Irwin Gardner and wife and daughter visited at the A. C. Armstrong home Sunday.

Kenneth Vannice came home from Willamette university for a week end with home folks.

The W. F. M. S. of the M. E. church will meet at the home of Mrs. Merriam Friday afternoon at 2.

Seth Mills' mother is very ill this week. Her son and daughter and nephew and niece are at her bedside.

A tax turnover of over $28,000 from the sheriff's office to that of the county treasurer was made Saturday.

W. W. Stewart and family of Albany visited Mrs. Stewart's sister, Mrs. A. C. Armstrong, Sunday afternoon.

George Workinger, L. H. and A. C. Armstrong attended the tractor school at Barrett Kros, in Albany Friday.

The weather sharps have at last quit telling us that we are short on rainfall for the season and admit that we have gone over the normal. And the streams remain bank full.

Mrs. George Workinger and little daughter came home from Corvallis Sunday. Mr. Workinger has a big smile on his face. He does not like his own cooking.

Miss Carmelita Woodworth came over from Brownsville Friday and went with Mrs. Ringo to hear the Albany-Brownsville debate on the desirability of a third party. Albany won.

Chester Allyn and wife of Caselar near Upper Soda, where they are preparing a summer resort, caught two timber wolves in a trap, and one of them was badly chewed by other wolves after he was in the trap.

Those who are reading our story, "Sinners in Heaven," will concede that this week, at the conclusion of the fourth chapter of part four, the leading characters are in more kinds of trouble than are ever supposed to exist behind the pearly gates.

Page & Son, Portland produce dealers, evidently find that advertising in the Enterprise pays. They have been running a couple of inches once in two weeks. Now comes an order to insert it every week until further orders. They must be giving satisfaction to patrons, too, for without that not even good advertising would be a permanent benefit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Dawson left Saturday, after about a weeks visit with Mrs. Dawson's aunt, Mrs. W. F. Carter. They are from Shelby county, Mo., and have made a trip through California. From here they went to visit relatives in Albany and in Washington and Montana on their way home. Mrs. Carter has not met her niece since the latter was 11 years old, over 40 years ago.

State Grange Master Palmer Saturday told the Linn-Benton-Pomona grange that the state grange opposes the four proposed laws (1) abolishing the office of state market agent, (2) abolishing the office of state prohibition director, (3) placing the market road fund in the power of the state commission placing the market road commission

Governor Pierce has issued a proclamation prohibiting the importation into Oregon of poultry from the fowl disease districts of the east and middle west, unless certified by the Oregon state livestock sanitary board. Baby chicks and eggs are not affected by the proclamation, and a few states were exempted from its operations.

School Notes

The basketball teams of the Philomath and Halsey high schools met in two games on the Philomath floor Friday evening. The girls' team came home with the honors, for they skillfully worked off the tie score, which was 10 to 10 in the beginning of the last half, and changed the attitude of Halsey rooters from suspense to elation. The game ended with a score of 14 to 20 in their favor. The baskets made by the forwards of both sides were all field goals.

The players on the Philomath team were: forwards, Ethel and Mildred Cooper; centers, Lindley and Lein; guards, Newton and Lutz. The Halsey line-up was the same as in the previous game.

The boys fought a hard game, but were defeated 26 to 7. The players for Halsey were: guards, Robnett (1) and Tussing (2); center, Wooley; forwards, Koontz (4) and Cross; substitute, Palmer (2). The Philomath players were:

forwards, Brown (6) and Richard (6); center, Jones (6); guards, Milton and Schorn (8); substitute, Hathway.

A reception was held for the teams after the games, at which a number of the players made short speeches, mostly emphasizing the sportsmanship shown by the schools.

Clark of Halsey refereed both games.

Three of the high school boys, George Cross, Thomas Miller and Frank Koontz, aided the alumni Saturday evening in winning a basketball game from the Oakville Stars. This made the fourth time Halsey has defeated this team. The contest was played in the Oakville community building and the score was 18 to 8.

Seio high school will send two teams here Friday evening to play basketball. Both the boys and girls here are planning to show up at the finish as the winners.

Sam Moore of Corvallis, who looks as tall as Lincoln and admits he is homelier, is the champion settin' hen of Oregon. He has an electric incubator which fills a huge hatchery building at Corvallis, and in it he is hatching 50,000 chicks. He built this world-famed hatchery without any state appropriation. He is operating his very profitable business without being supervised by any state commission or regulated by any state bureau. It is a private enterprise, in which he and his son are partners. They profit by being situated near Oregon Agricultural College, a state institution which has paid for itself several times over in the development of the poultry industry in Oregon.—Oregon Voter.

REPUBLICANS TO CAUCUS

Move to Bar Wisconsin Delegation Considered Likely.

Washington, D. C.—House republicans will caucus Friday night, February 27, to decide upon their candidate for speaker and a floor leader.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the republican committee on committees of the house.

Under a resolution adopted by the committee, republicans who will serve during the 69th congress, and are not members of the present house, will be invited to participate in the conference.

No action was taken as to whether La Follette insurgents should be invited to attend.

There were indications, however, that a move would be made either before the caucus or after it gets under way to bar the Wisconsin delegation and perhaps one or two other representatives from that and future conferences of house republicans.

Hard times? Save 50c.

Money scarce? Save 50c.

Money is scarce here, too, so scarce that we are offering one-third off to get it.

Within the past few years nearly all the weekly newspapers that sold for $1.50 a year have raised the price to $2. The Enterprise proposes to go the other way. How can it afford to do this when paper and typesetting cost twice as much as they used to and the paper is larger and more type is set for it each week than ever before?

Cutting Out Waste Credit is waste. Bookkeeping and collecting consume time, and time is money. Some debtors die, some move away, some go bankrupt and some are downright dishonest persons. Those who pay $1.50 cover these losses.

A New Class of subscribers is started today. All who join it before Wednesday, Feb. 18, will get

The Enterprise one year for one dollar

The Paper will Stop Coming at the end of the term unless the subscription is renewed. The money will be used in making a better paper for the subscriber during the life of the subscription, not in improving it for the benefit of somebody else the next year.

Anybody Can Join this economy and improvement class any time before Feb. 18, 1925. If the subscription has been paid in advance a dollar will set the date ahead one year. Those in arrears can pay to date at 12 1/2 cents a month and a dollar more will bring them

the Enterprise a Year

It Will Stop coming to every member of this dollar class when the time expires unless the subscription is renewed.

The Enterprise will continue to improve as fast as receipts from its patrons make improvement possible.

Linn County Farm Features will continue to be given prominence. Every farmer can learn something from some other farmer under similar conditions of soil and climate that it will be profitable for him to know.

In Other Lines The weekly discussion of the international Sunday school lesson, discontinued about three years ago, when misfortune crippled the finances of the Enterprise, will appear regularly. The paper will also carry

More than twice as much local news and good-natured gossip as can be found elsewhere

Brief statements of important world events

Daddy's evening fairy tales

Serial stories. When we have finished with "Sinners in Heaven" we expect to publish "So Big," the most successful story of 1924, picturization of which has been running in Portland and Albany theaters—a farm story worth more than a year's subscription.
