Greeks and Turks May Fight Again

Nation Aroused Over Expulsion of Patriarchate From Constantinople.

Athens.—With neither money nor manpower, but with the populace worked up to a fever heat over what is considered an indignity on the nation's church, Greece talked loudly of going to war again with her old enemy, Turkey.

The government went so far as to sever diplomatic relations with Ankara, recalling the charge d'affaires, and then decided to compromise on a nation-wide protest and an appeal to the League of Nations.

Turkey expelled the ancient Oecumenical patriarchate of the Greek Catholic church, which had been located in Constantinople since 1600.

After Turkey had soundly whipped Greece in the war started by King Constantine, a treaty drawn up at Lausanne stipulated that the patriarchates of the orthodox church, established for centuries in Constantinople, should not be disturbed.

The Greek government contends that Turkey has broken the treaty and that other bishops of the church are destined for expulsion.

The Oecumenical patriarch, as the name implies, was head of the Greek Catholic church throughout the world, and his being driven out by the Turks is considered an affront by every pious Greek.

"The Right Can Afford to Wait"

Washington, D. C.—The child labor amendment to the federal constitution apparently has been defeated, for the present at least.

The legislatures of 13 states have taken unfavorable action on the amendment which would give the federal government power to forbid employment of anyone under 18 years old in factory, store or on the farm.

To be enacted the amendment had to be ratified by three-fourths of the 48 states. Thus 13 negative votes meant defeat. Advocates of the amendment will not consider themselves defeated as, according to all precedent, constitutional amendments are pending until ratified, the prohibition amendment being the only one ever passed with a time limit for ratification.

Coolidge Orders Freight Rate Inquiry. Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge signed the Smith-Hoch resolution directing the interstate commerce commission to conduct an investigation into the general freight rate structure to develop whether agricultural products now bear an unfair portion of the general rate charges.

Germany Favors Safety Pact. Berlin.—Chancellor Luther told the foreign press Germany is willing to co-operate in formulating a world-wide safety pact, or one on narrower lines, if this is impossible.

Halsey Happenings

L. E. Arnold has electrified his poultry farm; 5000 eggs are in electric incubators.

The appraisers of Mrs. Pamer's estate are C. H. Koontz, E. E. Gormley and Edith Robnett. J. C. Bramwell is administrator.

Brownsville news, postmarked at 12 o'clock Jan. 27 at Shedd, was received at the postoffice here last Thursday morning, the 25th, after the Enterprise had been mailed Wednesday evening.

The county has received from secretary of state Koser $5,644 of about $6,500 estimated to be its share of receipts from the Santiam National forest. One-third goes to schools and the balance to roads.

The Stenberg contract for strawberries at not less than 5 cents, and more if the market warrants, is for 5 years. For this year the contract minimum now is 6 cents a pound. Plant some, and plant them early, so you may get a full yield.

Rex Tussing brought in the first correct answer to the cross-word puzzle in last week's Enterprise and got the 50 cent prize. The answer is published this week. Although last week's Enterprise told of five people sent to the Oregon state asylum after having gone insane over cross-word puzzles, Rex still appears to be quite sane.

Halsey names in the list from which jurors are to be drawn this year are Nell C. Frum, Irwin L. Gardner, G. W. Gibson, Elmer E. Gormley, Mabel Hadley, George G. Hockensmith, Frederick Jackson, A. L. Knighten, John LaRue, Seth A. Mills, Oliver P. Nicholson, John M. Porter, John Palmer, Ralph Tobey, William P.
