GUN CLUB MAKES GOOD SHOWING IN FIRST EVENT

Drinkard, Norton, Hover Three High Men

The trap shoot Sunday held by the Halsey Gun Club was well attended and scores made were considered quite satisfactory.

The contenders for the Oregonian Telegraphic trophy were more or less handicapped in that they were shooting against a heavy dark gray sky making it slow for the eye to catch the bird after being projected. However the results of the day's shooting showed the local club to be in the race and not eating dirt either. The club is wide awake and is doing much toward recognition of the club by outside people. In the contest last Sunday Halsey won over both Needy and Arlington.

J. W. Drinkard, W. L. Norton and Ed Hover were high men for the Halsey club.

The following is the schedule of contests and opponents of the local team:

Sunday, February 26
1st Huntington, 2nd Siletz Bay, 3rd Monitor, vs Halsey.
Sunday, March 4
1st Salem, 2nd Heppner, 3rd Toledo, vs Halsey.
Sunday, March 11
1st Klamath, 2nd The Dalles, 3rd Lane county vs Halsey.
Sunday, March 18
1st Portland, 2nd LaGrand, 3rd Echo, vs Halsey.
Sunday, March 25
1st Astoria, 2nd Pendleton, 3rd Bend vs Halsey.
Sunday, April 1
1st Roseburg, 2nd Bandon, 3rd Yamhill county, vs Halsey.
Sunday, April 8
1st Coquille, 2nd Princeville, 3rd Union, vs Halsey.
Sunday, April 15
1st Medford, 2nd Washington county, 3rd Enterprise, vs Halsey.
The score last Sunday was Halsey 69, Arlington 65, Needy 55.

While attempting to pass a car driven by John Patapoff, near the Charles Nichols home Saturday morning, Dr. Clark of Harrisburg struck the car with such force that his car was turned over in the ditch. Both cars were damaged somewhat, but were able to proceed under their own power after the Clark car had been pulled from the ditch with the aid of the Nichols tractor.

P. A. Pehrsson was a Corvallis business visitor Monday.

E. E. Hover was an Albany caller Tuesday.

Alford Arrows

(Enterprise Correspondent)

Two burials were made here this week, Mrs. William Davidson, age 79, in the Masonic cemetery, on Sunday, and Mrs. William Thompson, 79, in the Alford cemetery on Monday afternoon. Both women were residents of Brownsville.

Mrs. L. E. Bond of Albany visited at the home of her daughters, Mrs. W. C. Sickels of Halsey and Mrs. E. D. Isom of Alford, from Friday until Tuesday. Friday evening she attended the senior class play at the Halsey city hall.

Mrs. F. M. Robinson of Santa Clara, and her daughter, Mrs. Albert Foote of Springfield, were afternoon callers at the J. H. Rickard home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bond and sons, Melvin and Lloyd of near Rowland were guests at the E. D. Isom home Sunday.

Miss Helen Patton, teacher of the Alford school, spent the week end with her friend, Miss Velma Nichols at Crescent Lake where she is teaching.

Charity Blanche Curtis and her brother Morris visited their cousins, Alice and Charles Curtis Sunday.

Mrs. W. C. Sickels and son Dale visited the former's sister, Mrs. E. D. Isom Monday, and they, with their mother, Mrs. L. E. Bond, attended the funeral of their friend

People Are Thinking

It would be interesting to consider what condition the state would now find itself in, if the bills defeated by taxpayers' organizations had not been defeated by referendums.

It will be said the showing of resentment by the taxpayers in defeating by their votes $14,250,000 of measures to be met by taxation of their homes, farms and personal property, was against appropriations demanded by the people themselves and for the service of the people. Closer examination of the facts would show that these demands originated in the legislature and in the minds of officials supposed to be the servants of the people. The determination of the taxpayers to vote "no" against all but absolute necessities, has grown so strong that it will continue for some time. The taxpayers' organizations will also continue to wield the Vote No club.

It is well known that the same instrumentalities that brought about the defeat of nearly fifteen million dollars of legislative and initiative expenditures, and the holding up of nearly another million of appropriations for new state institutions, not asked for by the people, are still active, are represented in the new finance commission and will not allow the revival of tax expansion propositions that have been knocked in the head.

Fearing that he would forget his wife's birthday, Otto Kuehne of Montreal mailed himself a letter timed to reach him on the anniversary. It was delivered four years later and reminded him of another of her birthdays.
