Change in Office Hours

The S. P. have changed the office hours at the local station, the change to go into effect at once. The second trick telegrapher has been discontinued and agent's hours changed to 7:45 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. with an hour out for lunch.

Wm. McDowell, who has served as night watchman in Halsey for some time, resigned on May 15 and A. A. Barber has been selected to fill the place. Mr. McDowell expects to find employment elsewhere later on.

C. J. Strayley and family motored to Coburg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bressler and daughter Agnes and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bressler and baby visited relatives at Crabtree Sunday.

A Dozen Reasons for Re-Electing U. S. Senator Stanfield

1 Oregon is in great need of rapid development and must seek federal aid, which the state can obtain only through such men in congress as Senator Stanfield, with his commanding position in the senate as chairman of the public lands committee and high rank on the powerful finance committee.

2 By reason of his important senate committee positions, which a new man could not obtain in 10 or 12 years, Senator Stanfield has been an outstanding factor in obtaining government appropriations for Oregon during the past five years amounting to $32,695,978.

3 Senator Stanfield is leading the fight in the senate to establish Oregon's right to use the revenues from her natural resources to develop the state and thereby reduce materially the taxes now burdening our people. His grazing bill, now before the senate for passage, is the entering wedge to restore this right.

4 For the farmer Senator Stanfield was successful in urging the enacting of the emergency tariff law of May 27, 1921. Through the Norris bill he obtained $5,696,000 for Oregon from the War Finance corporation for the relief of agricultural banks and personally supervised this aid for the treasury department.

5 During the past five years Senator Stanfield has aided Senator McNary in obtaining $9,631,000 for Oregon reclamation projects. "In the hearing on the of the Oriental line to the Dollar interests, Senator Stanfield has assisted me in every way he can," wired Senator McNary on May 4.

6 Senator Stanfield, as member of the finance committee, was largely instrumental in procuring $7,366,090 for the improvement of rivers and harbors in Oregon, and is in position to resist materially in securing a 36-foot channel from Portland to the sea.

7 The lumber business, Oregon's chief industry, has been relieved of an annoying handicap through the repeal of the capital stock tax, the main credit for whose repeal is given by the National Lumbermen's association to Senator Stanfield.

8 One of Senator Stanfield's leading achievements is his success in obtaining, and laying before the senate, a favorable report from his committee on public lands in his $5,000,000 O. & C. tax refund bill, restoring the taxes lost to 15 Oregon counties and lowering thereby the taxes of every taxpayer in Oregon.

9 The Stanfield home loan bill will benefit thousands of city dwellers desirous of building and owning a home. It provides for government supervised loans on residence property in amounts of $5000 to $10,000 at a rate of interest estimated not to exceed 6 per cent and payable in monthly installments over 5 to 15 years.

10 Senator Stanfield is a consistent supporter of the Coolidge administration and is standing with the president in the latter's enforcement of the prohibition law and reduction of taxes.

11 As a staunch friend of the direct primary law, Senator Stanfield has publicly stated his attitude in unmistakable language. He says: "Conventions called without authority of law will be open to the same objections as the old convention system."

12 Because he has proved himself during his entire term in the senate to be a friend of labor, Senator Stanfield has been officially endorsed by representative labor organizations, including the Central Labor council of Portland on May 10 and Sunset lodge No. 130 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on May 14. Also by the Bayonet club, the political organization of the disabled veterans of the world war, for his steadfast support of legislation for veterans of all wars

Keep Oregon to the Front in the Senate by Re-Electing Stanfield. It Would Take a New Man 10 or 12 Years to Match His Committees.

Raise More Hogs

In 1925, Oregon and Washington brought in from east of the Rocky mountains, live hogs and pork products to the value of $9,000,000.

It is estimated that each year, California consumes pork products to the value of $50,000,000 of which 90 per cent is brought in from outside that state.

This money is being sent away from the coast territory because our farms are not producing sufficient hogs to supply the local market.

The $54,000,000 which is sent out annually, for hogs, represents the value of 2,000,000 head of hogs averaging about 200 pounds per head at present average market price.

Here is a home market for a home product that is being overlooked.

A few more hogs on each farm will keep a lot of this money in the west.

Shipments of Oregon onions in the season just closed totaled 678 cars.

Plans for a community playground were approved at a meeting in Westport.

Frank S. Ward of Portland was re-appointed a member of the state board of pharmacy.

W. H. Vogel, Union, has accepted an offer to manage the 1926 Union livestock show, which will take place June 9, 10 and 11.

Merchants and residents of Mill City on the main road have raised a fund to oil the road, in order to escape the dust nuisance.

Paul Ager, Bend, was awarded the Albert prize, given to the best all-around senior man on the University of Oregon campus.

Little Ones Still Need Help

To the Editor—On my return to my office from the national conference I find copies of your issues of March 24 and 31 giving your generous offer to turn over to us the money received for subscriptions during a ten-day period. The check which represented the gifts from your subscribers and from you has been acknowledged to the original donors.

Our conference faced some very difficult problems and listened to appeals for thousands of children who are clear out of our reach now merely because of the lack of funds. Returned tourists told us that if America only knew what near east relief was doing there would be no lack of funds to carry on the work. These travelers told of whole cities rebuilt, of children being transformed from homeless beggars into self-supporting citizens, of the healing of countless thousands from disease and of great health campaigns put on by the governments as they had learned modern methods from our physicians.

We determined to redouble our efforts to secure the necessary funds at as early date as possible, and with the cooperation of the public, including the press, we hope to finish the task inside of the next two or three years. As long as 35,000 children look to us for the necessities of life and as long as they have no one else to whom to appeal we naturally must exert ourselves in every possible way. J. J. Handsaker, Northwest Regional Director.

Another high price record for yellow and sugar pine was set when the Crystal Creek Logging company, subsidiary of the Wheeler-Olmstead Lumber company, bid $8 a thousand for the Crooked River Indian reservation unit. Receipts from the timber sale will be diverted to Klamath Indians. The unit cost the successful bidder approximately $240,000.

The first carload of shad caught by commercial fishermen since the opening of the season on the Umpqua river was sent to New York last week. According to reports from packing plants at Reedsport approximately 20,000 pounds of shad were in the car. Several additional carloads will be shipped from this port within the next few weeks, it is expected. The salmon catch has been exceptionally light.

The twenty-two national forests of Oregon and Washington have 39 per cent of the merchantable saw timber of the 159 national forests of the United States and Alaska, according to a recent timber stand survey received at the district forester's office in Portland. The two states, comprising the north Pacific district, stand first in the amount of national forest timber, while Oregon stands first in the list of states.

ENGLAND BACK TO NORMAL

Loss Expected to Be Less Than in 1921 Upheaval

London.—The last embers of the general strike are dying down, and with the exception of the miners, who are likely to remain out until a satisfactory agreement is reached, the country is rapidly resuming normal conditions, and the people and the government are beginning to count the cost.

No final estimate is yet possible, but the general impression in governmental circles is that the loss will be less than the cost of the coal strike in 1921, which is generally thought to have been in the neighborhood of 200 million pounds.

In a message of thanks to the chief civil commissioner, Sir William Mitchell Thompson and to the volunteers, Premier Baldwin reveals what great sources of strength the government had behind it in combating the general strike. The premier says that nearly half a million men and women were enrolled through the country by the voluntary service committees, of whom less than ten per cent were actually called upon when the strike ended.

Mineral Transfer Opposed by Work Washington, D. C.—The proposal of a group of western senators and representatives to change the national policy of administering school lands, which contemplates the outright transfer of the minerals found within these school sections by the federal government to the states, was opposed by Secretary of the Interior Work.

119 Estates Pay Washington Taxes Olympia.—Inheritance tax collections for April totaled $59,318.43 on 119 estates, while six estates netted $681.19 cash and $1550 appraised value of real estate, the grand total being $59,549.62, according to G. W. H. Davis, supervisor of inheritance and escheats. There were 533 new cases opened during the month.

NORGE ARRIVES IN TELLER SAFELY

Nome, Alaska.—Captain Roald Amundsen, Lincoln Ellsworth, Captain Oscar Wisting and Lieutenant Oskar Omdahl of the crew of 18 of the dirigible Norge, arrived here from Teller, 75 miles northwest, in the launch Pippin at 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The Norge reached Teller from Siptzbergen via the north pole at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

Amundsen, a Norwegian was leader of the arctic flight; Ellsworth, an American, second in command, and Omdahl and Wisting, especially charged with landing the Norge. The Norge landed at Teller 71 hours after having left Kings bay, Siptzbergen. The air voyage took the dirigible across the north pole, where the explorers dropped the flags of three nations.

Lieutenant Hjalmer Riiser-Larsen, Norwegian, second pilot, said that thin ice and open water were found at the north pole, but no land was discovered in the arctic wastes.

Considerable time was spent at the north pole making observations, the Norge having descended to within 600 feet of the ice and rose to an altitude of 4000 feet.

BLAST WRECKS U. S. EMBASSY

Buenos Aires.—A bomb was exploded in front of the United States embassy late Sunday night. No one was injured and only slight damage was done.

The American ambassador, Peter Augustus Jay, was not in the embassy at the time, but returned about ten minutes after the explosion. He was at a loss to explain why the embassy should be bombed, but the theory was advanced by some that the incident was connected with the recent denial of a new trial for Nicola Sacco and Tarbo-Lomoe Vanzetti, convicted in Massachusetts of murder.

The bomb, which exploded in front of the main entrance of the embassy, tore a hole in the left side of the door and shattered several windows of the building and of neighboring houses.

Only servants were in the building at the time of the explosion. They at first attributed the noise to the bursting of a tire and did not realize a bomb had exploded until police arrived within a few minutes. A police investigation was begun immediately.

COAST GUARD IN TURMOIL

Veritable Upheaval Predicted in Government Circles

Seattle, Wash.—The United States coast guard in the Pacific northwest was in turmoil after a statement of Roy Lyle, federal prohibition administrator for the district, that "at least five or six" members of the service had been indicted by a federal grand jury here, which named nearly 200 persons.

Roy Olmstead, under 4 years' penitentiary sentence for international liquor conspiracy, was declared by federal officers to head the group named in the indictments.

Arrests gave evidence that when all warrants issued on the 37 indictments have been served there will be a veritable upheaval in Pacific northwest government circles.

The indictments were returned after liquor investigations ramifying into Canada and eastern United States, which federal authorities pronounced the biggest ever launched on the Pacific coast.

Forest Fire Sweeps North Minnesota

Minneapolis.—Lashed onward with devastating fury by high winds, forest fires Monday swept over five counties in northern Minnesota, destroying hundreds of acres of timber, and stubbornly resisted the efforts of 2000 volunteer fire fighters and forest rangers who attempted to stay the rapid advance of the flames. One man was reported burned to death near a lumber camp beyond Warroad.

Membership Trophy Won by Idaho

Indianapolis, Ind.—James H. McGinniss, member of the national executive committee of the American Legion, conceded the Lindsay membership trophy cup for this year to the department of Idaho. The award is made annually on the basis of percentage of its old membership enrolled by March 1 of each year.

Campaign for 30-Mile Tunnel Starts

Seattle, Wash.—The Cascade tunnel association meets here June 14 to plan a state-wide campaign for a 30-mile bore under the Cascade mountains. The tunnel would be the longest in the world and would carry rail and vehicular traffic.
