At Friday's meeting of the W. F. M. S. of the M. E. church, Mesdames S. J. Smith, S. M. Miller, E. M. Bond and W. P. Wahl reviewed the year's work. Owing to grip and colds the attendance was light. Next meeting with Mrs. Lyman W. Patton.

We presume that, no matter how many copies of last Saturday's Albany Democrat-Herald may have been left over, none are for sale. Mr. Alexander's scholarly editorial for that paper was linotyped by a traveling printer whom the editors would like to interview with a club, for he inserted between the lines of wisdom a couple of his own which the paper apologetically explains were published unwittingly, though "decidedly unprintable." Obviously, we cannot reproduce them.

Warmed Over

These nine paragraphs, ready for the press, were omitted last week for lack of room.

Gas Tax Upheld by Wolverton

Portland, Or.—Federal Judge Wolverton upheld the validity of the state's gasoline tax for auto users when he dismissed the suit of the Portland-Seattle Auto Freight Co. and a long list of other truck firms which had been brought against Secretary of State Koser, alleging that the 3 cent tax is illegal and in violation of the federal constitution, since it apparently interferes with interstate shipments of goods.

In the suit, the truck operators asked the return of $6,000,000 which they said had been collected illegally through the gas tax.

The truck men maintained that when the state levied a gas tax, applying the proceeds to the construction and repair of rural post highways, along with the reducing of bonded indebtedness on such roads, then the state violated the federal laws which prohibit the taking of tolls on such roads.

"The state could just as well have directed that the money should go to the state treasury for use for general purposes," said Judge Wolverton. "If his had been done, there could not have been the remotest inference that the tax was a toll upon the privilege of using the highways for automobiles."

McCamant is to be Heard

Washington, D. C.—Consideration by the senate judiciary committee of the nomination of Wallace McCamant to the ninth federal circuit court bench awaits the return to the senate of Chairman Cummins, who has a slight attack of bronchitis.

Senator McNary, republican, Oregon, said he had telegraphed the judge to hold himself in readiness to come here for a hearing before the committee, and that the hearing will be arranged as soon as Senator Cummins is well.

The nomination was sent back to the committee by the senate after Senator Johnson, republican, California, had led a determined fight against the nominee on the ground that in 1920 he violated his pledge to the voters of Oregon to vote for the candidate for the presidential nomination who won out in the Oregon primary.

HUGE PROJECT IS PLANNED

Washington Grants Water Rights for 100,000-Horsepower Plant.

Olympia, Wash.—Water power and pulp and paper mill development, expected to cost $18,000,000, was forecast when R. K. Tiffany, state supervisor of hydraulics, granted temporary water rights on the Cowlitz river in southwest Washington to the Backus-Brooks company of Minneapolis.

The Backus-Brooks company proposes to develop approximately 100,000 horsepower of electricity, to be used in connection with a projected pulp and paper mill and insulate factory.

G. R. Birkland, personal representative of E. W. Backus, president of the Minneapolis firm, announced that engineering on the site of the power project would be completed within six or eight months. About two years will be required for the construction of the project, he said.

Al Smith to Quit Politics.

Albany, N. Y.—After Edwin Corning chairman of the Albany county democratic organization, was unanimously elected chairman of the New York democratic state committee here. Governor Smith formally served notice on the committee that he would retire from public life at the end of his present term and return to New York city.

Agriculture Board Budget Denounced.

Chicago.—The recommended budget of the United States department of agriculture was branded as "monstrous," in a statement issued here by the American Farm Bureau federation, which also declared that agriculture ideas to the director of the budget have been playing politics. "No worse job could have been done. The budget will have to be entirely rewritten," declared the statement, signed by the federation's president, Sam H. Thompson, banker-farmer of Quincy, Ill.

Pay Debts First, Greece Informed.

Washington, D. C.—Greece was advised by the American government that no extension of a $11,000,000 credit will be made and that this government expects Greece to fund her existing debt of $11,000,000 on terms approximately those of the British settlement. The Greek debt commission informed the American government that it had no authority to enter into a funding agreement on the $11,000,000 unless the American government extended the additional credit of $12,000,000.

Inheritance Tax Repeal Advised

Washington, D. C.—Senate republicans and democrats on the finance committee compromised their differences on tax reduction and ordered by unanimous vote a report of the house revenue bill to the senate with considerable modifications.

The committee voted to change the surtax schedules on incomes between $24,000 and $65,000, but did not accept as great reductions on those sums as advocated in the democratic plan. A compromise schedule was adopted between the democratic proposal and the house bill.

Inheritance provisions of the present bill were stricken out by the committee by a vote of 15 to 1. Senator King, democrat, Utah, dissenting.

Besides voting to repeal future levies on inheritances, the committee decreased the maximum tax from 40 per cent to 25 per cent on outstanding installments on inheritance taxes levied since 1921.

Gooding Bill is on the Rocks

Washington, D. C.—Opposition of the interstate commerce commission to the Gooding bill, to amend the long and short haul provision of the interstate commerce act was expressed to the senate commerce committee by John J. Esch, member of the commission.

He read a statement which he said represented the views of all members of the commission except four who had given him individual statements to present. It is said the majority could see no necessity for passage of a bill "which will have the effect of maintaining to a considerable degree, if not entirely, the competition of rail and water carriers between points where both forms of transportation are now in operation."

The purpose of the measure is to prevent railroads from charging higher rates for a short haul than for a long one.

The Gooding proposal, Commissioner Esch said, would prohibit the interstate commerce commission from permitting carriers to make low rates to market points which are served from other producing points by water transportation.
