Oregon is Not Dead! Hofer & Sons' bulletin of last week contains, among other indications that the knockers who declare that the income tax is strangling industry and killing Oregon are fools or liars, the following:

Wallowa — Bowman Hicks saw-mill starts double shift of men.

North Bend — Hoop plant opens with orders for more than a year.

Pendleton — Woolen mills get contract for 3000 blankets for new hotel at Seattle.

Polk County — Assessed property is $14,160 over last year.

St. Helens — Foundation placed for dry kiln for wood products plant.

Resources of 278 Oregon banks are $318,991,712, against $314,406,120 a year ago.

Seio — Electrically driven pruner dryer costs $10,000.

Oregon City — Byrne Manufacturing company plans to increase capital to $100,000 and employ 300 men.

Garibaldi — New woodworking plant to employ 35 men.

Those who talk isolation talk nonsense. They have talked it for political purposes, and the talk, which committed an administration to such a policy, has delayed stabilization of world affairs for three years and cost the people of this country millions of dollars. — Portland Journal.

A gift of one thousand yen from the imperial household of Japan, has just been received by the Japanese W. C. T. U. to assist them in temperance work.
