

Albany Directory

This is good advice: "If you live in Albany, trade in Albany; if you live in some other town, trade in that town." But in these automobile days many residing elsewhere find it advisable to do at least part of their buying in the larger town. Those who go to Albany to transact business will find the firms named below ready to fill their requirements with courtesy and fairness.

The Philadelphia of Our Ancestors

Here is shown a section of "High Street," a reproduction of Philadelphia's famous Market street in the days of 1776. It is one of the outstanding features of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition now being held in Philadelphia to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Every building has been built to actual size and in actual architectural detail. The furnishings of each building are exact reproductions of those used in the Revolutionary days. Many of the pieces on display are the originals and today are worth thousands of dollars because of their historic value. The Exposition continues until December 1.

BASIN PROPOSAL TO GO BEFORE CONGRESS

Hoover Declares Support of Other States Needed for Development.

Seattle, Wash.—Construction of the Columbia basin irrigation project, which would water 1,750,000 acres of land in central and eastern Washington should be placed before congress at its next session, it was voted here by the Columbia Basin Irrigation league during its fifth annual session. The league accepted Secretary of Commerce Hoover's suggestion that "completion of the project no longer involves engineering problems, for they all have been met."

Mr. Hoover, on his arrival in Seattle had completed a tour of 3000 square miles of land included in the Columbia basin project.

"I have been deeply impressed with the serious purpose of the Columbia basin irrigation league," he said. "But this project is only one of many that are being urged and no one of these can succeed standing alone. For example, it is doubtful whether in congress this Columbia basin project would have the support of any state other than Washington and perhaps Oregon. The Big Boulder canyon project would have the support only of the little group of states that are interested in the Colorado river development; all the rest would be against it. So of any project that might be named."

"But if the efforts of all states can be co-ordinated on a definite national program of water utilization, the strife and jealousies that now stand in the way of development can be removed." Mr. Hoover predicted a strong lumber market for the next six months.

PEACE IN MEXICO BELIEVED NEAR

Mexico City.—Mexico's bitter religious controversy, which has sorely strained the business interests of the country, set the government and Roman Catholic church in strongly opposing position and concentrated the anxious attention of the world on this republic, appears to be in a fair way to amicable adjustment through personal conferences between President Calles and the prelates. It is confidently hoped by the episcopate that an agreement will be reached, unless unforeseen obstacles develop.

President Calles cordially received two high dignitaries of the church, the Most Rev. Leopold Ruiz Flores, archbishop of Michoacan, and Bishop Diaz of Tabasco, at the presidential palace, and a statement issued by the episcopate after the conference described it as "truly satisfactory."

The president informed the prelates that registration of the priests as required by the new regulations was only for administrative purposes and that the government did not intend to interfere on the questions of dogma or religion.

The episcopate accepted this declaration and announced that as soon as the churches had fulfilled these legal requirements there would be no further objection to renewing church services. In the meantime the church will continue its efforts for constitutional amendment of the religious clauses through the medium of congress.

RUM QUESTIONS KEEP COURT BUSY

Washington, D. C.—Controversies arising out of the enforcement of the Volstead act and interpretation of rum treaties now constitute one of the most prolific sources of litigation reaching the supreme court.

The cases pending cover a wide range, from attempts to nullify rum treaties which General Andrews regards as one of the most effective instruments in combatting bootlegging, to technical questions in rather ordinary cases.

Seizure of the Canadian steamer Quadra off the Farallone Islands, liquor laden, on the ground that she was within one hour's sailing by her own power of the California coast, will be the basis for testing the jurisdiction of federal courts to try cases alleged to have originated outside the territorial limits of the United States.

Automobile companies in Alabama and Washington state are questioning the right of the government to sell automobiles seized in illicit traffic when title to the cars has not passed to those purchasing them on deferred payments. The authority of Oregon to prohibit insurance companies from issuing policies to indemnify automobile companies against loss through such seizures also is under litigation.

BRIEF GENERAL NEWS

Check of the season's forest fire damage shows that one-third of the Kaniku forest on the Washington-Idaho border line has been swept over.

Percival Dodge, United States minister to Denmark, failed to appear at the royal palace to present his credentials when he was expected and King Christian of Denmark has determined to let the American envoy wait a while, the newspaper Extrabladet reports.

Large Apple Crop This Year Forecast.

Chicago.—An apple crop exceeding the last five years' average production by 20,000,000 barrels was forecast here by the government's local bureau of agricultural economics. This forecast fixes the amount of the crop at 2,000,000 barrels higher than the figures issued a month ago. Production for the last five years has averaged 30,000,000 barrels a year the survey shows. Locally, early apples are so abundant that the price has dropped as low as 50 cents a bushel.

Greek Dictator is Ousted.

Athens.—Greece has another dictator. Theodoros Pangalos has been overthrown in a bloodless coup d'etat. General Condylis, once a corporal in the Greek army, has taken over the reins of government. Moving as swiftly as did Pangalos when last year he ousted Admiral Condouriotis from the provisional presidency of Greece and set himself up at the head of the government, General Condylis had Pangalos arrested Sunday morning on the island of Spetse, where he was on vacation. He was put on the destroyer Pergamos to be brought to Athens. At the same time all the ministers were taken into custody.

Imperial Russian Cossack Circus Imported in Its Huge Entirety Direct From London Olympia by Miller Brothers

Positively the Largest and Most Sensational Feature Ever Imported by an American Amusement Enterprise. This Cossack Circus Held all London Enthralled for Weeks as a Separate show. It is Just a Part of the Mighty 101 Ranch 1926 All-New Program.

Unparalleled in modern circus history is the feat of Miller Brothers in contracting the entire Imperial Russian Cossack circus, which showed the London Olympia all winter as a sensational and complete show of unprecedented hugeness and novelty, for their 101 ranch real wild west and great far East.

This mighty attraction, assembled in the Balkan and other border countries from scattered Imperial hosts of the late Czar of all the Russias, was acclaimed by the London Daily Graphic as "the finest show of its kind that London has ever had." The London Daily Express said: "One of the most thrilling spectacles ever seen in London opened at the Olympia last night. The riding feats of the cowboys at Wemy were outdone by 200 lean, tough Cossacks."

The London Daily Mail remarked: "The Cossacks piled thrill upon thrill. They take away your breath; they are almost too much for your eyes. They must be seen to be believed." The London Morning Post stated: "The whole immense production is something entirely new. Nothing like it has ever been seen in London before. The performance is simply prodigious. The feats of horsemanship must be seen to be believed."

That was London's opinion of the Cossack circus as a show in itself—a huge circus in a mighty city. Now, Miller Brothers are adding this same Imperial Russian Cossack circus—horsemen, band, choir, acrobats, tumblers, dancers, cavalry units and all—to the huge 101 ranch real wild west and great far east.

This is the greatest circus importation in all history.

So, Miller Brothers' 101 ranch real wild west and great far east comes to Eugene, Saturday, September 4, with a tremendous big show program, with 1,400 people, cowboys and cowgirls, picturesque and exotic; with 600 horses, elephants, camels, buffalo (from the ranch herds,) burros, oxen and longhorns; with every famous Indian chief and warrior in America among its contingents of 300 redekings; with the largest spread of canvas in circus history—some fifteen acres in all—and a magnificent opera chair grandstand which, with its supplementary tiers, seats 14,000 people. And, ignoring the retrenchment policy of the circuses, they bring to town the largest and most picturesque street parade ever seen in the land.

BOY BANDIT IS SHOT DOWN

Brother, 21, Admits Holdups and Receives 20 to 30 Years.

Pueblo, Colo.—The crime career of Pueblo's "Baby bandits," Forest and Lester Gonze, age 19 and 14, respectively, came to a dramatic end when Lester was shot and probably fatally wounded by Deputy Sheriff Fiscus in the heart of the downtown section here.

Forest was captured, unarmed and pleaded guilty to two charges of highway robbery. He was sentenced to 20 to 30 years in prison.

"The reign of terror" conducted by the lads began about three weeks ago when they escaped from the state industrial school at Golden, Colo. This was followed by robberies, gun battles with officers, escapes from poses and the climax of the shooting of Lester and the arrest of Forest.

Dry Force is to be Augmented.

New York.—Lincoln C. Andrews, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, took action to tighten the lines against ships or other sources in New York harbor. Forty customs guards and inspectors were detached from that service and sworn in as prohibition officers.

HEARINGS HELD ON SAND ISLAND DISPUTE

Portland, Or.—Whether the United States is going to give Sand Island, valuable seining ground in the lower Columbia, back to the state of Oregon, or will return some $350,000 paid by fishermen to the government in past years, is to be determined in large part through hearings held at Astoria and Ilwaco, Monday and Tuesday by the subcommittee of the public lands committee of the senate.

Years ago the state ceded Sand Island to the federal government for military uses. The government never put the island to the use intended in the act of cession, but, in time and as the salmon fishing industry grew, leased the island to seiners. The annual lease rental is now approximately $40,000. Altogether the government has received some $350,000 for such rentals.

Recently a controversy grew up between the states of Oregon and Washington as to whether the island was within the boundaries of Washington or of this state, and the supreme court of the United States held it to be within the Oregon boundaries.

Two bills are pending in the senate at this time, alternate in terms, one requiring that the United States return to Oregon the rentals received, not having used the island for military purposes. The other provides that the government reconvey title to the state, though retaining the right of military use in case of necessity.

The subcommittee of the senate public lands committee, of which Senator Stanfield is chairman, was directed to conduct hearings and report as to which of these measures should be enacted. This committee consists of Senators Stanfield of Oregon, Dill of Washington, Norbeck of South Dakota, Cameron and Ashurst of Arizona. Three will be present at the hearings, Senators Norbeck and Cameron having been compelled to return to their homes.

RUDOLPH VALENTINO DIES

Death Occurs at New York Hospital from Infection Following Operation. New York, N. Y.—Rudolph Valentino, original "sheik" of the movies, died here Monday.

Valentino came east several weeks ago to attend the Broadway premiere of his latest picture and to bid farewell to his brother, who was returning to his home in Italy after a visit.

He collapsed in his apartment here a week ago Sunday afternoon and was rushed to the hospital, where an immediate operation was decided upon. Local peritonitis set in shortly after the operation.

Valentino came to this country as an emigrant gardener and rose to the heights of fame as an actor.

Humbly born, the son of a farmer in Italy, he died with four skilled physicians at his bedside and with the country waiting each word from his sickroom almost as if it was the word from the sickroom of a president.

U. S. Filers to Exclude Horn.

Washington, D. C.—A flight by five army airplanes around South America is being planned by the state and war departments. Formal announcement that the air project was actually in process of arrangement between the state department and the various South and Central American governments concerned was made in a joint statement issued by the two departments.

Fokker, Would be U. S. Citizen.

New York, N. Y.—A. H. G. Fokker, Dutch airplane manufacturer, has applied for American citizenship. Speaking at a dinner given by the Wright Aeronautical company in honor of Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd and Pilot Floyd Bennett, North Pole fliers, Fokker said he intended to devote his talents and ability toward making this country the world's leader in aviation.

Washington Legionnaires Elect Raffle

Longview, Wash.—The eighth annual convention of the American Legion and its auxiliary of Washington came to an end with a parade, banquet and initiation, staged by the 40 and 8 society. John T. Raffle of Colville, Wash., was unanimously elected commander of the department of Washington. Spokane was selected as the 1927 convention city.

Albert C. Williams of Texas, appointed by President Coolidge as head of the farm loan bureau to succeed Robert A. Cooper, resigned.

HARTLEY REMOVES U. OF W. REGENT

Seattle, Wash.—Governor Hartley removed C. A. Fechter of Yakima as a regent of the University of Washington.

Fechter, who had sought to have the regents continue a building program which the majority, consisting of Hartley appointees, postponed until a financial survey is completed, was replaced by J. M. Perry of Yakima.

Ousting of Fechter leaves two regents in office when Hartley became governor in January, 1925.

To prevent Governor Hartley's auditors from inspecting records of the University of Washington alumni association, 20 men entered the office of the organization and removed the correspondence files and other papers.

The group failed to heed a formal protest against taking the records from the campus made by Comptroller Herbert T. Condon of the university, acting as representative of the board of regents.

A. H. B. Jordan of Everett, president of the regents of the University of Washington, declared here after a meeting of the regents that court action will likely be started against 20 graduates of the university.

RIVER FUNDS ALLOTTED

Provision Made for Oregon and Washington Improvements.

Washington, D. C.—Army engineers announced the allotment of funds for a total of $450,000 was set aside for river to Chesapeake bay, Delaware and the inland waterway from Delaware river and harbor works.

Maryland, and other allotments included: Cascades canal, Columbia river, Washington, $14,000. Dalles-Celilo canal, Columbia river, Oregon, $15,000. Canal and locks, Willamette river, Oregon, $40,500.
