DRY ORGANIZATION SPENDS MILLIONS

Washington, D. C.—Expenditures of more than $7,000,000 by the anti-saloon leagues in 22 states during the past six years were disclosed by additional reports filed with the senate campaign funds committee by Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the national dry organization.

These states include New York, Maryland and Rhode Island, which alone have no local dry enforcement statutes, as well as Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and Kentucky.

While the state organizations contribute certain parts of their income to the national anti-saloon league, it was developed from Mr. Wheeler, that both the national and state organizations do their own collecting independently of each other.

It was revealed, among other things, that Richmond Pearson Hobson, a field agent for the prohibition cause for many years, received a total of $171,249 over a period of nine years, or almost $20,000 a year. He was a lecturer and organizer.

William Jennings Bryan, prohibitionist, fundamentalist churchman and democratic presidential candidate, received $11,000 from the Anti-Saloon league in 1919 for making prohibition speeches, it was shown.

Sayings That Cannot Be Termed Gallant

A Spanish rhyme runs—Were a woman as little as she is good, a peapod would make her a gown and a hood.

An old English saying—If a man lose a woman and a farthing, he will be sorry he lost the farthing.

French adage—A man of straw is worth a woman of gold.

German—There are only two good women in the world—one dead, and the other can't be found.

Scotch—Honest men marry soon, wise men never.

In Fife they say—The next best thing to no wife is a good wife.

Arabian—Words are women; deeds are men.

A Persian sage says that a woman's wisdom is under her heel.

The Persian asserts that women and dragons are best out of the world.

Coriscan—Just as a good and a bad horse both need the spur, a good and a bad woman both need the stick.

AMERICAN NAVAL THEORY REJECTED

Geneva.—The Americans met defeat on naval problems. Their minority report, to which Great Britain, Argentina and Chile had subscribed and made their own, was definitely rejected at a meeting of disarmament experts.

Only the signers themselves supported it, fourteen others voted against it and Germany declined to cast a ballot. The minority report contended that the naval strength of the various countries should be compared by the tonnage of classes of ships, rather than by total tonnage.

The disarmament meeting then adopted the majority report of the naval sub-committee.

The significance of the action is that one of the fundamental principles of the Washington naval treaty is scrapped. This principle is that in comparing navies of countries the standard should be the total tonnage of classes of ships, as for instance battleships. The report finally approved rejects the standard as unfair in its application to the countries which did not participate in the Washington conference.

The United States gave notice to the military committee on the preparatory disarmament commission that it would never agree to placing supervision of its armaments in the hands of any international body.

The United States also made plain that it could not place the carrying out of any program of limitation of armaments in the hands of an international body.

AVIATION OFFICIALS NAMED

Senate Confirms Men for New Positions Created by Congress.

Washington, D. C.—Less than two hours after it had been transmitted to the senate by President Coolidge, the nomination of F. Trabee Davison of New York to be assistant secretary of war in charge of aviation, was confirmed.

The senate also confirmed the nomination of Edward P. Warner, professor of aeronautics at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to be assistant secretary of the navy in charge of aviation.

Davison and Warner will hold posts created under legislation just enacted by congress with a view to strengthening the army and navy air services. Another measure, which also carried out recommendations of the president's air board, provides for an assistant secretary of commerce to have charge of the new bureau of civil aeronautics, but no one has been designated as yet for that post.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS TOTALS $377,768,000

Washington, D. C.—The federal government closed its fiscal year, with a surplus of $377,768,000.

This margin, although below the estimate of $390,000,000 recently made by President Coolidge, is almost four times as large as was expected by the president earlier in the year. The surplus will be used to reduce the public debt.

Both customs receipts and income taxes exceeded those of last year, the latter despite the reductions in tax rates made in the middle of the year.

The public debt during the last fiscal year was reduced $85,000,000, making the total obligation now $19,433,000,000.

Secretary Mellon announced that the treasury was selling $43,000,000 of 4 1/2 per cent far loan bank bonds back to the loan banks. These bonds, taken by the government to establish a farm loan bank system will be reissued to the public at 4 1/8 per cent.

Moneys derived from the sale of these bonds will be placed in the treasury to stabilize the government's finances until the next tax collection period in September. This fund, which is now available, made the issuing of bonds on June 15 as was customary to finance the government, unnecessary.

The government revenues last year were $3,962,755,000 and expenditures $3,584,987,000.

Income tax receipts were $1,982,040,000, and customs collections $579,430,000.

CONGRESS PASSES GO-OPERATIVE BILL

Washington, D. C.—The co-operative marketing bill was the only farm relief measure to run the house and senate gauntlet at this session.

After rejecting, 156 to 67, a motion to send the measure to conference, the house, without a record vote, approved two senate amendments.

Sponsored by Secretary Jardine, it would create a division in the agriculture department to foster the development and work of farmers' co-operatives, and an appropriation of $325,000 would be authorized.

The bill was approved by the senate after it had rejected the Fess farm credits bill, endorsed by President Coolidge, to which it had been proposed as a rider.

When it came back to the house Representative McDuffie, Democrat, Alabama, moved to send it to conference. He was supported by a group of democrats and a few republicans who opposed a senate amendment to eliminate naval stores from the commodities to be classified under the bill as "agricultural products."

The other senate amendment, designed to broaden the scope of the proposed co-operative division, was accepted without debate.

HOUSE APPROVES PENSIONS

Civil and Mexican War Veterans to Get More Money.

Washington, D. C.—A senate bill providing increases of pensions to civil and Mexican war veterans and dependents at an estimated cost to the government of $15,000,000 annually was passed by the house without a record vote.

Under the bill, it is estimated that 53,000 civil war veterans now getting $50 a month would receive $65. Veterans receiving $72 a month would get $90, if totally disabled or blind, and it is estimated 20 per cent of the 55,000 men now on a $72 basis would be eligible for the increase.

The pensions of 26,000 widows of civil war veterans would be increased from $30 to $50 a month while civil war nurses would receive $50 a month.

About 1100 widows of veterans of the war of 1812 and the Mexican war would be eligible for an increase from $30 to $50 a month.

Al Smith Bids Coolidge Welcome.

Albany, N. Y.—A welcome to the "cooling breezes of the Adirondack mountains," together with the gift of a fishing license with the added hope that "you will not miss any," were extended to President Coolidge in a letter dispatched by Governor Smith. The president will spend the summer at Osgood lake for a summer in the mountains.

McNARY HEAD OF FARM COMMITTEE

Washington, D. C.—Senator George Norris, the republican insurgent from Nebraska, who on many occasions has found himself at odds with the Coolidge administration, resigned as chairman of the senate agriculture committee.

The senate accepted the resignation without debate.

The retirement of Norris leaves as the ranking republican on the committee another senator who has disagreed with the president on farm relief legislation—McNary of Oregon.

Senator McNary said he would accept the chairmanship and continue his fight at the next session for farm relief legislation. This will involve his retirement as chairman of the committee on irrigation and reclamation.

Congress adjourned Saturday for the summer.

He was thought recovered sufficiently to continue his trip when he stayed for Portland.

NON-PARTISANS WIN DAKOTA

Coolidge Candidate Loses in North Dakota Primaries.

Fargo, N. D.—Senator Gerald P. Nye, non-partisan incumbent defeated L. B. Hanna, independent, for the republican senatorial nomination. Nye's campaign distinctly opposed the national administration with attacks made particularly on the failure to pass the Haugen agricultural relief bill. The world court and the Mellon bill were other subjects of attack.

Hanna, on the other hand, upheld the administration, winning the appellation "Coolidge candidate" within the state.

This non-partisan movement also re-nominated Governor A. G. Sorlie in the gubernatorial contest. Sorlie defeated J. M. Hanley, independent.

Irrigation projects in Oregon are faced with the most serious water shortage in the history of irrigation in this state, according to Rhea Luper, state engineer. The only projects which still have an adequate supply of water are those with storage facilities. Virtually all of the shortage is being experienced by projects and individuals depending upon the direct flow of streams, such streams in Oregon at this time, being at an unusually low stage.
