led with the church, Thursday evening at the Presbyterian church after the regular weekly prayer meeting. Contests and games were enjoyed after which dainty refreshments of fruit salad, cake, sandwiches and coffee and cocoa were served. The Davis orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

Mrs. J. C. Dawson and Mrs. R. G. Hamilton were the delegates to the Presbyterian which convened in the new Laurelhurst church in Portland Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Miss Adah Post who has been in Portland for several months helping care for her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Campbell during a serious illness, spent Easter at home returning to Portland Monday.

The junior choir consisting of 21 voices under the direction of J. W. Barton of the United Presbyterian church of Albany, is scheduled to sing at the Shedd church Sunday morning April 15, beginning at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. J. A. Couey was among the guests invited to attend the theatre party and the entertaining and instructive meeting of the farm, home and community rewriters sponsored by C. J. McIntosh, professor of industrial journalism at O.S.C., which was held in Albany recently.

GUN CLUB FINISHES WELL UP IN OREGONIAN TELEGRAPHIC

Percentage Remarkably Good and Members Jubilant Over Fine Showing Made

Sunday closed the Oregonian's Telegraphic Trap Shooting Event which the local gun club entered at the beginning as a new club and its members practically inexperienced in this form of sport, as well as being green in knowledge of rules and regulations governing this sport, but making up for most of this in loyalty, enthusiasm and determination to put the club on the sports map and keep it there and this they have done well.

Like all clubs of the kind it has its star performers and these were few but now the club can boast of a number of performers who can hitch up close to a straight 25 clay birds any time between meals and not strain themselves either.

At times the old reliables have had to step back and watch a new man copy the lead string which has probably helped much toward strengthening the percentage of the club.

The club boasts a large membership but there is quite a number who do not participate in its activities but are staunch supporters and their membership is worth much to the organization which is officered and controlled by real live fellows whose backing spells success to any undertaking and the new club house being planned will be the next thing to claim their attention.

The club finished the tournament in 13th place but this does not represent the ability of the membership. The average of 72 broken rocks out of 75 each event looks better and is better and that is the percentage of the 11 high men.

Out of 9 times at the rail J. W. Drinkard was high man 6 times, Tom Hoyer 5, Jess Cross 4, W. L. Norton 3, C. P. Moody 2, F. Gansle 2, Chas Morris 2, E. Hoyer 1, Martin Koontz 1, Chas. Hamer 1.

Kenneth Vannice Has Natural Athletic Ability, Says Coach

Halsey Boy Coming to Front as An All Around Athlete

Natural athletic ability, hitherto undeveloped, is rapidly bringing Kenneth Vannice, graduate of the Halsey high school, into the first line of Willamette university athletics, according to Coach Roy Keene who in one year has worked Vannice into a three sport man of the varsity squad.

First football, then basketball, and now as pitcher on the Willamette nine, is Kenneth's record. Although he will not head the list of six pitchers held in reserve, he will undoubtedly be placed in a number of the official games and after this first year of experience, will be a strong factor in Willamette's battery. O.S.C. varsity, Oregon varsity, College of Puget Sound, are some of the teams against which the Bearcats are scheduled to play in a series of 13 encounters before May 12.
