and Mrs. Lake of Halsey. Miss Minerva Erades was a complimentary guest.

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Pugh of near Shedd Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when their daughter Lurline became the bride of William Dale Lamar, son of one of the Peoria merchants.

The bride and groom marched down the stairs to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Kathryn Pugh, sister of the bride, and took their places beneath a large wedding bell which was suspended from the archway and before a bank of greenery intermingled with pink asters and gladioli, the whole making a lovely picture.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hart pastor of the Methodist church of Shedd, who used the beautiful ring ceremony which was performed in the presence of about thirty-five relatives and friends. Following the congratulations and well wishes of the guests, a delicious lunch was served by a group of friends of the bride.

While a number of the men guests were busy decorating the groom's car, Mr. Lamar and his bride slipped out, took possession of Mr. Pugh's car and gave their friends the slip.

On their return from Portland and other northwest cities, where they have gone on a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar will make their home in Corvallis where Mr. Lamar is employed by an oil company.

An enjoyable time was had last evening when the members of Vine Maple Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, and a number of invited friends met at the hall for a social time. The invitations announced it as a children's party and so becoming were some of the costumes worn by the grown-ups that it was indeed difficult for the spectator to decide whether it were a grown-up or a child they were watching. Each one took part in the impromptu program with the judges awarding the prizes to Mrs. Albert Miller and Mr. E. D. Isom. The former won a prettily dressed kewpie doll while Mr. Isom drew a large stick of red and white striped candy.

Following the program "Drop the handkerchief," "farmer in the dell" and other childhood games were played and the serving of ice cream cones and all-day suckers completed the pleasant evening. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Blanche Morris, Mrs. Nellie Isom and Mrs. Clara LaFollette.

During the business session which occupied the earlier part of the evening one new member was taken in by initiation and two by transfer. A committee was also appointed to make plans for the organization of a thimble club.

One of the largest social functions to be given in Halsey recently was the afternoon tea for which Mrs. T. I. Marks and Mrs. Lyman Patton were hostesses Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Marks. The affair was planned in honor of Mrs. Franklyn Stafford, who is leaving for Eandon to make her home. The invitation list included the personnel of the Halsey Women's Study club, of which Mrs. Stafford is a member, as well as a number of other friends of the honor guest.

The rooms were lovely with vases and baskets of asters and goldenrod in the club colors.

During the early part of the afternoon Mrs. J. W. Drinkard and Mrs. Patton poured and later Mrs. Clay Moody and Mrs. Gertrude Smith took their places at the tea tables. Forty women called during the afternoon.

Six charter members of the club which was organized 18 years ago, were present. They were Mrs. Marks, who was also the first club president, Mrs. Drinkard, Mrs. D. H. Sturtevant, Mrs. Mae Miller, Mrs. C. H. Koontz all of Halsey and Mrs. Frank Porter of Eugene.
