

HALSEY AND VICINITY BREVITIES

Douglas Taylor of Halsey spent Tuesday at the state fair.

Mr. F. M. Grey of Halsey, is reported to be recovering from her recent illness.

Mrs. M. M. Ward of Halsey spent the week end in Brownsville where she was the guest of relatives.

J. Douglas Pritchard of Blatchley was in Halsey Friday and while here made arrangements for opening a watch repairing shop which he expects to open here next Monday.

Mrs. Karl Bramwell and two children returned to their home in Halsey Tuesday from Drain where they had visited at the home of Mrs. Bramwell's sister, Mrs. F. M. Maxwell, since Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dove of Pueblo, Colorado, arrived in Halsey Friday evening for a visit with Mr. Dove's sister, Mrs. Anne Maxwell. The visitors are so well pleased with this section of Oregon that they may decide to locate here later.

Ed Sawyer has started an express line from Brownsville to Albany via Halsey, Shedd and Tangent. He will arrive in Halsey, going north, at 10 a. m. and coming south at 1 p. m. All express will be loaded and unloaded at the S. P. depot.

C. Adrian Sias has accepted a call from the local board of the Church of Christ as pastor of the church for the coming year. Rev. Sias expresses keen delight in the spirit of the congregation and in the fine attendance and interest of the young folks.

Mrs. Balvay Logan of Corvallis has been visiting in Halsey the past ten days at the home of Mrs. L. A. Pray, and other friends. Mrs. Logan is a former Halsey resident and while in the city renewed her subscription to the Enterprise which she says she cannot get along without.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Clausen of Los Angeles, are spending the week in Halsey, and while here are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Bond. They were recently married and are returning home from a wedding trip through Oregon, Washington, Idaho and western Canada. Mrs. Clausen and Mrs. Bond are cousins.

William H. Wheeler returned to his home in Halsey Sunday from Greenleaf where he spent the past ten days visiting at the home of his son and other relatives. Mr. Wheeler was accompanied home by his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Wheeler, and their two children, Eugene and Nellie. Mr. Wheeler came home with no better health than when he left and for the past few days has been under the care of Dr. T. I. Marks who is treating him for heart trouble.

SOCIETY NEWS

From Our Regular Correspondents

The reception for which the members of the Parent Teacher association will be hosts this evening and which has been planned for the pleasure of the teachers and new students, will open the social affairs of the Halsey schools for the winter. A program is one of the features of the evening. The public has been extended an invitation to be present.

Lake Creek—Mrs. Thomas Ardry was hostess to the Women's Missionary society of Peoria Thursday afternoon. An interesting lesson from the study book, "Healing Ourselves," was given. During the social hour the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Lake Creek—Thursday evening of last week about 25 friends of Miss Fay Hathaway met at her home and surprised her with a kitchen shower, the event having been planned in honor of Miss Hathaway's approaching marriage to Roy Roland of Philomath. Games, songs and reading made the evening pass pleasantly and the serving of refreshments completed the enjoyable evening. Miss Hathaway was the recipient of many kitchen utensils for her new home.

Last Saturday evening about 35 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Safley met at the Safley home two miles north of Halsey and gave them a farewell surprise party, and it was a real surprise to the honor guests. Mr. and Mrs. Safley have lived in the Oak Plain district for the past ten years, and they are now moving to a farm east of Tangent. The visitors came prepared with well filled lunch baskets and after several hours spent socially, a sumptuous supper was served. At a late hour the visitors left, wishing

Mr. and Mrs. Safley happiness and prosperity in their new home.

A pretty home wedding took place Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hathaway of Lake Creek, when their daughter, Fay, became the bride of Roy Roland of Philomath. The wedding took place at three o'clock in the presence of about 25 relatives and friends and was performed by Rev. Leaning of Corvallis. The ring service was used.

The bride wore a lovely dress of white crepe de chine and carried an arm bouquet.

Following the wedding a buffet luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland will make their home on a farm near Philomath.

For the first meeting, after the summer vacation, of the Halsey Women's Study club, Mrs. B. M. Bond extended the hospitality of her home. The rooms were brightened with vases filled with gay colored autumn flowers.

Mrs. C. P. Moody, president of the club, presided during the short business session, which was followed by a social hour. During this part of the afternoon the members made hot pot holders which were later given to Mrs. Melba Rossman Muller and Mrs. Genevieve Wells Kendall, two brides of the summer and both members of the club.

Then the hostess invited her guests to the dining room where two daintily appointed luncheon tables were waiting. Each table was centered with a bank of flowers from which was extended a gayly colored streamer to each plate. When the guests were all seated they were told to pull the streamers and many were the delighted exclamations when it was found that each streamer was attached to a nosegay, while those extending to the places marked for Mrs. Kendall and Mrs. Muller were attached to bride's bouquets. The napkin holders were clever little wedding rings made from horse shoe nails. Mrs. Muller and Mrs. Kendall received many pretty and useful gifts from their fellow club members.

Sixteen members were present for this delightful afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Robins was a charming hostess to the members of the Past Noble Grand club Friday afternoon. A brief business meeting was held after which needle work and conversation were pleasing diversions. Three members of the club, Mrs. Genevieve Kendall, Mrs.

Bert Clark and Mrs. F. M. Gray, were reported ill and were remembered with flowers. The afternoon was closed by the hostess serving a delicious two course luncheon. Mrs. E. B. Penland and Mrs. Marplat were complimented guests.

Members of Vine Maple circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, are looking forward with a great deal of

FINE LEATHER COATS ADD COLOR TO THE AUTUMN PICTURE

FORTUNATE is she whose privilege it is to go a late vacationing, not only from the pleasure standpoint, but from the clothes phase as well. Choosing an autumn vacation wardrobe is quite inspirational, considering that everybody is in the zest of things new, with fall style exhibits vying with each other as to which can display the more beautiful apparel. One has the satisfaction, too, of knowing that clothes bought now will be timely even after return from the vacation jaunt.

Of course no up-to-date woman is going to be contented to start on a motoring trip without providing herself with one of the new stunning leather coats which are so enlivening to the autumn landscape. They're thrilling when it comes to "looks" and as to service, well, every one with a far-seeing eye to practicality should own a leather coat.

The imported models are very alluring. They have that indefinable something in niceties of detail and coloring which proclaim their foreign origin, and the higher-grade shops all carry them. The original of the one in the picture is a marvel of fine coloring, being of violet leather trimmed with snail-skin. It is topped with a hat of leather in the same tone.

However, blacks, browns, wine shades and greens prevail both in foreign and domestic models. These coats are in the main confined to regulation straight smart lines with patch pockets, belts and with wool linings in sports effects. Copies of imported models are very attractively priced. So much for the motor-travel coat. As to the hiker, the skater and every outdoor enthusiast who must have freedom of limbs, the short leather types are of greater appeal. Linings in these are sometimes wool and sometimes saten, according to their price. Now that the football season is nigh, leather coats are taking on an irresistible lure for college girl and debutante, and you may be sure that they will make their appearance most colorfully in great numbers.

Leather lumber jackets with knitted bands are popular with the younger set, also for juniors and children. JULIA BOTTOMLEY. (© 1927, by Western Newspaper Union.)
