Bankers Organize Against Robbers

Chicago. — Bankers of five middle western states have taken into their own hands the task of protecting their funds against the raids of outlaws.

At a meeting here, representatives from the bankers' association of Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Wisconsin and Minnesota, formed a five-state organization against thieves. It is probably the most pretentious thing of its kind ever attempted.

The defense plans call for the employment of thousands of vigilantes to be recruited from small business houses, gasoline filling stations and even parsonages. They are to be ready at a moment's notice to take up arms in defense of banks in their respective neighborhoods.

The bankers met under the auspices of the Illinois association, which has used the plan for the last year with successful results. Bank raids in this state are said to have been cut down 80 per cent.

BRIEF GENERAL NEWS

Automobile accidents brought death to 1484 persons in California last year, which was an increase of 120 over 1924.

The senate ratified the Cuba-United States "rum" treaty. The agreement provides that Cuban vessels may be searched outside the three-mile limit and within "one hour's steaming distance."

An estimate of the United Kingdom alliance is that bootleg whisky shipped indirectly to the United States last year approximated 1,500,000 proof gallons for which Scottish distillers received £2,000,000.

A formal decree of foreclosure against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, now in the hands of a receiver, was asked in federal court at Chicago by counsel for creditors of the company.

The American government is opposed to lending any money to Russia, either directly or indirectly. This was made plain when the state department confirmed reports from abroad that it had opposed a plan by which W. Averill, New York capitalist, had proposed to finance German exports to Russia.

Beer Boosters Make Their Plea

Canadian ex-Officials Tell of Improved Status Under Restricted License.

Washington, D. C.—The first week's drive against the Volstead act before a senate committee was wound up by the wets with the testimony of Canadian ex-officials as to improved conditions in provinces which have turned away from prohibition, and with further demand of labor leaders for legalized beer.

Sir William Stavert of Montreal, ex-member of the Quebec liquor commission, declared that province had "banished the bootlegger" by returning to restricted license and had increased temperance.

Describing conditions in Manitoba since prohibition was voted out, Francis William Russell, president of the Moderation league of that province, said there was an increasing purchase of beer and wine and a falling off in hard liquor consumption and that conditions as to temperance had improved.

Demands for legalized beer were presented to the committee by Mathew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, and John Sullivan, president of the New York State Federation of Labor.

Modification of the Volstead act would be a good thing for prohibition enforcement, District Attorney Emery Buckner of New York told the senate prohibition investigating committee.

Interrupting the presentation of the case of the wets, a corps of 65 delegates from civic, temperance and other women's organizations passed before the senate prohibition committee Monday urging enforcement of the Volstead act and opposing any modification of the national dry laws.

"We represent the homes, the church and the school," was the slogan contained in the testimony of the first witness, Mrs. Henry M. Peabody of Beverly, Mass., chairman of the Woman's National Conference for Law Enforcement, which is meeting here. "We stand for enforcement and no modification. We have a strong feeling that the women ought to be represented by the men who hold our views."

If a newspaper fails to publish a news item that might hurt somebody's feelings a lot of people jump on the publisher for being partial. If it publishes such an item the fellow that gets hit does the jumping. The newspaper man catches it, going or coming. Our policy is to "nothing extenuate nor set aught down in malice." If you don't want disagreeable news published, don't make it.

Minckley, Maxwell and McWilliams, the three "M's" who went to Belknap springs Monday, April 3, got home Monday, the 9th, feeling better. Perhaps Maxwell had been kneeling too much. He had trouble in the knees.

The Imported Belgian Melotte Cream Separator, which Mr. A. W. Dykstra is operating on his farm on route 1, has been attracting a great deal of attention. It skims so closely that not even a trace of cream is left. Mr. Dykstra invites any of his neighbors to come in and see the wonderful self-balancing bowl which cannot get out of balance.

Guests at the Stafford home Thursday were Mrs. Lloyd Shisler of Harrisburg and daughter.

Some Halsey trade is bound to go to the county seat. Some Albany dealers are under contract not to advertise in any paper except the Albany daily. This monopoly arrangement cuts both ways. It prevents the bound merchants from telling readers of the weeklies about their wares and it adds to the drawing power of advertising done in the weeklies by free Albany merchants. These free merchants are doing more outside advertising than all Albany did before the monopoly was thought of, and finding it profitable.

To encourage land buying, the Southern Pacific company announces special land-seekers' excursions for parties of seven or more passengers on the basis of one and one-third the one way fare for the round trip from San Francisco, Oakland, Stockton, Sacramento, Fresno, Los Angeles and San Diego to all points on Southern Pacific Lines in California, Arizona and Nevada, in addition to Oregon. Tickets will be sold on Fridays. The return limit tickets will be four days when the one way fare is fifteen dollars or less, but a seven day return limit will be allowed when the one way fare exceeds fifteen dollars. Stopover privileges will be allowed both going and coming within the limit.
