly early," she suddenly said. "My black folks come in for supplies this afternoon." Therein lay a romance of the feudal age. But the lord of the castle had become a lady! And the lady was the pretty young person who had introduced herself merely as "an average private secretary."

A leading lawyer of this Louisiana town is also, by inheritance, a planter. His acres are planted to cotton, cultivated on shares. Each of his fifteen negro families has 20 acres. The sharing scheme has become hereditary, a voluntary serfdom. The preacher, for instance, is son of five generations of negro preachers born on the same soil, illiterate and perpetually in debt to the current generation of owners. "Wildcat," a negro of recent literary fame, grew up, Miss Moncure says, on "her place."

When the owner had to go West for his health, she inherited his oversight of the place. Last year, despite floods, replanting and low prices, she managed to make the rent and a $3,000 profit as against no rent and a $2,000 deficit before she took charge. She has to advance supplies of every sort for the full year in the proportion these childlike negroes need, not want; see that enough corn and alfalfa are raised for stock and that all work steadily. She has to share all their joys and sorrows, yet retain their respect. Their nickname, "Old Miss," applied to her under-thirty self, is the final proof of their devotion and trust in her, Shreveport folk say.

That Miss Moncure has personality goes without saying. She is the first woman of her family to work outside her home. Her grandmother was "the earliest white woman settler on the last river bank along the Texas trail" and thus a founder of the oldest family of Shreveport. Miss Moncure, to become a stenographer, made sure she could "spell, translate French law, and look up authorities," and thus took herself outside the mediocre class before she started.

She believes that by staying in the smaller place a woman has "a better chance of becoming known in business, and retains the social position which means good times."

Discrediting the Tax-shirkers

Some bloated capitalists, ignoring warning that the opponents of the income tax are trumpeting, to the effect that the law will drive capital out of the state and leave the farmers and mechanics to starve, have been building a saw-mill. It did its first work yesterday. Its capacity is 25,000 feet a day. The blawed thing is at Albany.

Some more enterprises that are so disabbling as to refuse to wait until after election while tax-shirkers proclaim that Oregon is dead, are mentioned in last week's bulletin of Hofer & Son, Salem. We quote a few:

Salem—S. B. Kay, with other interested parties, has furnished funds for taking an option on machinery for a woolen mill.

Astoria—$25,000 table factory to go in.

Klamath Falls—Contract for cutting 300,000,000 feet of ripe timber on Klamath Indian reservation.

Klamath Falls awarded $279,350 building permits in one week recently.

Vestport—Sawmill resumes after a month's shutdown.

Cooz Bay—Hoop plant starts.

Oregon City—No. 1 paper mill, burnt last October, rebuilt and running.

Astoria—Savings bank increases capital from $150,000 to $200,000.

it is feared he may lose its sight altogether.

Elmer Munson and W. G. Abraham each loaded a car with wheat Saturday at Potter.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Freerksen, their grandson Bobbie and Mrs. W. A. Miller were Albany shoppers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodtridge of Dayton were over-night visitors at E. Abraham's for Thursday in the Sheridan ham's Sanday. The Hodtridges used to live near Halsey.

Elmer Munson is putting up a nice new chicken house on his place.

The I Go You Go club has planned a picnic for Thursday in the Sheridan Smith grove.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Freerksen, their grandson Bobbie and Mrs. W. A. Miller were Albany shoppers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hodtridge of Dayton were over-night visitors at E. Abraham's for Thursday in the Sheridan ham's Sanday. The Hodtridges used to live near Halsey.

Elmer Munson is putting up a nice new chicken house on his place.

The I Go You Go club has planned a picnic for Thursday in the Sheridan Smith grove.

RIALTO BROWNSVILLE

Saturday
Thomas Meighan
in
'The Confidence Man'

Tuesday
Jacqueline Logan
in
'The Dawn of a Tomorrow'

Thursday
Owen Moore
in
'Reported Missing'

HARRISBURG

Saturday
'Lights Out'

Wednesday
'Reported Missing'

Mary Succeeds on Main Street

By LAURA MILLER

"OLD MISS," PLANTATION MANAGER

Miss Effie Moncure and I, friends of a half hour, were lunching on shrimp and rice. It was a quaint little restaurant, not to be duplicated in any metropolis. Neither are shrimp and rice, cooked as these were cooked, to be duplicated outside of Dixieland—or of Shreveport, for all I know. Certainly Miss Moncure is unique in her "side line."

"I'll have to get back to work fairly early," she suddenly said. "My black folks come in for supplies this afternoon." Therein lay a romance of the feudal age. But the lord of the castle had become a lady! And the lady was the pretty young person who had introduced herself merely as "an average private secretary."

A leading lawyer of this Louisiana town is also, by inheritance, a planter. His acres are planted to cotton, cultivated on shares. Each of his fifteen negro families has 20 acres. The sharing scheme has become hereditary, a voluntary serfdom. The preacher, for instance, is son of five generations of negro preachers born on the same soil, illiterate and perpetually in debt to the current generation of owners. "Wildcat," a negro of recent literary fame, grew up, Miss Moncure says, on "her place."

When the owner had to go West for his health, she inherited his oversight of the place. Last year, despite floods, replanting and low prices, she managed to make the rent and a $3,000 profit as against no rent and a $2,000 deficit before she took charge. She has to advance supplies of every sort for the full year in the proportion these childlike negroes need, not want; see that enough corn and alfalfa are raised for stock and that all work steadily. She has to share all their joys and sorrows, yet retain their respect. Their nickname, "Old Miss," applied to her under-thirty self, is the final proof of their devotion and trust in her, Shreveport folk say.

That Miss Moncure has personality goes without saying. She is the first woman of her family to work outside her home. Her grandmother was "the earliest white woman settler on the last river bank along the Texas trail" and thus a founder of the oldest family of Shreveport. Miss Moncure, to become a stenographer, made sure she could "spell, translate French law, and look up authorities," and thus took herself outside the mediocre class before she started.

She believes that by staying in the smaller place a woman has "a better chance of becoming known in business, and retains the social position which means good times."

Discrediting the Tax-shirkers

Some bloated capitalists, ignoring warning that the opponents of the income tax are trumpeting, to the effect that the law will drive capital out of the state and leave the farmers and mechanics to starve, have been building a saw-mill. It did its first work yesterday. Its capacity is 25,000 feet a day. The blawed thing is at Albany.

Some more enterprises that are so disabbling as to refuse to wait until after election while tax-shirkers proclaim that Oregon is dead, are mentioned in last week's bulletin of Hofer & Son, Salem. We quote a few:

Salem—S. B. Kay, with other interested parties, has furnished funds for taking an option on machinery for a woolen mill.

Astoria—$25,000 table factory to go in.

Klamath Falls—Contract for cutting 300,000,000 feet of ripe timber on Klamath Indian reservation.

Klamath Falls awarded $279,350 building permits in one week recently.

Vestport—Sawmill resumes after a month's shutdown.

Cooz Bay—Hoop plant starts.

Oregon City—No. 1 paper mill, burnt last October, rebuilt and running.

Astoria—Savings bank increases capital from $150,000 to $200,000.

The white Leghorn is the favorite breed with Linn county egg producers, and when wisely bred, fed and housed is as wonderful a phenomenon as the Oregon Jersey cow among butter producers. But American egg production has at last reached the point of saturation of the home market. Further increase will deflect prices. More and more the poultryman must give consideration to meat production for income. The Enterprise editor has demonstrated that by trapnet selection a pen of barred rocks can be produced that will equal the best Leghorns in egg production while producing much more meat which commands three or four cents a pound more than the flesh of the lighter breeds. An extra pound can be put on light breeds for 5 to 7 cents, which increases the value of each pound to the consumer by making the entire carcass more plump and attractive, so it commands a fancy price over lighter birds. Heavy hens sell from 5 to 11 cents more than light hens. It's true all down the line—turkeys, ducks, capons, hens and young fry—the extra pound brings the extra dollar.

Over a period of three years the New York market shows heavy fresh-killed milk-fed fowls or hens weighing 5 pounds or over to average from 4 to 14 cents higher per pound than the light fowls weighing 3 pounds. The five-year average for the month of September shows the heavy fowls to average 9 cents over the light weight, the margin broadening during October and November, reaching its height in December, when the heavy fowls range to 11 cents a pound over the light weights.

The average weight of the ordinary fowl as it comes from the farm is 3 1/2 to 4 pounds. The poultryman with the eye for business will add an extra pound or so and receive the top prices. The farmer who takes thin, underfed poultry to market is beating himself.

Shedd Snapshots

(Enterprise Correspondence)

Chas. Davis and wife visited for several days in Portland.

Miss Helen Satchwell left Saturday for a visit to Crater lake.

Mrs. Dora Davis is having a cement walk made in front of her house.

Miss Alice Utterback of Salem is visiting her aunt, Mrs. John Pugh.

Rex Davis and family of Albany spent Sunday with Mrs. Dora Davis.

Margaret Pugh has recovered from an operation for tonsils and adenoids.

Miss Margaret Rhinehammer from Alpine is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Nolan.

The C. Thompson family has returned from its trip in eastern Oregon.

Glenn Gregory and Merrill Farwell were home from Goldson over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallie Sprenger of near Corvallis were in Shedd Sunday visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud McElvain of Goldson stopped in Shedd on their way to Portland, Tuesday.

Alford Arrows

(Enterprise Correspondence)

E. A. Starnes and family went to Newport Sunday for a few days outing.

Charles Jenks and family of Tangent visited Charles' sister, Mrs. J. H. Rickard, Sunday.

J. F. Isom and family of Oakridge visited his mother, Mrs. D. I. Isom, Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Lee Ingram and daughter Thelma called on Mrs. E. A. Starnes one afternoon last week.

Mrs. Lee Ingram and daughter Thelma and Kate Green are camped at the Cartwright and Lowell hop yards.

Doris Robnett is staying with her grandmother, Mrs. D. I. Isom, while her mother and sister DeEtta are picking hops.

Al Waggener, wife and son and son Clarence and Miss Palmer were Sunday afternoon callers at the E. D. Isom home.

Mrs. Harpoole and daughter and her sister-in-law, Rose Ann Harpoole, were afternoon callers at the A. E. Whitbeck home Sunday.

Mrs. Cynthia Ward and daughter Belle and son Francis and the latter's wife and his sister, Mrs. Kate Skinner of Albany, called on Mrs. D. I. Isom Thursday evening.

Visitors at the E. D. Isom home Sunday were Mrs. L. E. Bon' and daughter Vera and son Lester of Albany, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sickness and son of Eugene and Frank Bond of Springfield.

Mrs. E. A. Starnes and sister, Hattie Dannen, went to Eugene Thursday to consult an oculist about Miss Dannen's eyes. Mrs. Starnes returned home with her sister to visit until Saturday evening.

Beverly Isom entertained several of her little friends with a lawn party Friday afternoon. Those present were Alice Sturtevant, June Layton, Dorothy Corcoran, Margaret Moore, Lucille Shook, Retta Armstrong, Hattie Starnes, Myrtle and Harold Shook, Catherine Starnes and the hostess.

The velvet bean works well in double harness with corn.

Clean, fresh water is essential to the proper growth of animals.

Yes, a real dirt farmer loves his dirt and protects and improves it.

Make garden work easier by the use of a good wheel-row cultivator.

Spring is a good time to peel bark from young trees which you want to use for fence posts.

Double Wedding

The double wedding of Miss Marie Stewart to Marion E. Fraley and her sister Mildred to Peter F. Enns, occurred at Portland last Saturday. Both Marie and Mildred are former Halsey girls and have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Mrs. Anna Rector, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Pike, Red Pearl, Mrs. Georgia Hoyer and son Robert and Robert Stewart attended the wedding.

Dr. Charles McCaughey, pastor of Centenary Wilbur M. E. church, officiated. Ralph Worth was soloist. Following the ceremony a reception was held and refreshments served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fraley went to Cannon Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Enns left for a three-weeks trip through Washington and British Columbia. After their return both couples will reside in Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Fraley occupying a new home now under construction.

All the matter below in this column was left over last week for want of time to put it in type.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bramwell, C. P. Moody and wife and Mrs. Adda Pingo were all Eugene visitors Saturday evening.

Mrs. L. C. Merriam was an Albany shopper Tuesday.

A. W. Dockstader returned to his home in Portland Tuesday, after a visit to Brownsville.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Penland drove to Newport Saturday and P. J. Forster and Delos Wesley also drove over with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Laubner. The party visited Toledo and viewed the big sawmill, which employs 500 men.

Miss Enid Veatch has returned to school at Eugene after a two-weeks visit with home folks.

Mrs. H. Freerksen, Mrs. Dora Davis, Mrs. Agnes Clark and Bernice and Patricia Shone of Shedd and Mrs. Frank Workinger and children were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Freerksen Tuesday.

Miss Freda Koch of Portland is spending her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Koch.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dethman and children of Hood River are visiting Mrs. Dethman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Koch.

The Potter thrashing company expects to finish the fall run Friday.

The G. R. Walker family will probably stay with Halsey and her schools this winter, though G. R. may go away to follow his trade of carpenter for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Herold of Albany visited at the A. C. Armstrong home Sunday.

Mrs. Armstrong and Helen and Delma Wahl were in Eugene Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong and daughter Helen were in Albany Thursday.

The Globe theater at Albany will admit free every pioneer who crossed the plains before 1850 to the show "The Covered Wagon," which is coming back Aug. 15, 16, 17 and 18. It is one of the best screen plays.

F. M. Maxwell of Tangent, passing a farm near Jefferson, saw a fire that would soon have destroyed a 60-acre field of grain. He put out the blaze with a fire extinguisher he carried in his car.

A. L. Bostwick sold the Lebanon Criterion to E. A. Koen and the latter in turn sold it to Alexander & McMillan, publishers of the Express, who will consolidate the publications.

William McDowell ran down a full-grown art and stepped on it Friday at the corner by Dr. Marks' office. This limited the speed of its locomotion and Barber Stephenson's dog finished the job and the existence of the rodent.

George Maxwell and Jim McWilliams have made a new house of the Maxwell home, though it did not look old before.

William White has been putting a new shingle roof on the Skirvin residence.

PINE GROVE ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Johnson went to Oregon City Sunday.

Mrs. R. K. Stewart and granddaughters went to Eugene Friday to help care for Mrs. Stewart's mother a few days.

Misses Agnes Chandler and Helen Williams have gone to the Harrisburg hop yards to make their fortunes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Minckley attended the celebration at Longview and Kelso, returning Sunday.

TORRANCE

Reconditioning Shop
Parts for All Cars

Willard Batteries

212 East First st., Albany
Phone 379

HALSEY RAILROAD TIME

North	South
No. 18, 11:37 a. m.	No. 17, 12:15 p. m.
24, 2:27 p. m.	23, 7:26 p. m.
22, 3:20 a. m.	21, 11:32 p. m.
Nos. 21 and 22 stop only if flagged.
No. 14, due Halsey at 5:09 p. m., stops to let off passengers from south of Roseburg.
No. 23 runs to Eugene only.
No. 21 runs to Eugene, thence Marshfield branch.
Passengers for south of Roseburg should take No. 17 to Eugene and there transfer to No. 15.

SUNDAY MAIL HOURS

The delivery window of the Halsey postoffice is open Sundays from 10:40 to 10:50 a. m. and 12:15 to 12:30 p. m.

Sunday mail goes out only on the north-bound 11:37 train:

Mail goes south once a day, closing at 11:05 a. m.; north twice, closing 11:25 a. m. and 5:30 p. m. Mail stage for Brownsville, Crawfordville and Sweet Home leaves daily at 6:45 a. m.

Paid-for Paragraphs

(5c a line)

Ash wood for sale.
E. S. HAYES.

Old papers for sale at 5c a bundle at the Enterprise office.

M. Sternberg & Co.

2 STORES

Ladies' Store, First and Lyon
Men's store, First and Broadalbin
Albany

WOOD! WOOD!

FOR SALE

Good body fir Wood, dry, $6.00 a cord f. o. b. Shedd or Halsey. 164 cords in car. Address
J. D. CAIN, Summit, Or., box 105

FOR RENT

100-acre Farm

1 mile south and 1/2 mile west of Halsey. Cash or grain rent.
B. T. SUDELL, auctioneer, owner,
Albany, Oregon

WANTED

Blue Damson Plums

Enterprise office

Pine Grove Patters

(Enterprise Correspondence)

Mr. and Mrs. Will McLaren were Albany callers Thursday.

Miss Sophia Heinrich is spending her vacation at her home.

Mrs. Mary Palmer visited her niece, Mrs. L. E. Eagy, last week.

Mrs. Hainline is very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Otto Neff.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Pike were Sunday visitors at the E. E. Hoyer home.

Mr. and Mrs. Munson of Albany and Estes Bass and family visited at the Pehrsson home Sunday.

L. E. Eagy and family and Mrs. Mary Palmer were Corvallis visitors Sunday, Mrs. Palmer remaining to make an extended visit with her daughter and sister.

The entertainment given by the Pine Grove community club Saturday evening was well attended and enjoyed. Music by the Pine Grove orchestra and ice cream were among the leading features of entertainment.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

of final account

Notice is hereby given that the final account of S. S. Hayes as administrator with the will annexed of the estate of S. A. Ribelin, deceased, has been filed in the County Court of the State of Oregon for Linn County, and that the 24th day of August, 1924, at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m., has been duly appointed by said court for the hearing of objections to said final account and the settlement thereof, at which time any person interested in said estate may appear and file objections thereto in writing and contest the same. Dated and first published July 24, 1924. S. S. HAYES, Administrator aforesaid.

A. A. TUSSING, Atty. for Admr.

Ends prostration annoyance

ODO-RO-NO

CREME ODO-RO-NO

and

ENDOSPHERE

RINGO DRUG STORE

C. C. Dickson, tow Shedd Jersey breeder, has two registered Jersey bulls and he gives them needed exercise and makes them earn their board pumping water. He has a treadmill in which they work on alternate days.