Halsey Happenings and County Events

Doings of Our Populace Chronicled in Brief Paragraphs

Paul Papman was in Eugene Saturday.

The annual Crawfordsville roundup will be July 3 and 4.

Miss Emily Simons, once a popular Brownsville girl but in later years insane, died April 2, aged 70.

George Montgomery of Brownsville dropped dead on the street from heart disease the other day, aged 62.

Albany and Corvallis propose to have a great time celebrating May day and the completion of the Albany bridge at once at Takenah park, Albany.

Harold Lundquist, who operates the Portland and Harrisburg truck service, advertised in this paper, has moved his family to Harrisburg to make that place his home.

The Waggener forty acres, between Charity Grange and Twin Buttes, advertised at referee's sale to quiet title, was knocked down to J. B. Waggener for $1200.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mason of Albany loaded a truck with furniture at the lady's former residence here and it stuck in the soft ground and Gansie had difficulty in starting it.

Jay W. Moore's move from the Harrisburg national bank was into the Harrisburg Service Motor company's business, where he sells insurance, real estate and cars and keeps books.

About 4 o'clock Friday morning a wheel on a south-bound freight car slipped on the axle when passing the Halsey depot and before it got out of town it had ruined nearly 100 ties, twisted some track and piled a couple of the cars across the track. A carload of ties had been sidetracked here the day before, and some of these were very handy in making repairs. Traffic was suspended until 8 o'clock, when a wrecking crew and car cleared the track.

Wednesday evening W. M. Burbank ran against an obstruction in the dark and broke a rib. He says the same rib was damaged by a bullet in the Philippines.

W. M. Burbank and Paul Dawson visited Salem Thursday.

Mrs. Catherine Brooks died at Crawfordsville Friday, her 81st birthday.

Mrs. T. P. Patton went to Seattle Sunday for a visit with her son, C. E. Patton, and family.

Mrs. Ream of Brownsville is helping Mrs. Clarence Williams during the illness of Clarence jr. with the flu.

W. F. Carter and family have moved from their town home to the recently remodeled one on their farm.

T. P. Patton had a visit Sunday from his daughter, Mrs. O. B. Stalnaker of Albany, and husband, the lady remaining a few days.

Miss Cleona Smith, who teaches at Sweet Home, spent the week end with her father, Walt Smith. Miss Smith will teach the coming year at Shedd.

Dr. J. Brown of Scio has paid $3600 for two pairs of silver black foxes from Prince Edward Island and proposes to devote his time to fox farming.

C. N. and F. S. Moody will move their residence building from its site at Third and Moore streets, Harrisburg, and in its place will go up a big concrete home for the Moody Hardware company.

Mrs. Irma Shotwell spent the week end at Salem with home folks. Mr. Shotwell also came from Portland. His class is taking a course in mental study at the state hospital. Mrs. Shotwell was present at the meeting of the students there.

Virgil L. Warden killed a cougar on his farm, eight miles southeast of Brownsville, that measured 8 feet from tip to tip. Calves, lambs and chickens are safer there. Virgil got $35 in bounty and the hide will make a grand rug.

Mrs. William Wheeler was going down Second street yesterday when, just past Grant Taylor's residence, as she was speaking to D. H. Sturtevant, a winged insect flew into her mouth with great force, lodging in her throat and causing violent strangling. While she was struggling for breath Mr. Sturtevant called Dr. Marks, but Mrs. Wheeler soon recovered and went on her way. The insect went down her neck, never to return. Mrs. Wheeler prefers brooked meat in her regular diet.

JOHN K. STANDISH

Look here, girls. See what you missed when you let John Standish go away off to Montana to get married.

John has been at Broadus, Mont., longer than he ever stayed in one place before, so far as we have his record. He learned to set type in the Enterprise office while attending high school here, frequently working late at night. From here he hopped into Washington state. Nimble as a flea, he made two or three jumps and then landed in southern Oregon, where he had charge of the McLeay newspaper interests. Everytime he jumps he has a soft spot picked out to light into. From Oregon he hopped to Montana and soon again into his present berth as manager of the Broadus Publishing company and managing editor of its Powder River County Examiner.

W. A. Sigourney, manager of the Western Newspaper Union at Billings, Mont., said in a letter to Standish: "You know I hardly believe that the showing you have made in securing renewals could not be considered as luck. As a matter of fact, the paper itself must be responsible for this and the honor of making it a journal which all folks of the community desire must naturally be laid at the door of its editor. It has been my pleasure to look over a number of copies of recent issues and I say in all truthfulness that you are getting out one of the nicest weeklies in Montana."

Now John has decided that he has been long enough in one place and has notified the board of directors that his resignation will be presented at the next stockholder's meeting, May 10. He expects to leave Broadus June 15 for a vacation of a couple of weeks and then go to Wolf Point, Mont., and, on the Wolf Point Herald, take part in a hot political campaign for the republican party against the red element.

Kirk Kinks

(By an Enterprise Reporter)

The H. J. Falk family enjoy a new piano.

Grace Kirk spent the week end at her home.

G. J. Rikes were Sunday visitors at C. L. Falk jr's.

Loren Nelson is helping Cecil Bilyeu with his farm work.

The Joe Elliots were Sunday visitors at W. G. Abraham's.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Harding motored to Corvallis Tuesday.

F. W. Falk helped A. L. Falk last week with some mechanical work.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Rike were Brownsville callers Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Templeton motored to Albany Saturday afternoon.

Alex Snodgrass and family were Sunday dinner guests at H. J. Falk's.

J. H. Vannice and family were Sunday dinner guests at J. S. Nicewood's.

Rawleigh Rike and Mrs. Alice Jones and daughter Doris visited at F. W. Falk's.

Mrs. R. E. Bierly and son Kenneth and Edna Falk were Brownsville callers Monday afternoon.

L. R. Falk and family are the proud parents of a nine-and-one-half-pound boy, who arrived April 12.

E. E. Carey and family, accompanied by Louis Seefeld, visited Mrs. Carl Seefeld at the hospital at Eugene Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Waggener and Mr. and Mrs. Grissitt of Eugene were Saturday dinner guests at J. H. Vannice's.

Vivian Frum visited her cousins, Francis and Raymond Kirk, Wednesday evening while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Frum, were calling at Joe Elliot's.

Kenneth VanNise gave his pupils part of a holiday Friday afternoon when he took them over to Brandon to see a ball game that was scheduled to come off between Rowland and Brandon. They were sadly disappointed when Rowland and Brandon did not have their game. But teams were chosen from the three schools, including several from the three schools. An interesting game was played.

Willmina Corcoran, at the tuberculosis hospital at Salem, is getting good results from treatment with ultra-violet rays.

Pine Grove Points

(By Special Correspondent)

Carl Nichols was an Albany visitor Thursday.

Mrs. J. A. Johnson and daughter were Albany visitors Saturday.

P. A. Pehrsson and Grace were Brownsville callers Saturday.

Mrs. Rosa Overton of Albany spent the week end at E. E. Hover's.

Miss Grace Pehrsson was home from normal school for the week end.

Lyle Eagy was absent from school all last week on account of sickness.

Several from this vicinity attended the high school band contest at Corvallis Saturday.

Mr. Dyer of Albany sheared sheep for Dean Bilyeu, A. L. Knighten and E. E. Hover Tuesday.

Mr. McConnel of Shedd was in the neighborhood Tuesday and purchased the Knighten and Bilyeu wool.

Mrs. Charles Nichols left Thursday noon for Iowa, being called there by the serious illness of her mother.

Mrs. Grant McNeil attended the all-day meeting of the Linn County Holiness association at Peoria Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Knighten spent the first of the week at the farm, looking after the sheep shearing, etc.

A doctor from Corvallis was called Wednesday to lance a gathering in the throat of little Arthur Dorsey, who has been ill for some time.

The entertainment at the community meeting Friday evening consisted of music by the orchestra, Reading by Mrs. Nicholson, music by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cross, Reading by Miss Lucille Shedd, and a one-act play, "The Girls," given by the ladies of the Busey school district. A very large crowd was present and the program was enjoyed.

Alford Arrows

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Whitbeck went to Brownsville one day last week.

Lillie, Jesse and Emery Rickard were Sunday callers at Lee Ingram's.

Joseph Cornely and son Frank called at Wade Spurlin's Sunday afternoon.

John Cersovski of Eugene visited his brother Joseph and family Sunday.

E. D. Isom and family spent Sunday afternoon in Albany, visiting relatives.

Chester Curtis and family visited at Jack Curtis' at Peoria Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Cersovski and daughter Anna Theresa are again in Portland caring for the former's mother, Mrs. Heitzman.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Walker of Salem, Miss Audrey Treble of Portland and B. E. Cogswell were Sunday evening callers at Lee Ingram's.

Frank Kirk was home from Monroe Sunday.

Merle Applegate delivered two sermons at the Christian church Sunday. He was accompanied by his wife and little son. Clifford Carey filled his pulpit at Crabtree both morning and evening services.

Quite a crowd gathered to hear the music by the Mexican workers Wednesday evening. Not so many of the band participated in the music as was expected, but two of them, with a violin and guitar, made some very good music that was much enjoyed. It had a sound similar to Hawaiian music.

Happenings in Public Schools

The Halsey baseball team did some good work again Friday when it met the Junction City team here and defeated it 8 to 5.

The Halsey girls' team also played the Junction City girls and met defeat.

The baseball schedule for the season is as follows:

April 16, Brownsville at Halsey.

April 17, Halsey at Philomath.

April 23, Junction City at Junction City.

April 30, Harrisburg at Halsey.

May 7, Halsey at Bellfountain.

May 14, Brownsville at Brownsville.

May 15, Harrisburg at Harrisburg.

May 21, Tangent at Tangent.

May 22, Philomath at Halsey.

Mrs. Edna Geer, county school superintendent, visited the grade rooms Wednesday. She seemed much pleased with the progress that was being made by the Halsey pupils.

The P. T. A. met at the school building Friday evening and gave the following program:

Community sing, led by Mrs. Shotwell.

Song, Fourth and sixth grades. Piano solo, Roberta Vannice.

Address, "Advantages of a Union High School," Prof. Beattie Union High School" Prof. Beattie of the extension department of U. of O.

Song, Fourth and sixth grades.

A business meeting followed. The resignation of Lawrence Eagy as treasurer was accepted and Mrs. Nora Coleman elected to fill the place. Officers were nominated for the coming year as follows: president, Mrs. Freeland, vice-president, Mr. Patton, secretary, Mrs. Lorena Kizer; treasurer, Mrs. Nora Coleman. They will be voted on at the May meeting, the last of the year.

Mrs. Mildred Smith visited the primary room Thursday.

Clarence Williams has been absent from school on account of a struggle with the flu.

The biology class went on a specimen hunt Tuesday morning, three auto's being furnished by the gentlemen of the class. Their hunt was at Lake Ogle and Hetzel's grove.

In with the winter collections of the biology class was a cocoon from which a few days ago emerged a beautiful moth with red and black markings. This moth is considered next to the luna moth in beauty.

The Halsey student body will give "Yimmie Yonson's Yob" at the city hall a week from next Saturday evening.

The Irish cook berating vacuous members of the family gives a very amusing display of Irish brag and temper.

Yimmie Yonson, a Swede who imagines himself in love with every girl he meets, appears a typical lumberjack.

Mickey, the hired man, Pal, the detective, and Kitty, the cook's helper, are all outstanding characters.

A Misdirected Literary Effort

(Portland Oregonian, April 10)

Six months in the county jail and a fine of $1500 was the sentence bestowed Thursday by Federal Judge Wolverson on W. C. Kirk of Brownsville, who was found guilty of sending an improper letter through the mail.

Kirk was alleged to have written two letters to William Filkins in January and March of last year. The intent, according to the government, was to break up the Filkins home.

Kirk's wife was a witness in his behalf.

H. Bateman and wife and Mrs. Charles Elswick were visiting at H. W. Chance's from Brownsville Thursday.
