

GLOBE ALBANY Sunday-Monday-Tuesday April 5-6-7 MARY PICKFORD IN DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON OF HALL America's sweetheart in one of her greatest productions. Coming. "Husbands and Lovers!"

Halsey Happenings

D. S. McWilliams was up from his home in Albany Friday.

Mrs. Linn Norton succeeds Miss Schroll as librarian at the public library.

The highway between Harrisburg and Eugene is to be paved with concrete.

The recently-organized Past-Grand club met Friday with Mrs. W. H. McMahan.

Albany merchants are considering a boycott of wholesale firms that refuse to ship merchandise to local customers by railroad.

R. A. McCully was here from Eugene Wednesday. Business took him over Brownsville way.

The Methodist congregation worshipped with that at the Church of Christ Sunday night.

Roberta, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Bramwell, who was quite ill last week, is much improved.

J. S. Nicewood, whose first initial was given wrong in an advertisement in the Enterprise last week, nevertheless got the hogs he called for. Now he has white seed oats for sale.

Elder Harry E. Tucker has resigned as pastor of the Church of Christ at Albany and will devote his time to the insurance business, to his herd of eight registered Guernsey cattle and to boosting the Guernsey breed in Linn county.

Mrs. A. A. Tussing and Mesdames T. I. Marks, J. W. Drinkard, C. P. Stafford and W. H. McMahan drove to Brownsville Thursday afternoon and attended a tea given by the Women's club of that city for the benefit of the library.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Marsters were the recipients of a complete radio outfit on the 27th. It was sent from Boston, by their son Will as a birthday present from their four sons. They say: "Come, neighbors and friends, and enjoy this with us."

At the Friday night spring opening show at Albany The Elsie Clothing company and the Fisher-Braden Furniture company, both of which advertised the event in the Enterprise, stood high among prize winners. Barclay Newman, we suppose, was their artist.

Burglars who seem not to have feared to get near the courts stole apparatus for acetylene welding from the county repair shop Friday night, entered the courthouse at Albany, blowtorched their way into the treasurer's safe and got the princely sum of $293.67 for their pains.

Oregon City for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Brock.

Dr. Marks was an Albany visitor Thursday.

Miss Mary LaRue was in Albany Wednesday.

Glenn Hill of Harrisburg was in Halsey Saturday.

Miss Doris Lake was a Eugene visitor Thursday.

C. W. Gibson of Corvallis was a Halsey visitor Thursday.

Miss Bonita Tussing, who went to Portland with her mother last week, is employed by the Meier & Frank company.

Mrs. Esther Rike, housekeeper for the "Theta Chi" house in Corvallis, spent spring-vacation week with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Straley, and family.

George Chandler drove to Albany Wednesday to see his wife and little son, who had been there for a few days. Mrs. Chandler was suffering with infection in her hand and was under a doctor's care.

Mrs. E. E. Gormley, who was on the sick list last week, is considerably improved and her daughter, Mrs. George Alford, returned to her home in Irving Sunday, after having been with her mother for several days.

57-year-old News

S. J. Smith sent to this office some scraps of paper taken from a wall in his home in spring cleaning. We presume this paper had been covered over many times since first used. This time it came off. One item gives assurance that Yaquina bay is to be surveyed. It reads: "Washington, June 10, 1863. To F. A. Chenaweth, Corvallis: "Department telegraphed today, ordering party to proceed immediately to make survey." "H. W. Corbett."

This paper was published at Salem, apparently, but its title does not appear on the fragment in question.

There was also a piece of a Portland paper called the Herald.

Short items in the paper are:

Notice of the death of Ex-president Buchanan from pleuropneumonia.

Statement that the tax of one cent a box on matches yields to the government $1,500,000.

San Francisco has $60,000,000 worth of assessed personal property.

Schuyler Colfax, being an editor, is a good candidate for vice-president.

Lewis Washington, a negro, was fined $5000 and sent to prison for marrying a white woman.

Gun Play

There was gun play in Halsey the other day and the sound of it excited many inquiries. Now don't get excited. It wasn't rifles nor shotguns that played, and there was no danger of bloodshed. It was Frank Gansle using what he calls a "chipping gun" to cut one side, and part of the ends out of a tank made of quarter-inch iron and convert it into a water trough. The "gun" is primarily a riveting machine and strikes less than a million blows a minute. Substituting a cold chisel for the hammer head Frank cut the two gashes the whole length of the tank and two across the ends with a sound that at a distance resembled that made by an airplane but close at hand was more deafening.

Why is it a good letter to have at a party? Because it is always in the middle of fun.

So Big

William Talcott had known Pervus and Pervus' father before him, and had adjudged them honest, admirable men. But of their garden truck he had small opinion.

In his doorway, he eyed the spare little figure that appeared before him all in rusty black, with its strained anxious face, its great deep-sunk eyes.

"DeJong, eh? Sorry to hear about your loss, ma'am. Pervus was a fine lad. No great shakes at truck farming, though. His widow, hm? Hm." Here, he saw, was no dail-witted farm woman; no wild Dutch woman's truckster. He went out to her wagon, tweaked the boy's brown cheek.

"We-al now, Miss DeJong, you get a little smart lot of garden stuff here and it looks pretty good. Yesair, pretty good. But you're too late. Ten, pret' near."

"Oh, no!" cried Selma. "Oh, no! Not too late!" And at the agony in her voice he looked at her sharply.

"Tell you what, mebbe I can move half of 'em along for you. But stuff don't keep this weather. Turns wilty and my trade won't touch it. . . . First trip in!"

She wiped her face that was damp and yet cold to the touch. "First-trip in." Suddenly she was finding it absurdly hard to breathe.

He called from the sidewalk to the men within: "George! Ben! Huette! This stuff in. Half of it. The best. Send you check tomorrow, Miss DeJong."

Damaged Clover Fields Will Produce Hay Crop

Clover fields that have been damaged or destroyed by freezing may be made to produce a good crop of hay by thickening the stand with oats, barley or sweet clover, or by plowing the land and planting an emergency crop of soy beans, sorghum, sudan grass, millet or oats and Canada peas.

If the stand of clover is very much thinned oats or barley may be seeded at the rate of three or four pecks per acre with a disk drill in April or early May and cut with the clover for hay when the grain is in the milk stage. Sweet clover sown with the grain will furnish pasture after the hay is harvested.

Where the clover is nearly all killed out a good crop of hay may be grown by plowing the land, drilling three to six pecks of soy beans to the acre, or seeding sorghum at the rate of fifty pounds broadcast or ten pounds in rows. Oats and Canada field peas are seeded in April at the rate of 1 1/2 bushels each per acre, and if cut when the oats is in the dough, make excellent hay.

Believe Legumes Enrich Soil by Using Nitrogen

The clovers, alfalfa, beans, peas, in fact all the legumes, are believed to enrich the soil by taking part of their nitrogen from the air and leaving large stores of this element of plant growth in the soil for following crops. This is true if the legume be inoculated with a bacteria which forms nodules on the roots of the plant as they gather nitrogen from the air.

The species of bacteria generally differ for the different legumes. This makes it necessary usually to inoculate the seed or soil for a legume the first time it is grown in a field. There are a few exceptions to this rule, such as alfalfa after sweet clover.

Lobbying Postal Heads Demoted

Washington, D. C.—Postmaster General New directed the restoration to duty, with demotion of each of the six postal supervisory officials suspended January 2 for their connection with efforts to influence legislation at the time of consideration of the postal pay increase bill.

Air Mail Bids to be Called

Spokane, Wash.—Bids for contracts for carrying air mail between Elko, Nev., and Pasco, Wash., will be advertised for by the postoffice department within three weeks, says information from Washington received here. It is hoped to make the award early in May, it is declared. The department calculates that the contractor will equip his planes to permit carrying passengers and express to augment his revenue from the mail contract.

Pine Grove Points

(By an Enterprise Reporter) Myrel Settle was a Portland visitor Wednesday.

Miss Anna Heinrich of Corvallis a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Myrel Settle and daughter are spending a few weeks at R. K. Stewart's.

Mrs. George Chandler visited friends in Albany several days last week.

Miss Pearl Perrison came home from normal school Wednesday evening, returning Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Belsler, a Free Methodist evangelist, preached at the Pine Grove church Sunday morning.

Ray Hover and A. L. Knighten went to the Sandy river smelt fishing last week.

The Young People's Missionary society met at W. G. McNeill's Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Haynes visited Mr. Haynes' brother, Art Haynes, at the Corvallis hospital Sunday afternoon. Mr. Haynes has been very low with pneumonia, but is improving now.

Will McLaren jr., accompanied by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shick on their return to their home in the east and little Mina Schick remained here to make her home with Mrs. McLaren.

Mrs. Schroll is Gone

The Linn county Jersey jubilee will be at the J. C. Brown farm, at Shedd, May 26.

When the Enterprise was printed last Wednesday it stated that Mrs. Schroll's condition was serious. Early the next morning the end came at the quarters in Albany where she had been taken. Her funeral was at Forest Grove, where her husband had been buried a few weeks ago.

For several years the old gentleman had been failing with softening of the brain. His wife and daughter Ruby strove to care for him at home, but finally both of them became so weakened with the strain that they consented to his removal to Salem.

He did not long survive there and Mrs. Schroll, already seriously ill, never recovered from the shock of his death.

The Schrolls came to Oregon fourteen years ago and Halsey has been their home since then.

Mrs. Schroll was 68 years old. Miss Ruby and five other children survive: Mrs. J. H. Sturgis of Rex, Oregon; Mrs. C. E. Carlson of Laddoma, Miss.; G. W. Schroll of Winter Haven, Florida; J. B. Schroll of Rector, Oregon; and E. K. Schroll of Akron, Colorado; Mrs. Lillie Randke of Seattle, Mrs. E. M. Sturgis of Idaho, W. Clayville of Portland, D. C. Clayville of Florida, C. Clayville of Nebraska and J. Clayville of Boise, Idaho are brother and sisters.

Of approximately 80,000,000 meat animals passing under the scrutiny of Federal inspectors, during the last fiscal year, the vast majority proved to be healthy and went into the various channels of the meat trade. But the fact that slightly more than a third of a million carcasses and nearly 1,500,000 parts of carcasses were condemned at slaughter indicates the searching character of the inspection.

H. C. Davis and his sister, Mrs. Hugh Leeper, drove to Albany Thursday.

Schools Commended

Both Harrisburg and Halsey are blessed with first class schools that are correspondingly well equipped and conducted, Mrs. Edna Geer, county school superintendent, reports.

Mrs. Geer says that the enrollment in all of the Harrisburg schools is 239, one of the largest rolls ever occurring there. The average attendance was 199.

At Halsey under the direction of Prof. W. F. English there are 51 in the high school and 82 in the grades. The average total attendance is 105, or 97.2 per cent. Scarcely is this attendance record exceeded, Mrs. Geer said. The Halsey school was found well equipped and doing excellent work.

School Notes
