Halsey Happenings

Miss Mearla Straley visited Mrs. Gordon Munkers Sunday.

Mrs. O. W. Frum and Ruth and Vivian were in Albany Thursday.

Miss Hazel Johnson is at Albany for a week's visit at James Johnson's. Mrs. Lillian Howe was with Mrs. Isom of Alford as nurse during her last days.

Miss Leitner, former teacher here, visited the English family early in the week.

Frank Koontz is home from Newport and Alberta and Herman have gone there.

Mrs. W. H. McMahan had James Andrews and family of Ontario as week-end guests.

Miss Anna Heinrich is home for a two-weeks vacation from her employment at Corvallis.

Miss Amanda Mitzner gave the lesson at Friday's meeting of the M. E. W. F. M. S. at W. P. Wahl's.

Mrs. Erskine of Portland, whose husband was once the Methodist pastor here, has been visiting Halsey friends.

Morris & Bathe gave an animal show here Monday night. Perhaps it illustrated the popular subject of evolution, and if the last half of the firm name was a good fit the outfit must have been sanitary.

Mrs. A. J. Hill, Carl Hill and Lawrence Taylor went to Portland last week Tuesday and returned Friday, taking in the buyers' week sights and doings.

The train due here at 8:12 Saturday night, which brings the Portland Journal, among other things, was several hours late due to the balking of the locomotive somewhere near Woodburn.

C. P. Stafford and wife had a visit of several days, beginning Friday, from Mr. Stafford's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Linn of Long Beach, Cal., who were on their way home from a trip through eastern Oregon, Washington and part of Canada.

A cancer hospital, which will use radium, will be established in Portland. Cases may go so far that cure is impossible, but we have in Halsey a man, Arthur Wesley, on whom surgeons had operated twice and refused to try again because they considered the case hopeless, who has been cured in Portland.

Last Friday was one of much fun and jollity at the country home of H. L. Staaley when Miss Mearle entertained a number of her friends. The evening was spent in music and the making of ice cream, after which they all journeyed to the fresh straw stack and spent the remainder of the night slumbering (?) Breakfast was served the next morning. Present were Misses Pearl and Nora Pehrson, Alberta Koontz, Enid Veateh, Mrs. Donna Cross and the hostess.

Pabcolin
 The artistic durable floor covering
 —An Improvement on Printed Linoleum

Resistance to wear is probably the one quality you look for first when selecting floor covering. And it is that quality above all others which has been built into Pabcolin.

Not linoleum, nor a substitute, but an improvement on printed linoleum—a floor covering with its wearing surface composed of special enamel paint instead of the usual soft oil-paint.

This hard, wear-defying surface rests on a firm "body" of long-fiber rag felt, made for this particular purpose, and thoroughly waterproofed by a special process.

It pays to buy Pabcolin because it gives you extra-long service. It keeps its gloss and beautiful colors far longer than you would suppose any printed floor covering capable, yet its cost is no higher. Besides, you are offered a variety of beautiful patterns—many are new and exclusive.

Let us show you Pabcolin. There are patterns suitable for bedroom, bathroom, laundry, kitchen, porch, dining-room, hall, in fact for any room in the house.

cost $650 and is some sewing machine.

Genevieve Wells has her tonsils out.

Mrs. M. M. Ward visited Albany Thursday.

Once again W. J. Ribelin has had a stroke of paralysis and is recovering.

Harry Park made that vacation trip in record time and got home some time ago.

Misses Bessie and Pauline Smith left Tuesday for Roseburg for a visit with their father.

Fred Overton and family were guests at George Taylor's Tuesday. Paul remained for a longer visit with her aunt, Mrs. Taylor.

Perley Trus will move to Harrisburg this fall. He is employed in the Skirvin warehouse there. So is Truman Robnett at present.

Ben S. Standish of Los Angeles surprised his brother J. C. this morning. It has been twenty years since Mr. Standish's last visit to Halsey.

When a load of grain caught fire on George Cox' wagon he jumped off and unhitched his horses in time to save them. In the jump he broke bones in one foot and has to quit work for a while at his home in Brownsville.

Miss Marie Sneed, who has been head of the library department of the university of Washington, will be head librarian of a Portland library after Sept. 1. She is expected home on a visit.

Dr. Allen and family of Mill City were guests of Mrs. M. V. Koontz and Mrs. J. W. Drinkard Sunday. They were accompanied by Dr. Allen's cousin, Miss Laura Woods, who remained for a short visit before leaving for her home in Los Angeles.

When were the wagon wheels greased last?

PLAN COMMERCIAL AIR ROUTE

Will Use Dirigible Los Angeles for Passenger and Freight Line.

Swampscott, Mass.—A proposal to turn the naval dirigible "Los Angeles" over to a private corporation for the operation of the first lighter than air passenger and freight aerial navigation service was made to President Coolidge, who views the plan with favor.

John Hays Hammond, Jr., noted inventor, representing a newly formed airway corporation, organized for the promotion of commercial use of dirigibles, presented the plan in tentative form to the president and Secretary of Commerce Hoover, the administration's chief economic adviser, at a conference at the summer White House.

The proposed route embraces Chicago, St. Louis and Omaha, and is being given serious consideration by the government. It was announced here at the summer White House by Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Wishing to Escape

(Copyrighted by American Newspaper Union)

When all the people have gone home the animals in the zoo talk to each other, sometimes they talk about the times they were free, sometimes they talk of what they like best about the zoo and about their own family ways—and sometimes they talk about the people who come to visit them, and laugh at the different ways people have.

"People say," remarked the Rocky Mountain Bear, "that we don't get any chance to do as we please when we're in the zoo. They say we aren't free. But I fooled them yesterday."

"You did, indeed," said Muff and Ruff in chorus. Muff and Ruff were two Russian bears who were neighbors of the Rocky Mountain Bear.

"And you gave me away," said the Rocky Mountain Bear. "But no matter, I had my little outing."

"I couldn't bear it when I saw you bend your wires and manage to escape," said Muff.

"And so we both growled as hard as we could," said Ruff.

"That was what made the keeper see what had happened," said the Rocky Mountain Bear. "He didn't know whether I was down in my cage or not."

"But we kept on growling," said Muff, "and he came back once more to see what had happened. My, we were envious."

"Oh yes, I had a fine walk and stroll around the park," said the Rocky Mountain Bear, "and when they came to catch me and bring me back they said that they were so frightened when they heard I had escaped."

"For they said my temper wasn't always as perfect as it might be, and so they were afraid! Ha, ha, growl, growl, I frightened them when I had my walk!"

"I didn't do any harm, but I did what I pleased. I walked where I wanted to walk. I enjoyed myself. I fooled them yesterday, all right."

"It took eight of the creatures they call men to bring me back again. That was something for a Rocky

"Oh," said Mr. Gray Fox, "I Wish I Had Got Out."

Mountain Bear to boast about—eight men to bring him home!

"And so, Muff and Ruff, though you were so envious you made my walk shorter yesterday by letting the keeper know something was up, or rather, out, still I had a fine, free time, and I fooled the keeper."

"You frightened them, too, you lucky bear," said Muff and Ruff.

"Oh," said Mr. Gray Fox, "I wish I had got out of the zoo. I'm going to try. I'm going to climb up the side of my cage, and I'll escape. I will."

"I don't believe you will," said Mr. Red Fox. "The keepers weren't on the lookout for the bear doing this, but they are on their guard about you. They know that a gray fox will try to get away by climbing and climbing over the top of anything he can, a tree, a fence, or anything."

"Now we would try to escape through one of the entrances to our home. We always have three entrances so we can get out of one doorway in our hole-home if we are attacked from one of the other two. You don't care about digging and burrowing—you would rather climb. You're not as clever as we are. You are not nearly so foxy."

"Oh," said Mr. Gray Fox, "I know that you are very clever and tricky and deserve that name, but I am worse than you are! There! As I said before, I don't care about anything. If I were free I would only think of myself. Here I only think of myself."

"I don't think of Mrs. Gray Fox or the little ones. I only think of myself. I hate the keeper. I hate my family."

"No, I'm the gray fox, the sly, treacherous gray fox. Just now I don't believe I will try to escape for I am sleepy."

"But if ever I do you can think of me as out in the great world, perhaps back from my own old home—being as cross and selfish as I was here in the zoo, and not feeling sorry about it in the least."

In and Out

A father took his son of four years to the incubator in the cellar to see the eggs hatch.

Said dad, impressively: "Isn't it queer how the little chicks get out of the shell?"

"Huh," replied the youngster, "what gets me is how they get in there."—The Progressive Grocer.

Obituary

Sophia E. Isom, 66, widow of the late David I. Isom, died at her home, 4 miles south of Halsey, Monday evening, following a prolonged illness. She was born in Meade County, Ky., in 1859, and came to Oregon at the age of 13 years. She was united in marriage to David I. Isom in 1880. She is survived by two sons and two daughters and six grandchildren. The sons are Frank Isom of Oakridge and Elbert Isom of Halsey. The daughters are Mrs. Rova Robnett and Mrs. Blanche Mercer, both of Eugene. She is also survived by four brothers, D. B. and J. F. Troutman of Portland, C. A. Troutman of Albany and P. I. Troutman of Shedd. Her sisters are Mrs. T. B. Cooper and Mrs. Minerva Cooper of Tangent and Mrs. W. E. Burton of Portland.

The funeral was held at the Christian church in Halsey today at 2 p. m., with interment at the Alford cemetery.

W. A. Carey and wife are home from their visit to Mrs. Carey's mother, Mrs. Stone, at Baker. They talk of moving to Salem.

Expensive Tobacco

Eight hundred and fifty-four forest fires have been fought by the forest service in the national forest of Oregon and Washington up to July 31 this year. Smokers are charged with 69 or about 27 per cent. Smouldering cigarettes and burning pipe heels have both again been legally proved guilty of causing forest fires, reports the U. S. Forest Service.

Recently two fires were started on the Chelan National Forest in Washington. One was caused by throwing lighted cigaret and the smoker paid fine and costs and $14 for putting out his blaze.

The other was caused by a sheep herder on Buttermilk Creek. While in a willow thicket he knocked his pipe from his mouth, spilling the burning tobacco. When the forest service trail crew arrived, there was an 8-acre fire. The sheepherder admitted having been the cause of it. The judge did the rest.
