Doings of Our Populace Chronicled in Brief Paragraphs

How to be cool—Take Amundsen's back track.

A. A. Tussing went to Hood River and The Dalles at the week end.

Miss Mona Bond will be dean of girls and physical instructor at Jerome, Ariz., next term.

Olive Rice is executor of the estate of James Rice, late of Holley. Estimated value, $1,800.

The harvest truly is great but the laborers are few in this valley, just as in Palestine a couple of thousand years ago.

Miss Fleeta Livick has a new cement sidewalk in front of her home on Second Street. That's good for her and good for Halsey.

Mrs. Jesse Bond of Grand Forks, N. D., daughter of H. C. Davis, and her little daughter are here for a visit of a month or two.

Chancy Sickels is in the Albany co-operative creamery and is offering his new thrashing machine for sale because he thinks it will pay him to give more of his time to his cows.

Mrs. O. F. Brooks and daughter Mary left Tuesday of last week for her home in St. Paul, Minn. She had been called here May 18 to attend the funeral of her father, J. W. Hussey.

For the protection of the Harrisburg bridge the contractors are building 800 feet of revetment above it on the east bank of the river and the highway commission proposes to put in 2000 feet on the west side.

Miss Gladys Holcomb of Wenatchee, Wash., spent Tuesday night of last week with Mrs. J. W. Hussey and family. Miss Holcomb was on her way to Minot, S. Dak., to visit her parents.

Carl Hill visited Corvallis Sunday.

Seth Mills and wife are visiting in Idaho.

Mrs. M. V. Fox has been suffering with lumbago.

Alvin Leeper was here from Alpine over the week end.

S. S. Hayes of Portland was here over the week end.

Joe Kirk and wife of Eugene visited at Frank Kirk's Sunday.

Harrisburg forbids the use of firecrackers in streets or alleys.

W. A. Carey and wife visited Tillamook, the cheese metropolis, last week.

Jess Cross and wife went camping on the Calapooia over the week end.

Misses Mona Bond and Nettie Spencer will take a summer course at O. A. C.

The road from Foster to Cascadia, made impassable by rains, is open again.

H. F. English and wife have had an eleven-pound girl at their home since Friday.

W. F. Carter and Bert Minckley sent a double-deck carload of lambs to Portland Monday.

The railroad trains are taking many thrashing machines north through town these days.

The Staffords are enjoying a visit from their niece, Miss Dicksy Dryden of Oregon City.

A rise in price to 75 cents for Sunday chicken dinner and 60 cents for other meals at the Inn has been announced.

Miss Cleona Smith visited her cousin, Mrs. O. B. Stalnaker, and husband at Corvallis the latter part of the week.

Dr. T. I. Marks proposes to occupy the quarters in the post-office building, originally built as an office for Dr. Garnjobst and for several recent years used as a residence.

A mistake was made in "making up" page 3 this week. Eighteen lines of the story, "Their Name Was Legion," were placed under Dr. Ficq's advertisement, in the third column of page 3, which should have gone at the top of the column. Read those lines before you do the balance of the column and the sense will be clear.

(Enterprise Correspondent)

Miss Lillie Rickard came home from Eugene for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Allen and children visited Chester Curtis Sunday.

Mrs. J. F. Isom and sons of Oakridge are visiting Mrs. D. I. Isom.

Mrs. John Rolfe called on Mrs. A. E. Whitbeck Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lee Ingram and Thelma called on Mrs. John Rolfe Sunday afternoon.

Harry Bias of Woodburn spent Friday night with his brother, George Bias.

Mrs. W. C. Sickels and son Harold of Coburg visited at E. D. Isom's Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. L. E. Bond of Albany spent Friday night with her daughter, Mrs. E. D. Isom, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jordan of Raymond, Wash., visited at Lee Ingram's Wednesday night of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Whitbeck and Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Curtis and children were Sunday afternoon callers at Mrs. D. I. Isom's.

Mrs. Minnie Starnes and daughter Kathryn and Mrs. Fanny Lettenmeir and son Harold spent Thursday and Friday at Wallace Sprenger's, near Shedd.

The dirtiest, most disgusting places in the world—the garbage cans, the manure pile, carcasses of dead animals, and still worse, the privy, are all happy hunting grounds for the fly, and so is the dinner table, and he moves back and forth from one place to the other with a jaunty disregard for consequences. If somebody is using the privy who has typhoid or dysentery the result is an epidemic—which forsooth is promptly laid to eating green or overripe fruit. Swat the fly.

Probably Amundsen got as near the pole as Peary or Cook, but he is willing to admit he did not reach it.

Church of Christ

We are still enjoying a good offering; good interest shown. Sunday school; 71 present; $5. You that do not attend anywhere, we invite you. We need you.

The church at Halsey loves the Lord and His work, therefore it has sent its pastor and his wife to help in a meeting at Mehama, Oreg. That is why we only have preaching once a Sunday.

Everybody is busy haying.

R. A. McCully was in town Saturday.

Many people from here attended the picnic at Brownsville.

Miss Mary LaRue is home from her visit at Grass Valley.

G. W. Hockensmith and family visited Corvallis Saturday evening.

Roy Farmer of Halsey has been helping O. G. Coldiron with his hay.

R. M. Jones and family of Benton county spent Sunday at Martin Cummings'.

Miss Lavelle Palmer went to Corvallis Sunday. She expects to attend summer school there.

N. H. Cummings and family were in Albany Friday morning. They returned early and spent the afternoon at the pioneer picnic.

Thomas Ardy and wife reached home Friday night after a month spent in Pennsylvania visiting relatives. They saw "no land like Oregon."

Henry Brock was a visitor at Belknap Springs this week end. Mrs. Brock is improving in health and enjoying her stay there. Miss Sarah William is with her.

Mrs. John Gormely and Miss Myrtle Tobey visited at Martin Cummings' Sunday. Miss Tobey took the evening train for Eugene, where she will enter summer school.

George McNeil, who has been suffering from rheumatism, has gone to Belknap Springs to spend some time. He hopes to get relief from the mineral water there.

Italy Willing to Talk Debts.
Rome.—Premier Mussolini officially notified the United States and Great Britain that Italy is ready to open war debt negotiations.

MACMILLAN OFF FOR ARCTIC

Arctic Explorer Is Given Ovation at Maine Port.

Wisconsin, Maine.—From this sleepy inland whaling town on the Sheepscott river Commander Donald B. MacMillan's arctic expedition set out for unknown lands in the frozen north.

Bidden Godspeed by officials of the American government, the state of Maine and by thousands of country folk who drove the old gray mare or the family flivver down to Wisconsin to see the departure, MacMillan and his comrades turned the prows of their staunch little vessels, the Perry and the Bowdoin, toward the open sea.

If all goes well, it will be the latter part of September before this most ambitious of American arctic explorations since Peary's day returns to the rock-bound coast of MacMillan's home state.

Chair Manufacturers Fined $166,000.

Chicago, Ill.—Fifty defendants indicated in the recent furniture case under the Sherman anti-trust law pleaded guilty and were fined a total of $166,000 by Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe. The defendants fined were companies located in Illinois, Ohio, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Michigan, West Virginia, New York, Indiana and Massachusetts.

Oregon Fish Hatcheries Head Ousted.

Portland, Or.—Summary removal of Hugh C. Mitchell, director of commercial fish hatcheries, and appointment of R. E. Clanton to succeed to the position immediately, was the chief action of the state fish commission at a special meeting in the commission headquarters Saturday afternoon.

Mitchell, who was a former veteran government hatchery expert, came to the commission one and one-half years ago on a four-year contract, but the new commission learned that this contract could not be made to hold. No explanation was given for the removal.

Mexico to Pay on Appropriated Lands
Mexico City.—The Mexican government has authorized the issue of $50,000,000 in bonds to pay for land appropriated by the agrarians.

Sunday Mother's Inn gave a chicken dinner to the twenty girls of the Lebanon Big Sisters farm, conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lyons.

Brownsville Briefs

(Enterprise Correspondence)

Bruce Burson drove to Portland one day last week.

Mrs. Barbara Darling of Albany was down last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Tussing of Halsey attended the picnic Friday.

Uncle Frank Darling, from Springfield attended the pioneer picnic Thursday.

Mrs. Emma Harrison attended the memorial services at Providence Sunday.

Mrs. Hazel Moyer of Corvallis was renewing old acquaintances a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tyler drove to Newport Friday, returning Sunday evening.

Jim Burson drove to Hood River the middle of last week, expecting to return Monday.

Gretie Harrison was operated on for appendicitis at the Albany hospital Sunday afternoon. She is getting along nicely.

Dave Paine, from Sheridan, came up Saturday evening and returned Sunday. His wife and daughter, who had been here to attend the pioneer picnic, accompanied him home.

The Brownsville Baptist Sunday school is planning the Linn county annual Baptist picnic, to be held in the park July 4. Everybody is invited. Bring your luncheon and family, and enjoy a fine, clean fourth of July.

The Tussing family is coming back to live in Brownsville.

Dr. Cook and family, from Sutherlin, former Brownsville people, attended the picnic.

That dog bite received by Carol Howe fails to heal and he has gone to Salem for medical treatment.

Boiling down all the reports leads to the conclusion that the pioneers have had more successful picnics than this year's.

Bert Templeton is quoted as having told the Methodists that if they maintain their attitude towards the amusements at the pioneer picnic the next will be the last event of the kind with whose management he will be connected.

Fred Schure, working as off-beater in a sawmill at Yaquina, was seriously injured in an accident this (Thursday) morning. It was thought one leg would have to be amputated and that his life was in danger. Carl Swank and wife took the Halsey noon train for Yaquina. Mrs. Swank is Schure's sister.

VETERANS IN CONVENTION

Disabled Ex-Soldiers Hold Fifth Annual Meet in Omaha.

Omaha, Neb.—Battered "buddies" of the World war met in Omaha Monday for the fifth national convention of the Disabled American Veterans. The initial session was comprised largely of prayer and tribute to former comrades. D. A. V. wreaths were placed on the tombs of the "unknown soldier" at Arlington, Rome, London, Paris and Brussels.

"Taps" and the "Star-Spangled Banner" were sung by Mme Schumann-Heink and the veterans heard messages of felicitation and encouragement from President Coolidge, Vice President Dawes, General Pershing, Marshal Foch and others, by telegraph and mail.

General Frank T. Hines, director of the bureau, and General James A. Drain, national commander of the American Legion, and Royal C. Johnson, representative in congress and chairman of the veterans' committee, are among the speakers.

G. T. Kitchen and wife of Route 1, Newberg, were here at the week end, visiting old acquaintances. Their son Lavelle, who was at W. A. Muller's, went home with them but expected to return and work in the hay fields.

Pine Grove Points

(By an Enterprise Reporter)

Miss Pearl Pehrsson came home Tuesday evening from Monmouth for vacation.

A number of Pine Grove people attended the pioneer picnic at Brownsville Thursday and some went Friday.

At the annual school election Monday evening, L. E. Eagy was reelected clerk and N. H. Cummings director.

Mesdames L. E. Eagy, Ruby Owen, Floyd Nichols and E. E. Hover attended a meeting of the committees for the celebration at Peoria Tuesday evening.

Voting for the goddess of liberty closed Saturday evening at 9 p. m. and the counting showed Gertrude Nichols winner with 3640 votes. Beryl Nordyke of Oakville and Lola Bayne of Peoria each received between 2400 and 2500 votes and will be the attendants.

Mrs. Ernest Hover went to West Stayton Friday to visit relatives and attended the Marion county fourth annual commencement at the Salem high school auditorium Saturday afternoon. Mary L. Fulkerson, Marion county superintendent, presented diplomas to 256 eighth grade graduates. Mrs. Fulkerson is well known to many Halsey people, having lived here while her husband, A. N. Fulkerson, was principal of the Halsey school for two years and teaching the primary grades for one year herself.

A Free Puff

D. C. McClure of Tangent was in the Enterprise office the other day, and he seemed, as he came, to tread the earth as usual, though there was ground, after reading what some of the customers of his place, Mother's Inn, have been saying about him, to expect him to be walking on air. Since then the Corvallis Independent has come to hand, containing the following:

"Since the completion of the new west side highway we have been wondering why so many people have persisted in taking the east side road south from Albany, or north from Junction City.

"Sunday we found out. We visited Mother's Inn at Tangent and had one of the chicken dinners which have made mother famous as the popularizer of the Pacific highway.

"Hereafter if we are going to Albany or Eugene at meal time we shall drive an added dozen of paved miles in order to put our feet under mother's table—and, incidentally, to be greeted by the smile and joviality of Daddy McClure, the other half of Mother McClure's popularity."

If you go that way dad may be out hunting chickens (he hunts them by daylight), but you'll always find that mother's in at Mother's Inn.

Miss Maude Ackley is home from Eugene for the summer, occupying her residence, formerly Mrs. Umstead's.

The Gansle and Laubner families were at the Riverside community gathering last week.

Fun for $25

A man said to be from Oakridge was requested at Harrisburg Saturday by Charles Hupp not to drive over cables Hupp was using in moving a house. The unnamed man thereupon went out of his way to cross one cable and deliberately turned around and ran over another. Hupp had him arrested and he was fined $15. Then he fired a volley of oaths at Hupp and was fined $10 for that. He went away quietly, probably thinking he had had as much fun as he wanted at the Harrisburg price.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Stafford and L. W. Shisler and wife of Harrisburg picnicked on the Calapooia, above Holley, Sunday,
