

BUTTON BUSTERS BUST BENEVOLENTLY BEAUTIFUL

The Button Busters held a very interesting meeting last Friday night and initiated a large class. This society has for its object the upbuilding of characteristics and promotion of inventive genius as well as delving into ancient mysteries and customs. The initiatory work is most impressive and inspiring and when well put on, as was the case last Friday night, leaves the candidate thoroughly up in the air as to the question of whether or not the law of gravitation is adequate on all occasions or whether life is what it seems. Later on the work of the order explains this part of the initiation to the entire dissatisfaction of the new member.

Members are obligated to "tell the truth, the whole truth" about "workin's" of this order and anyone desiring to take a course in higher Pansophy should join the button busters. The order here is healthy and every member is a devout button buster and shirt remover as well as sprinter and epicure. The destinies of this order are in the hands of competent and conscientious men who bend every effort as well as candidate to make the order one of the "strongest in the world and elsewhere. After the initiatory work the boys enjoyed a sandwich, salad, cookie, coffee lunch. Enjoyable? We'll say so!

ARROW GARAGE

Idle Island by Ethel Hueston

Copyright 1927 by The BOBBS-MERRILL CO. W.N.U. SERVICE

The author of "Prudence of the Parsonage" and a number of other stories that have set a world of readers smiling, has adopted a new locality. This tale is placed in Maine on an island in Casco Bay. With the character aspects of the natives and the gala attributes of summer visitors is combined a vivid narrative of humor, adventure, mystery and romance.
