

HOT FISH CHOWDER FOR COOL FALL DAYS

Ingredients for Fish Chowder.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One of the most convenient "one-piece" dinners you can serve is a fish chowder, since it contains potatoes and vegetables as well as the fish.

Recipe for Chowder.

For fish chowder the bureau of home economics gives the following ingredients: One and one-half pounds of fresh fish.

In addition to the one and one-half pounds of fish you will need four potatoes, peeled and cut in small pieces; and salt if needed. Cut the pork in small pieces and fry with the chopped onion for five minutes.

Thicken With Flour.

Chowder can be thickened with flour, but most people prefer to add crackers in imitation of the fishermen who always used pilot bread.

FRUIT CAKE FOR CHRISTMAS GIFT

Seems to Be Especially Appropriate for Holidays.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Every housekeeper likes to have on hand at least one good recipe for fruit cake. Because of its keeping qualities, fruit cake may be kept in reserve to offer the unexpected caller or to pass with punch or ginger ale in the evening.

The fruit must be prepared with great care, removing any stems or fruit not in perfect condition.

Line a well-greased tube pan with waxed paper and then grease the paper. Pour in the cake mixture until two-thirds full and cook in a slow oven (from 275 to 300 degrees Fahrenheit) for 3 or 4 hours.

The bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture has tested this recipe and found it satisfactory.

Corn Rabbit Delicious for Luncheon or Supper

An unusual and substantial lunch or supper dish is corn rabbit. A fruit salad with French dressing would answer for both salad and dessert and supply a good contrast in flavor.

Melt the butter, add the pepper cut finely and the onion. Cook slowly for three minutes, add the corn and simmer for ten minutes; remove from the fire and beat in the cheese until melted.

Filter this liquid through a piece of muslin to remove the sediment. Keep the clear liquid in tightly stoppered bottles.

JAVELLE WATER REMOVES STAINS

Useful on Uncolored Cotton or Linen Materials.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Javelle water may be used successfully in removing a number of stains, but should be applied only to uncolored cotton or linen materials, since it bleaches colors, and rots silk, wool, and some kinds of rayon.

The solution usually called javelle water (more correctly termed labarraque solution) is prepared as follows: Dissolve one-half pound of washing soda in one quart of cold water.

Apply the liquid to the stained portion over a bowl filled with water and apply the javelle water to the stain with a medicine dropper.

Applying Javelle Water.

In treating stains with javelle water, stretch the stained portion over a bowl filled with water and apply the javelle water to the stain with a medicine dropper.

If allowed to remain too long in contact with the fibers, javelle water rots even linen and cotton materials. It should therefore always be followed very promptly by a solution of thiosulphate, and the fabric rinsed thoroughly to remove all traces of the chemical.

Great Emotional Role Long Without Friends

The role that is now considered by most actresses to be the world's greatest emotional part—Camille—once went begging for some one to play it, points out a noted actress in an article in Liberty. "When it was first written the part was refused by every actress in Paris," the writer explains. "Then, after it had gone begging for months, it was picked up and played by Madame Eugenie Doche, who needed a part very badly because she had been ill and off the stage for a long time. So Madame Doche goes down in history as the first to play Camille. "Since then," the writer continues, "it is probably true that Camille has been played by more and greater actresses than any other role in the world. It was the part that won Sarah Bernhardt her first universal praise. Eleanora Duse played the part to cheers and tears, although quite differently. And there were so many others—Helena Modjeska, Clara Morris, Rejane, Fanny Davenport, Nance O'Neill, Olga Nethersole, Margaret Anglin, Ethel Barrymore. No wonder that Camille has been called the world's greatest emotional role."

"Secular" Music

The Latin word from which this term is taken simply means "age," as when we speak of something going on "from age to age." In this way it applies only to the world and to worldly things. Thus in one church a secular priest signifies one performing his functions while still living in the world, as opposed to the monastic priest, who is cut off from it. Secular music, then, is the ordinary music of the ordinary world, its opposite being sacred or church music.

Lesson for December 4 ISAIAH TEACHES RIGHT LIVING

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 5:1-23. GOLDEN TEXT—Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

1. Israel, the Favored Nation (vv. 1-7). Their unique relation to God is presented under the figure of a vineyard.

2. The obligation of the nation (v. 2). The purpose of a vineyard is to bear fruit. The object of the husbandman in planting a vineyard and nurturing it is that it might bear fruit.

3. It bore only wild grapes (v. 4). The desolation of the vineyard (vv. 5-7). Since all efforts had been wasted, the owner of the vineyard now resolves to abandon it to the wild beasts of the forest.

4. The Sins Which Brought Ruin to the Nation (vv. 8-23). The causes of this destruction are presented under six woes, each woe pronounced against a particular sin.

5. Drinking made the life business of some (v. 11). They get up early and continue until late at night, until their whole being is inflamed.

6. The effort to give their hellish business a show of refinement (v. 12). This is why pleasing music is heard pouring forth from the dens of infamy over our land.

7. Blindness to God's warnings and judgments (v. 12). Their drinking and dissipation rendered them insensible to the dealings of Providence.

8. Moral confusion (v. 20). This woe is pronounced against those who try to adjust moral conditions to suit their sensual appetites.

9. Conceit (v. 21). The fifth woe is pronounced against the sin of self-conceit. Many today have become so affected by sin that they are unable to make moral discriminations.

10. Perversion of justice (vv. 22, 23). The sixth woe is denounced against those who are in places of justice as judges. Because of their lack of moral discrimination, and because of desire for temporal gain they cause justice to miscarry.

11. Treatment of Sin Use sin as it will use you. Spare it not for it will spare you. It is your murderer, and the murderer of the world. Use it, therefore as a murderer should be used.—Richard Baxter.

12. Fear of Mistakes Some of us know what it is to be miserably afraid of making mistakes in our work. How graciously He meets this with "I will direct their work in truth."—Frances Ridley Havergal.

A Little Bit Humorous THIS IS ALWAYS GOOD

"You must find that impediment in your speech rather inconvenient at times, Mr. Biggs." "Oh, no, everybody has his peculiarity. Stammering is m-m-mine. What is yours?" "Well, really, I am not aware that I have any." "Do-do you stir your tea with your right hand?" "Why, yes, of course." "W-well, that is your p-peculiarity; most p-people use a t-teaspoon."

A Finished Fish Particular Customer—This fish, young woman— Waitress (promptly)—Was killed this morning. Particular Customer (approvingly)—You did right to kill it. Waitress (inquiringly)—Yes, sir? Particular Customer (firmly)—Because, from the time it has been ashore, it might have forgotten how to swim, and would have drowned if ever it went to sea again.

WONDERFUL VISTA He—There's a wonderful vista here. She—If you'd pay more attention to the view and less to the vistas and other dainties, you'd be better off.

Sell His Junk There never was a product made. This truth you must confess. But what some "bird" can make it worse. And sell his "junk" for "less."

No Rest A man whose whole life had been spent in active business passed to the spirit world. On arriving there he thought, "Now for some rest and perfect peace." After quite a short time a spirit tapped him on the shoulder and said, "Excuse me, sir; you are wanted on the outja board."

SHOT OFF HER FACE Bess—Oh, mother, Auntie must have killed herself last night. Mother—That can't be! What do you mean? Bess—I heard daddy say he met Aunt Bee last night and the first thing she did was to shoot off her face.

Hard to Rhyme We who would write a snappy ode A pitcher's praise to sing Find Pegasus an outrageous word To rhyme with anything.

All Broken Out Sometimes the unintentional jokes are the funniest. There was little Barbara Stern for instance, who, when the doctor said he'd cure her of measles in a week, replied: "Now, doctor, don't make me any rash promises!"

Not a Competent Judge "No man with any sense would allow you to carry on the way you do." "How do you know what a man with any sense would do?"

Unfortunate Choice of Words Edward—I complimented Phyllis on her voice once and she hasn't spoken to me since. Ernest—What did you say? "I told her I thought she was a howling success."—Stray Stories.

The Usual Course "I will run for office only if the people want me." "Exactly. And how much are you willing to spend to convince the people that they want you?"

The BABY

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was perfectly harmless, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will right a baby's stomach and end almost any little ill. Fretfulness and fever, too; it seems no time until everything is serene. That's the beauty of Castoria; its gentle influence seems just what is needed. It does all that castor oil might accomplish, without shock to the system. Without the evil taste. It's delicious! Being purely vegetable, you can give it as often as there's a sign of colic; constipation; diarrhea; or need to aid sound, natural sleep. Just one warning: It is genuine Fletcher's Castoria that physicians recommend. Other preparations may be just as free from all doubtful drugs, but no child of this writer's is going to test them! Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold.

Gift of Golden Eagle to Yellowstone Park

A large golden eagle, a bird even more fine and majestic than the bald eagle shown on the American coat-of-arms, has been presented to Yellowstone National Park by Harry E. Boughers of Fort Wayne, Ind. Mr. Boughers found the eagle with its wing injured, apparently by gunshot, and kept it several weeks until its wound was healed. Anxious that the bird should not be exposed to any more pot shots in a densely populated region, he sent it out to the park at his own expense, requesting that it be kept and fed well for a short time and then released to find its own home in the mountains. Yellowstone National Park has frequently figured as the source of donations of such animals as bison and elk, but this is one of the few cases on record where the process has been reversed. This is at least partly due to the fact that the national park service has steadily adhered to a policy of refusing to introduce animals or plants not native to the region.

Gamekeeper's Find

A gamekeeper near Aberdeen, Scotland, has had a remarkable experience among foxes. He discovered the lair of a fox among the heather, and after a good deal of hunting succeeded in trapping the old pair. A few days later he found on the ledge of a rock near the den five young fox cubs. It chanced that he had at home a cat with kittens the same age as the cubs, so he took two of them home and placed them beside the mother cat. She took kindly to her common enemy, and cared for them. The young cubs have become quite friendly with the kittens, and the cat is proving an excellent foster mother.

Plane Wedding Not New

These airplane weddings are "old stuff," according to Mrs. Mary A. Boynton, noted geologist. Fifty-six years ago Mrs. Boynton became a bride in a balloon ascension from Central park, New York city. That method was her own suggestion. Even as now the legality of a marriage in the air was questioned at the time.
