No Discussion of Reservations to American Adherence Necessary, Note Intimates.

Washington, D. C.—With a ringing pronouncement in favor of prohibition under the existing laws, and a stirring demand for public support in their enforcement, Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president general, opened the thirty-sixth continental congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

"Based on a nationwide survey the last three years, it is my deliberate opinion that the people of America will never repeal the 18th amendment," she said.

Pointing out that America was at the crossroads regarding law enforcement, Mrs. Cook said there could be no negative conduct "in relation to this great issue, for all conduct is positive."

The congress, from the standpoint of attendance, is the largest on record. For the first time several foreign chapters, including those established in London, England, and in Panama, are present. Alaska's D. A. R. chapter has sent a delegation to its first congress, too.

"If special machinery is necessary for American participation in the court, this should naturally be considered after the reservations have been adopted, but the United States has no objections, however, if the signatory states wish to confer among themselves at this time," the note said.
