School Notes

Friday the high school team on the same ground lost to Shedd, 9 to 7, and the Halsey girls lost by 43 to 17. The Halsey players attribute their failure to lack of training, due to wet weather and an inadequate diamond.

The student body held its regular business meeting Wednesday. Ruth Sturtevant was elected secretary to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Nora Coldiron.

It was voted to put on an old-paper campaign. Carl Spurling was appointed general manager of it.

Officers for next year were nominated, to be elected next Wednesday.

The high school is now gathering old papers to sell. We hope to get a car-load. The money is to be set aside for the gymnasium fund, which has already been started. We urge you, patrons and friends of the school, to help out in this work by giving us your old papers. This gymnasium fund will probably make possible a good community hall, which is much needed in Halsey. If you have papers, whether in large or small quantities, you may call Clark's confectionery or inform Carl Spurling or Charley Wright and we will gladly call for them.

Halsey won another baseball game Tuesday, beating Shedd at the latter city, 15 to 2. The Halsey girls were beaten, 24 to 5.

Railroad Travel Novelties

The "Cascade line" began running via Klamath Falls Sunday last. It cuts 3 1/2 hours from the time between Portland and San Francisco, making the trip in 24 1/2 hours. For use Tuesdays and Fridays tickets are sold for $15.

Sleeping cars that mark a new departure in Pullman construction and improved dining cars, together with drawing room and compartment cars, club cars and observation cars equip the Cascade trains.

From April 29 to Oct. 2, the season of summer tourist low rates, round-trip tickets south from Seattle or Portland or north from Los Angeles or San Francisco will give the option of going all by rail or one way by rail and one way by boat.

Twenty thousand bullfrogs from Louisville, Ky., reached San Francisco recently, bound for Japan to stock a frog farm. Mr. McGinnis called them "A party of travelers well supplied with greenbacks."

Not Asking help From Congress

J. H. Jackson of Lostine writes to the Washington Pathfinder:

C. D. Broxson, of Lostine, farms 600 acres of land, summer following half each season and using 20 horses and three two-bottom 14-inch gang plows for his work. He harrows the land several times during the summer, using 16 horses on a 10-section steel-tooth harrow, and he uses two drills for seeding — one nine and one 11-foot drill drawn by nine horses. The only hired help to take care of all this work is a sack sewer while combining his grain.

Matrimonial Mistake
