

HALSEY GUN CLUB TO HOLD TOURNAMENT FEBRUARY 19

Oregonian Telegraphic and Four Other Classes, Make Up Schedule

The Halsey Gun Club will hold a tournament at their ground here Sunday, February 19th to which sports of the trap and blue rock are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

This tournament, so the President and Secretary informs us, will constitute more shooting and less prizes, a decision we believe, that will meet with the approval of the sportsmen attending.

The first event will be the shoot off in the Oregonian's Telegraphic event, details and regulations of which have not yet been received but it is thought it will be 25 birds with the three high scores constituting the club's score for that particular day. It is expected at least 25 clubs throughout the state will participate and the Halsey Club will compete with each club that enters. Any club member may enter by the payment of a fee.

The second event will be a 50 bird race in which it is hoped to enter at least 20 shooters. In order that all classes of shooters will have an opportunity to win some of the prizes the shooters are to be classed as A, B, C and the majority of the prizes will be distributed to the class C and D shooters. The class D will comprise beginners only.

The entrance for the fifty bird event will be $2 if there are 30 entrants. The club has booked three new members who will take part in the Oregonian Telegraphic and high hopes prevail for a chance at the trophy.

After these two are shot off the usual club practice will be featured. Hot lunch will be served.

At the Portland event last Sunday were C. P. Moody, son Cedric, Grant Brawn, and H. S. Jones. Grant Brawn was a winner in class D and Cedric Moody copped the junior prize.

The Santiam Chevrolet company held their formal opening in Albany Saturday evening. Lewis L. Simpson, president and treasurer of the new firm is recently from Eugene where he was in the automobile business for several years. Ralph Borrego, secretary of the company, was until recently head of the used car department of the Eugene Chevrolet company and is said to be one of the foremost salesmen in the northwest. The sales rooms are located at First and Baker and have just been newly painted and furnished.

Fresh smelt daily at the Halsey Meat market.

Mrs. Chancy Sickels left two eggs at the Enterprise office today, the largest of which measures 6 1/2 by 8 inches and weighs four ounces and the other weighs three ounces and measures 6 by 7 1/4 inches.

Mrs. Dey Brock who recently had her tonsils removed at an Eugene hospital, expects to return to that city in about two weeks for an operation for the removal of cataracts on her eyes.

Those who missed the show here Tuesday evening missed a treat as it was one of the best comedies shown on the screen. Next Tuesday evening another good picture will be shown and no doubt the house will be crowded as Fred Thompson and his wonderful horse, Silver King, always draw a record breaking crowd. This time it is "A Regular Scout" and to make it more thrilling a troop of real boy scouts take part. Don't miss this picture.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited By Wilma Wahl

In order that students preparing for college work at O. S. C. may become acquainted with the functioning of the most important committees, Loin Hamner has written the following article:

"The honor system of Oregon State College, in its sixth year as a constitutional measure, is increasing in popularity and establishing itself as a tradition with the students.

Students are placed on their own honor to a great extent to develop personal honor and individual responsibility for the honor of the college. Some who begin to slip in dishonesty are stopped by a verbal warning by other students thus preventing a serious violation.

If violations do occur, however, the offenders are reported to the honor council, an organization of ten upperclassmen chosen from a wide range of departments whose duty is to consider the reports of any action tending to tear down the morale of the college and to act upon the evidence. All decisions are subject to the approval of President Kerr.

The respect with which decisions of the council are held is evidenced by cases of two students who tried to leave the institution without trial.

Students coming to the college here realize more and more the necessity for making their own way in classes and for doing their part in upholding the honor code, which is the basis of Beaver spirit.
