

Don't Trust Your Butter To Luck

Market men and consumers are insisting on uniform color, now-a-days, and no real dairyman can afford to trust to luck any more. Keep your butter always that golden June shade, which brings top prices, by using Dandelion Butter color. All large creameries have used it for years. It meets all State and National Food Laws. It's harmless, tasteless and will not color Buttermilk. Large bottles cost only 35c at all drug and grocery stores.

The BABY

Why do so many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful spells and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night?

If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distasteful dose of castor oil does so much good.

Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely, at first sign of colic; or constipation; or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor, always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria.

The doctor often tells you to do just that; and always says Fletcher's. Other preparations may be just as pure, just as free from dangerous drugs, but why experiment? Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold!

Democracy Born of Old Nordic Customs?

American democracy is derived from the social and governmental institutions of the ancient Scandinavians, the original Nordics, declares Charles J. McGuirk in an article in Liberty. "American institutions are Nordic," the writer asserts. "Congress is an echo of the Scandinavian 'Thing,' an assembly of the people about the mounds of their dead at which they listened to the advice of the Old Man of the tribe. Our state legislatures follow the 'Heraldthing,' a local assembly.

"Democracy was not born in America," the writer continues. "It had its birth in Norway when Harald Fairhair destroyed the power of the 'herisirs' (kings) and placed the leadership of the people among the 'jarls,' high-born local chiefs who had won to leadership of the host and certain districts by their warlike qualities."

The Right Sound

A little boy came to the desk of the Brightwood branch library and requested that the librarian give him a book called "Silence Mournful" for his high school brother.

"Are you sure that you have the name right?" the librarian asked dubiously.

"Well, it's something like that," the boy replied. "It's by the same person who wrote 'The Mill on the Floss.'"

"Oh, you must mean Silas Marner," the librarian smiled, running to get the book.

"Well, I had the right sound, anyway, didn't I?" the boy asked defiantly as by-standers laughed.—Indianapolis News.

Made Bee-Keeping Pay

A woman is the champion "bee king" of South Dakota. She is Mrs. Charles H. Blackwell of Rapid City, who ships 50,000 pounds of honey from her bee farm annually. As a child Mrs. Blackwell was mortally afraid of bees. Seeking a business career after her mother died, however, she invested $75 in her first bees. She now has 875 colonies. Some swarms contain as many as 75,000 bees.

Modern Industry

Modern industry is a gripping game, not only because of the kick there is in it but because of the satisfaction it affords.

The warrior cannot look back on his victory without seeing the corpses of those he had done to death, but the industrialist can amass a fortune and still claim he has done more good than harm.—New York Telegram.
