Lyman Steed, superintendent of the state school for the deaf, from $1800 to $2100 a year, beginning September 1, superintendents of a number of other state institutions have indicated that they would seek similar increases in their paychecks within the next few weeks.

A copy of the income tax initiative measure sponsored by the Oregon state grange and the farmers' union was filed with the secretary of state at Salem, together with a request that it be referred to the attorney-general for ballot title. In event sufficient signatures are obtained the measure will be referred to the voters of the state at the general election in November. The measure is similar to the income tax measure that was repealed by the voters of Oregon at the general election in 1924 with the exception that it increases slightly the exemptions and eliminates fractional percentage rates

Wets and Dries a Week Each

Washington, D. C.—Public hearings on the prohibition question were ordered by the senate judiciary committee.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, alone opposed the recommendation of a sub-committee of five in favor of open hearings. The sub-committee will conduct the hearings, giving six days to the wets and an equal number of time to the dries.

The hearings will be confined to five modification measures before the committee. One would amend the 18th amendment so that states which were wet before the prohibition amendment would again be wet, with the government manufacturing, selling and distributing liquor.

Three of the other four measures proposed to legalize beer; one for 4 per cent beer, one for 2.75 beer and the other for beer "non-intoxicating in fact." The fourth would remove restrictions on prescription whisky.

Senator Means, republican, Colorado, is chairman of the sub-committee and the other members are Goff, West Virginia, and Harrell, Oklahoma, republicans, and Reed, Missouri, and Walsh, Montana, democrats.

Pasco Plans Air Mail Jubilee
Pasco, Wash.—Six cities have accepted the invitation of the Pasco chamber of commerce to take part in the air mail jubilee April 6. Liquor Scandal in Capitol
Case of Rum Dropped in House Office Building

Washington, D. C.—Charges and counter charges during recent prohibition debates concerning bootleggers frequenting the senate and house of office buildings received added point when reports spread that a man had dropped a case of liquor in the house office building and fled.

While police authorities disclaimed knowledge of the reports, prohibition enforcement agents indicated that they were true and that a sufficiently accurate description of the man had been obtained for a warrant to be issued. The man was said to have become frightened by the approach of a police officer.
