HALSEY'S SLUMBERS SEEM DISTURBED

To the People of Halsey:
"Sweet Auburn, loveliest village of the plain" became a deserted place. Halsey has not done that, but until very recently she has shown but meager signs of progress. Now "the longest paved road in the world" passes through the town and autos from Kenduskeag, Okmulgee and Kankakee, as well as little ol' N' Yo'k, go whizzing by at the rate of several per minute sometimes. Some of them stop for gasoline or lunch or even camp over night and spend money.

When that paved road was begun there was one garage and filling station. Now there are four, and one, advertised in the Enterprise, is presided over by an expert machinist who can, if need be, make a new shuttle for your sewing machine or a new battery for your radio. There was no restaurant outside the hotel building.
Now there are several.

There was a twenty column news paper, published by Mr. Ballard, and he made it pay by giving the people only as much as their patronage paid for. You have lately been getting a paper of forty-eight columns per week, into the production of which went the entire receipts. Nobody is going to continue permanently publishing a good newspaper in Halsey for nothing and boarding himself. You are likely to get as good a paper as your patronage warrants, or better. The patronage has increased since Mr. Ballard's day if you continue to make its business grow you are likely to have a paper that will be a credit to the town and an asset to the whole community. A half-starved local paper is a mighty poor asset to any community.

I have no pecuniary object in speaking a good word for Mr.
Almon. He has purchased the business outright and I would lose nothing financially if he went bankrupt tomorrow. But I believe he will give you a good printed representative of Halsey and vicinity and I wish to impress upon the people who have the good of the community at heart (those who haven't don't count) the fact that a liberal patronage of a local paper in the hands of an energetic publisher will pay better than any other investment you can make.

Mr. Morris, your druggist sets a good example and shows good business judgment by advertising each week special articles at prices you can't improve on by going elsewhere to trade. Establishing himself in the new location he has purchased, and making the announced improvement in those quarters, will benefit Halsey more than lipstick, powder and paint would a flapper.

Other new blood and advanced methods are likely to come. Judicious and persistent advertising, with the best goods and lowest possible prices, would make a dent in the large volume of purchases now coming by auto from other towns. We see everything, from a sack of flour to a radio set, coming here when local dealers ought to have the business.

It is well for a Halsey family to have a city daily paper, but both that family, the publisher and the community benefits when the home town paper is also taken—and paid for.

Wm. H. Wheeler,

Jack Reynolds, holder of the world welterweight wrestling championship, who will defend his title against Robin Reed, wrestling coach at the Oregon Agricultural college, in a finish match at Albany, Saturday, May 29. With the title goes a gold, diamond-studded belt, which will rest in a neutral corner. Reynolds is coach of wrestling at the University of Indiana.

LEWISTON TO CELEBRATE

Industrial Advance Will Be Observed
By Idaho City

Lewiston, Idaho.—Citizens of Lewiston selected May 14 for what they term an "industrial celebration." The event was arranged to show the appreciation of the city for the decision of the Clearwater Timber company to establish a big sawmill here, and for the decision of the Inland Light & Power company to install a dam in the Clearwater river.

The power company, by agreement with the timber company, is also to install the big log storage that will serve the mill. The outlay to be made by the mill and power companies will total about $6,000,000 and the railroad into the timber belt will cost over $3,000,000.

Asserts Congress Can Call Dry Vote

Washington, D. C.—The moot question of whether congress has the power to authorize a national referendum on prohibition leaped into prominence on Capitol Hill when the senate judiciary committee made public a series of rebuttal arguments growing out of the recent hearings, including one by Frederick P. Lee, the senate's own legislative counsel, declaring that congress had such power under the constitution. The dries, led by Wayne B.
Wheeler, generalissimo of the Anti Saloon league, have vehemently denied congress possessed such powers.

Ousted Regents Carry Cases to Court

Olympia, Wash.—Challenging the right of A. H. B. Jordan of Lowell and Paul H. Johns of Tacoma to serve as regents of the University of Washington, quo warranto proceedings were filed in the supreme court by Werner A. Rupp of Aberdeen and James H.
Davis of Tacoma, who were deposed May 4 by Governor Roland H. Hartley on the grounds of "misconduct in office."

BRIEF GENERAL NEWS

General M. D. Vance of Little Rock, Ark., commander of the Arkansas division, was chosen commander in chief of the Confederate vets.

The naval appropriations bill signed by President Coolidge carried $331,- 000,000 including $1,200,000 for commencing construction on three new light cruisers.

The Anaconda Copper Mining company and W. A. Harriman & Co., bankers, both American concerns, have acquired control of the Polish holdings of George von Giesche's heirs.

The Boise, Idaho, Capital-News was sold by the Dewey brothers of Nampa to Roy Sanders, who purchased the paper on behalf of himself, Mrs. Josephine Scripps, B. H. Canfield and their associates.

The Mexican minister of interior issued a statement saying all foreign Protestant ministers who fail to comply with constitution and laws of the country will be deported. This is taken to mean that all foreign ministers, Protestant as well as Catholic, must cease religious activities or leave the country.

Washington Summer Schools Legal

Olympia, Wash.—Applying specifically to the Bellingham school district, where it is proposed to adopt the four-quarter system in the public schools, Assistant Attorney-General E. W. Anderson has ruled that the maximum credit of 183 days attendance for apportionment purposes may be allowed, regardless of what time of year the pupils attend school. The department of education had formerly held the apportionment credit could not be allowed during the ordinary summer vacation period.

Eskimos to Get Knock-Down Homes

Seattle, Wash.—The schooner E. S.
Holmes, sailing from here for Point Barrow, where the American flag floats farthest north, carries knockeddown houses sent by the United States department of the interior to Eskimos.
The Eskimos pay $1340 each for the houses.

Bootleggers Don't Have to Tell Sales

Washington, D. C.—Bootleggers and their customers cannot be prosecuted under the prohibition enforcement act for failing to furnish the government a permanent record of all illegal sales, including the names of customers, the supreme court declared in a case from Pennsylvania.

Paris.—Ratification of the Washington debt settlement and arrangements to pay the war debt to Great Britain are regarded by the French government as so essential to the stabilization of the franc that M. Peret, the finance minister, went to London Sunday to confer with Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer, with a view to an early agreement.

Premier Briand will propose the question of confidence on the American debt agreement at the end of the debate, which will begin soon after parliament convenes again on May 27.

The continued and growing weakness of the franc has increased the opposition to ratification.

There undoubtedly is great disappointment that the French money, instead of profiting from the Washington arrangement, has steadily declined since the agreement was reached.

Emergency Pantry
Meets Home Need

By META H. GIVEN
(Home Economist.)

Efficiency and economy go hand and hand in the home as well as in the business world.
The emergency pantry, latest innovation in the cuisine of the modern housewife is particularly indicative of the truth of this statement.

This new sort of pantry—it may just be a shelf in the regular larder —does away with that bugaboo of the home maker,
the surprise guest.
Every woman has had the experience of welcoming an unexpected visitor when supplies were at low ebb and has searched high and low to find something presentable to put on the table. The emergency shelf in the pantry does away with such worries in short order.

A can opener and— presto—a ver-table banquet can be prepared in a few minutes. The housewife may have her choice of many excellent meats, corn, tomatoes, mushrooms. If she is short of milk or cream, a can of evaporated milk, which is simply fresh cow's milk sterilized in the can and with sixty per cent of the water removed will do the trick. In fact she may have two hundred or more savory dishes ready to her hand.

When the surprise guest does arrive the hostess naturally wishes to be hospitable. She doesn't want to be tied to the kitchen range half the afternoon. She wants to entertain as she has been entertained.

It isn't possible if she has to phone frantically for the butcher, the grocer and the baker.

But that's only one of the places where the emergency pantry comes in. Backed by a well-stocked emergency shelf, the wife can get together a splendid luncheon or dinner in a jiffy. The spontaneous wish that comes at the last moment to informally invite a few friends for lunch can be gratified at once with the aid of the new pantry.

Afternoon tea for the bridge club is an equally easy matter. A glass of preserves or jelly, a platter of bread and butter, tea, and a dish of cookies will meet the ordinary demands of the casual caller and a can of evaporated milk will answer the milk or cream need.

Peaches and cream complexions of American women have their foundation in a milk diet, according to

Dr. Henry J.
Schireson, famous Chicago dermatologist and facial plastic surgeon.

Doctor Schireson has won fame by beautifying motion picture, musical comedy and vaudeville stars and many society women of America. He transformed Fanny Brice's nose, rejuvenated Eva Tanguay's face, removed sixty-four pounds of adipose tissue from Truly Shattuck in one operation, straightened the cross eyes of the leading lady of Slinger's midwits, and has performed other corrections for making people young and beautiful.

Doctor Schireson has one infallible prescription for the attainment of beauty. It is: "One quart of milk a day, one hour of sunshine, and repeat ad libitum."

"Beauty specialists and cosmetic makers," says Doctor Schireson, "would be driven out of business in a few weeks if all the women of America would drink their quart of milk a day."

"Babies and children have complexions of angels for the reason that they are fed largely on milk. Milk used externally or internally is a beautifier. Anna Held, I believe, was the first actress who adopted the milk bath. While this was a novelty at the time, and her press agent undoubtedly made the most of it, the principle in itself was sound. But a beauty secret of even more value is the daily quart of milk taken as a part of the diet."

"The milk-fed girl is easily distinguished by the velvety texture and the healthy color of her skin. Milk is a wonderful body builder, because it contains every structural element.
It is, in a way, an elixir of life."

"Authorities agree that milk is the most nearly perfect food but it is an extremely delicate one as well. Heat sufficient to kill all bacteria is the essential of absolutely pure and sterile milk. One of the advantages
fresh cow's milk with sixty per cent of the water removed, is that it is entirely sterile and is more easily assimilated than ordinary market milk."

"Milk is mentioned forty-seven times in the Bible. The Promised Land of the Israelites was said to flow 'with milk and honey' and Ovid graded milk as second only to nectar, the drink of the gods."
